THREE INTERESTS SHARE IN DIVIDING CONTROL OF CLAIRTON STEEL COMPANY

United States Steel Corporation Obtains One Half of the Capital Stock—Final Papers Are Signed.

CRUCIBLE COMPANY STILL KEEPS FOURTH INTEREST

The Remaining Fourth Passes to the Oliver and Snyder Interests—Novel Arrangement for Disposition of Output.

The sale of the Clairton Steel Company to the United States Steel Corporation, which was supposed to have been closed last March, has at last been consummated. Negotiations which have been in progress for some time in the east ended a few days ago by the signing of the papers by all parties interested, except the Crucible Steel Company of America, Which owns all of the capital stock of the Clairton concern.

The papers were sent here from the east, and at the meeting of the board of directors of the Crucible company yesterday the plan was finally approved and the papers signed for that company closing the deal.

The sale is practically the formation of a partnership by the United States Steel Corporation, the Oliver Iron and Steel Company and W. P. Snyder. By the terms of the sale the United States Steel Corporation pays into the treasury of the Crucible Steel Company $4,000,000, and the Oliver and Snyder interests pay $2,000,000, making $6,000,000 in all. The Steel Corporation receives one-half of the shares of the capital stock of the Clairton, the Oliver and Snyder interests one-fourth and the remaining one-fourth is still held by the Crucible Steel Company.

How the Sale Was Made.

The values on which the sale was made are stated to be such that the United States Steel Corporation and the Oliver and Snyder interests go in on the ground floor, or exactly the basis of original cost and interest for all investments made by the Clairton company.

The troubles arising from questions of absolute control are avoided in an original and novel arrangement for the disposal of the output. The steel billets made in the Clairton works are to be divided in kind. One-half of the product is to go to the United States Steel Corporation, to be used by that concern in its finishing mills, the American Steel and Wire and the American Steel Hoop companies having more finishing mills than the former billet capacity of the corporation could supply. One-fourth of the Clairton output will be taken by the Crucible Steel Company for use in its works. One-eighth will be taken by the Oliver Iron and Steel Company and will all be used in that company's South Side finishing works. The remaining one-eighth will go to W. P. Snyder and Co. The prices will be uniform to all stockholders. It will thus be seen that only one-eighth of the product of the Clairton works will hereafter come on the general market.

Advantage to Steel Corporation.

To the United States Steel Corporation the great advantage of the sale is in obtaining possession at original cost of a one-half interest in the Clairton Steel Company possessing nearly 200 acres of land, a duplicate so far as location is concerned of the Homestead and Duquesne sites, and also owning about 20,000,000 tons of high-grade northwestern mining ores and 2,000 acres of Connellsville coke.

To the Crucible Steel Company, however, goes the largest advantage. That company had accumulated the raw materials and had erected a plant large enough to produce nearly four times the quantity of steel billets it could consume in its own works. This it was compelled to do in order to manufacture its billets at minimum cost. Steel billets made in a plant with a capacity so small as to meet simply the needs of the Crucible company itself would cost enormously more to manufacture than do the billets made in the Clairton plant. The Crucible company had before it the problem of taking the course decided upon or of building structural rolling mills at Clairton to consume the surplus product and to enter in this way into competition with the United States Steel Corporation, which has today ample capacity to supply all the demands for rails and structural steel.

Took in New Partners.

The plan decided upon means that the company takes in new partners with capital to purchase and capacity to consume their share of the product, thus enabling the Clairton company to operate to its maximum capacity and to give the Crucible company the billets it requires for use in its various works at as low a cost as steel billets are produced anywhere in the world.

It is understood that W. P. Snyder continues as president and that the Clairton company is to be run under its present management, working in a general way, however, in harmony with the United States Steel Corporation.

NOW LOOKS LIKE TAFT.

Senator Hanna Credited With Having Planned to Name Ohioan for Second Place.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(Special.)—Assurances are received here that the Republican candidate for the vice presidency is to come from Ohio. There are contingencies, of course, and one of them is that the Ohio Republicans shall agree with unanimity about the candidate. Just now it looks decidedly like Judge Taft. But if Myron T. Herrick should display a strong preference for the vice presidential nomination and the party should get in behind him strongly it would be Roosevelt and Herrick. However, the enthusiastic indorsement which the Ohio convention this year gave to Judge Taft is taken to indicate that he is very popular with the voters, and also to indicate, from all one has to base an opinion on now, that it will more probably be Roosevelt and Taft.

This program is credited to the authorship of Senator Hanna. Under the circumstances of bestowing the nomination upon Ohio, Mr. Hanna will have a dominant voice in picking the nominee, although other factions in Buckeyedom, according to the terms of the arrangement for "enthusiastic support," will not be ignored. If the state has the candidate for second place and Mr. Hanna manages the national campaign again, as nearly everybody has come to believe he will, Ohio will continue to be very near the center of the political map.

RED PAINT DRIVES WIFE TO SEEK A DIVORCE

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 14.—(Special.)—A coat of vivid red paint applied to the house, supplemented by bright blue trimming, was the last straw that drove Mrs. Irma Renkle to demand a decree of divorce from her husband. She alleges that she dare not go out of doors, as the sight of the house induces hysteria. She also affirms that her husband has joined 36 lodges and practices signs of distress, grips and passwords that drive her to desperation.

CASH AND HUSBAND GONE.

Son of Wealthy Sheep Owner Makes Dupe of Trusting Michigan Widow.

CHICAGO, July 14.—(Special.)—On the charge of taking $9,000 of her money and then deserting her after they had been married by an illegal ceremony, Mrs. Millie Stuart, formerly of Romeo, Mich., today swore out a warrant for the arrest of Clare S. Bingham, son of a wealthy sheep owner of Michigan. She declares that she believed the man to be single and that after she married him she found he had another wife living from whom he had secured no divorce.

Mrs. Stuart, a young widow, met Bingham a year ago. She sold her farm, took her money from the bank and gave all to her husband. They came to Chicago and, among other things, opened a matrimonial bureau, in which they numbered their dupes by the hundreds. Last week he deserted her, leaving her penniless.

COULDN'T PICK WIFE FROM AMONG THIRTEEN

RICHMOND, VA., July 14.—(Special.)—James Pitzer, a handsome bachelor, living near the Natural Bridge, saw three beautiful girls picking berries in his field. An idea struck him, and he announced to them that he would marry the first woman who came to pick berries in his field the following morning. The next morning there were 13 berry pickers in the field and each claimed to have arrived first. Pitzer, not being a Solomon, is still a bachelor.

COLLEGIANS KIDNAPED BY KANSAS FARMERS

TOPEKA, KAN., July 14.—(Special.)—Farmers stopped a train at Otis this morning and corraled a bunch of eastern collegians en route from Topeka to Van Ness county to become harvesters. Some of the college boys resisted the farmers, but were finally overpowered by numbers and hauled from the train. No one was badly hurt. The only result is that their harvesting experience began sooner than they expected.

SOLUTION FOUND TO HARD PROBLEM

Tentative Agreement Reached at Oyster Bay Concerning Kishineff Petition.

IT MAY NOT BE FAVORED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oyster Bay, L. I., July 14—Russia's vigorous action in punishing the guilty perpetrators of cruelty to the Hebrews in Kishineff has inclined the national administration to a modification of the method by which it proposes to make known to Russia the abhorrence felt in this country.

The executive committee of B'nai Brith, consisting of Leo M. Levi, Oscar Strauss and Simon Wolf of Washington, were at Sagamore Hill today and conferred with President Roosevelt upon the subject of the transmission of their petition of protest to the Russian government. They departed expressing the highest satisfaction at the course of action planned by the administration.

The result of the conference at Sagamore Hill has not been disclosed, but a strong intimation is given that the petition may not be forwarded to the Russian government. The desire of both the president and Secretary Hay is that the Kishineff incident should be closed as soon as possible, as further delay in its consideration might prove embarrassing to this government in other diplomatic negotiations with Russia.

Inasmuch as the Russian government has indicated by the adoption of severe measures a genuine disposition to punish adequately the perpetrators of the Kishineff murders, and, in addition, those who instigated them, it is a problem for the president and Secretary Hay to solve whether representations concerning the incident now are either desirable or necessary.

It is suggested that the whole matter may be resolved into a brief statement through diplomatic channels to the Russian foreign office that such a petition is in the hands of the United States, thus leaving it to Russia to say whether it would or would not receive the document if it were presented. It would close the incident without subjecting our relations with Russia to a strain, and it is regarded would be quite as effective as the actual presentation of the petition.

Members of the Jewish committee, together with Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews, and his friend from England, Maurice Sheldon Amos, were the guests of the president at luncheon.

Secretary Root left today for Washington. He said that he could not sail for England before August 23, because it was desirable that he should see the general staff in full operation before he left the country.

Barring the Police Out.

NEW YORK, July 14.—(Special.)—Heavy seven-bar steel gratings were put in place today on the front window of "The" Allen's place at No. 80 Sixth avenue, the scene of many poolroom raids. One of the employes said that similar bars were to be placed on all of the windows and that the roof is to be armored with sheet iron. When the place is next raided the police will need heavy artillery to effect an extrance.

OFFER OF $100,000 PER VOTE FOR ALUM WATER

Dr. J. R. Vincent Talks Plainly About the Mechanical Filtration Lobbying—Holds E. M. Bigelow Responsible for Delays.

"It was given to the members of the original filtration commission to understand that there was $100,000 each for enough members to make a majority in favor of mechanical filtration. I have not the least doubt that there is at least that much cash available now from the same parties, perhaps their is more."

Dr. J. R. Vincent, one of the members of the notably efficient and impartial commission which recommended sand filtration, made this statement last evening. It is important in its bearing upon the present situation in councils on filtration and gives a luminous explanation of the actions of certain members of that body against sand filtration when there is but one opinion as to the matter among those who are informed on it.

"It is a daily experience in my own practice and the practice of every other citizen in all parts of this city, to find typhoid fever cases which have their origin in the polluted water furnished by the city. Those who have delayed the matter so far are the murderers of many and the cause of still more sickness here," he said.

"There is only one side in the matter of the choice of filter plans. That subject has been carefully studied here and settled. By actual comparative tests with all the known kinds of filters side by side we found that the mechanical filters destroyed but 90 to 95 per cent of the germs where as the sand filtration process destroyed from 95 to 99 per rent.

"That excess of 5 per cent of the sand over the mechanical methods means the saving of many lives and the avoidance of many other cases of typhoid fever.

"The persistence shown in certain quarters in pushing forward the absurd claims of mechanical filtration should cause those who are familiar with the facts to entertain deep suspicions as to the motive."

Dr. Vincent credits the principal delays in the filtration to E. M. Bigelow, director of public works. He calls attention to the fact that it was only when Mr. Bigelow was out of that office that progress was made in carrying out the plans. When George W. Wilson was in charge of the department, the site was secured, and when Dr. J. Guy McCandless accepted the directorship active work was again started toward the completion of the big and important task.

"Mr. Bigelow was not in favor of the filtration from the start," says Dr. Vincent. "He wanted to spend money on parks and boulevards when people were dying from the filthy water the city was furnishing them. He seemed to feel no responsibility for the sickness and death caused by the poison sold by his department. He takes no interest in advocating the filtration now."

"Sand filtration will not only give Pittsburgh purer water than mechanical filtration, but the sand method will be more economical ultimately," said John Letzkus, a retired mechanical engineer of Allegheny last night.

While speaking to a reporter for The Gazette at his home in Arthur street, Mr. Letzkus was looking over the plans he had drawn for a sand filtration plant. These plans were drawn several years ago and during the time the filtration commission was at work were shown to Director E. M. Bigelow. The latter expressed approval of the plans, but made some objection to the fact that there was only one pumping necessary in getting the water from the river into the service pipes.

"I have been building filtration plants for almost 40 years," said Mr. Letzkus, and from the standpoint of one who has no interest in the affairs of Pittsburgh, but who has a minute knowledge of all kinds of filtration, I will say that sand

KILLED BY TIGHT LACING.

Chicago Coroner's Jury Finds That Verdict After Investigating Woman's Death.

CHICAGO, July 14.—(Special.)—Della Ackerman, the young woman whose death at the county hospital Sunday caused a police investigation, died as a result of tight lacing. A coroner's jury, after listening to the testimony of several physicians, returned a verdict to this effect today.

The physicians declared that the tight lacing had resulted in a constriction of the vital organs of the body, which had caused septic poisoning. The poison affected the blood and brought about death. The case had baffled the medical fraternity of Chicago for three weeks and only a postmortem examination revealed the cause of her death.

Ate Poisoned Mackerel.

POTTSVILLE, PA., July 14.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. John Keen and the latter's 9-year-old sister, Mamie Ryan, are believed to be dying here from poisoning, the result of eating soused mackerel. The fish was given to the family by a friend, who had partaken from the same can, but was not affected.

ELIHU ROOT TO RETIRE.

Robert Shaw Oliver Said to Have Been Selected to Be Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—It seems to be a general understanding among officials of the war department who ought to know that the name of Robert Shaw Oliver, who has just been appointed assistant secretary of war, will be favorably considered for secretary of war when Secretary Root retires from the cabinet.

It has been known for some time that on the completion of certain important matters which Secretary Root has in hand eh intends to return to New York to resume the practice of law.

ONLY BROKE HER LEG IN FALLING FIVE STORIES

NEW YORK, July 14.—(Special.)—Amelia Barason fell from the roof at 724 East One Hundredth and Twenty-seventh street to the pavement, five stories, today. She went to the roof to sleep. The clothes lines which have saved so many lives by breaking falls among the tenements did good service in this instance and the girl, after striking several of them on her way, fell on a fence. Her only injury was a fracture of the left leg.

POPE ARISES FROM HIS BED

Pontiff Discusses Business Affairs While Awaiting Death.

IS GROWING WEAKER

His Holiness Had Remarkable Rally, but Relapsed Into State of Delirium.

CASE PERPLEXES DOCTORS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rome, July 15, 6:15 A. M.—The pope has passed a comparatively tranquil night, but the depression of his forces continues.

Rome, July 15.—4:15 a. m.—The general condition of the pope is almost unchanged. Periods of restlessness succeed periods of drowsiness.

Rome, July 15, 1:20 a. m.—Another remarkable rally in Pope Leo's condition occurred yesterday afternoon after a morning in the course of which his holiness suffered spells of delirium and at times his strength sank to the lowest ebb, and early this morning he lies in no worse condition than he was on Monday evening, except for the steady diminution of his strength.

Mgr. Bisleti, master of the chamber, visited the sick room just after midnight, and on emerging stated that the pontiff's condition was unchanged. A little later the pope fell into a sleep which it has just been announced is fairly tranquil, although the patient's respiration is troublesome.

Yesterday's rally was characteristically opposed to every medical theory and consisted in getting out of the bed, on which two hours previously the pope himself had made all preparations for death. Unsatisfied with this exhibition of vitality, he transacted private business and received four cardinals, with whom he talked in an animated way. In fact, Pope Leo's record for yesterday, little of which appeared in last night's official bulletin, would be incredible if it were not confirmed by the doctors and cardinals present in the sick chamber.

Doctors Are Perplexed.

None seem more perplexed than the doctors themselves. Dr. Lapponi said frankly, "I cannot imagine how the pope manages to keep alive." According to the physicians the pontiff may die at any moment, even in the midst of one of those extraordinary intervals when his mind and body present a comparatively sound appearance.

All those around the patient have long ceased to hold definite opinions regarding the duration of the pontiff's existence. The slow but progressive diminution of the strength of the august patient foretells the approaching end of the struggle with death, but the doctors will not venture to predict how near the end is.

Constant relapses, they say, such as created alarm early yesterday are gradually wearing down the pope's constitution which seems immune from any specific disease. Most are inclined to the idea that Pope Leo may go through perhaps two or three repetitions of yesterday's ups and downs, till, as Dr. Rossoni puts it, "his pulse stops forever."

Three causes may accelerate the end, viz: Continued inability to take nourishment which was exhibited today; sudden heart failure, or the progression of pleuric disease. The latter is thought the least probable. As day succeeds day it becomes pathologically clearer that it is a case of a very old man dying because he has lived his allotted time.

Pope Ready for the End.

The pope himself yesterday afternoon ordered the four cardinals to be admitted and received them standing, he, who is supposed to be at the point of death said, "Please be seated." He recounted the impressive ceremony of the morning when he received the benediction of the Franciscan order. The cardinals informed him of the world-wide prayers for his life. Pope Leo answered that he was much gratified, but that he was ready for his final departure, concluding by saying, "God's will be done."

Even more striking was the pope's interview with his secretary, Monsignor Angeli. His holiness sent for him, saying that he wished to see certain papers which the secretary brought. Then, after a short explanation, Mgr. Angeli wished to get the pope's decision on the matter, but Pope Leo said, "Well, well, not today. We will do that some other time."

A curious controversy is proceeding between the vatican medical body, composed of 10 doctors of lesser importance than Dr. Lapponi and several foreign physicians over the embalming of Pope Leo's body. Several foreigners having offered processes of embalming, each more wonderful than the other, the papal doctors unearthed pontifical bulls giving the right to embalm the pope solely to the vatican medical body.

Bank Exhibits Pontiff's Portrait.

Much interest is being taken in a life-sized painting in oil of Pope Leo XIII., placed on exhibition yesterday afternoon in the Union Savings bank in the Frick building. The picture is said to be a remarkably fine likeness of the pontiff and was done about three years ago by M. Chartrand, the famous portrait painter. The picture belongs to a private collection and was loaned to the bank.

TO QUICKLY ELECT POPE

Cardinals Desirous That Conclave Be of Short Duration.

RESULT UNFORESEEN

Many Who Consider Their Election Probable Have No Chance.

PREPARING FOR THE MEETING

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

Rome, July 14.—All arrangements for the approaching conclave were today being rendered as complete as circumstances permit. The architect of the vatican, Mr. Schneider, has already completed plans for the room in which the conclave will be held. Two hundred mattresses have been ordered, as each cardinal will be accompanied during the period of a conclave by two members of his suite.

A certain cardinal, who wishes to remain anonymous owing to the delicacy of the subject, today said:

"The conclave will be very short, as all cardinals are greatly desirous of electing a new pope as soon as possible, but the conclave will bear witness once more to the verity of the old Roman proverb: 'One enters the conclave a pope and comes out a cardinal.' That is to say, there are many cardinals who even now consider their election as extremely probable, but who have not the slightest ground for their belief."

Cardinal Oreglia at 10:05 p. m. was expecting the death of the pope at any moment. This evening before he left the vatican he gave orders to keep carriages ready for instant use when the fatal crisis arrives, in order that they may be sent without delay for Cardinal Vannutelli. It is he who will give the pope his final blessing and assume the direction of vatican affairs.

The pope, who had lost consciousness, recovered his old lucidity for a moment early this evening and asked the date of the fete of Carmel. They answered that it fell on July 16. The pope closed his eyes with resignation and murmured: "I shall not live till then."

ESTATE OF THE POPE HAS BEEN DISTRIBUTED

Nieces and Nephews Got His Personal Property—Owns Nothing as Pontiff.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, July 14.—Although much has been said about the pope's will, nothing is yet known except that on receiving his nephews his holiness said:

"As pope, I do not possess anything, as I live by the alms of the faithful. It would be a great detriment to the church if I should destine to my family even the smallest part of which the people send me by denying themselves. As to my personal property," the pontiff concluded, "I divided that among you long ago."

The pope has taken much trouble in giving his last instructions. This morning, speaking, with evident effort to his private secretaries, Mgrs. Angeli and Marzolini, his holiness repeated the instructions previously given, that all the presents received by him on the occasion of his jubilee in 1888, which are of the greatest value, shall be the property of the holy see, and telling in which drawer would be found the one most costly, which are to be personally delivered to his successor.

With an evident feeling of sadness the pontiff spoke of all the sacred objects he had gathered. Behind a screen in the pope's library the the presents given his holiness on the occasion of this year's jubilee. These are destined for poor churches. The pontiff expressed the hope that if he were not alive on his nameday, St. Joachim's day (August 16), the usual fete would be given.

GRIEF OVER THE POPE KILLING AN ARCHBISHOP

MILWAUKEE, July 14.—(Special.)—Archbishop Frederick Katzer of the Milwaukee diocese, is believed to be dying, and his condition is partly due to worry over the illness of the pope. The archbishop has been at a sanitarium for six months. He went there to rest but he has gradually wasted away. Today there was a decided change for the worse. He asks constantly for the news from Rome.

TOWER SINGS PRAISES OF WILLIAM THE KAISER

NEW YORK, July 14.—(Special.)—Charlemagne Tower, ambassador to Germany, who returned today on the Kaiser II., enthusiastic over the reception given to the American fleet at Kiel, said:

"Should the kaiser visit this country he would carry everything before him," Mr. Tower said. "He is one of our kind—enlightened, progressive and democratic."

MILES AGAIN A PLAINSMAN

Lieutenant General Rode on Horseback from One Fort to Another.

NINETY MILES IN HOT SUN

Made Trip to Demonstrate He Is Sturdy Man Despite the Fact He Has Reached the Age of Retirement—Says He Enjoyed the Trip.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

EL RENO, OKLA., July 14.—Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles completed a horseback ride today from Fort Sill, I. T., to Fort Reno, a distance of 90 miles in 9 hours and 10 minutes. The first 35 miles was made in record time, the distance being covered in 2 hours and 25 minutes.

Upon completing the trip Gen. Miles showed no sign of fatigue and 40 minutes after his arrival at Fort Reno, reviewed the troops stationed at that post. The ride was taken, it is stated, to demonstrate that Gen. Miles, at the age of retirement, is still a sturdy man.

Gen. Miles spent Monday morning inspecting Fort Sill, resting in the afternoon preparatory to taking his long ride. There was a large crowd at the fort when he came from the commandant's house, shortly after 4 o'clock this morning, to make the start. He was booted and spurred and wore a companion military suit. As the general started off at 5:10 a. m., he was cheered lustily. He was accompanied by Captain Sayer of the Eighth cavalry.

The weather was cool at the start, but became intensely hot. Anadarko, Okla., 35 miles distant from Fort Sill, was reached in two hours and 25 minutes. The ride was made in 10 mile relays, soldiers stationed along the line furnishing fresh horses. Lunch consumed 20 minutes and it is estimated that 50 minutes were spent in changing mounts and in other small delays. This made the actual time spent in the saddle eight hours.

A salute was fired as Gen. Miles entered Fort Reno at 2:20 p. m., he showed no signs of weariness as he dismounted and said:

"I enjoyed every moment of the trip, and there was one time that I felt particularly good; that was when I came up to the men who had charge of the pack teams, just south of the Canadian river. They had lunch ready and I enjoyed it with them. It made me feel extra good."

Immediately after reviewing the troops at Fort Reno, Gen. Miles, accompanied by Col. Maus, drove to El Reno and caught the 4:10 train for Fort Riley, Kas.

filtration is far superior to mechanical. Anyone that has ever had any experience with mechanical filtration knows that the hydraulic pressure used by that method impairs water for drinking purposes. It takes the life out of it. Ask any expert chemist the cause of this and he will tell you.

"This is one reason. The expense that mechanical filtration will entail would appal one who knows nothing of it. To begin with, large settling basins must be constructed if mechanical filtration is adopted by Pittsburgh. That question is not disputed. Now, to let the water settle sufficiently will require at least five days' time. This will make the water stagnant to a certain degree and will unfit it for table use. Then, if the settling basins are tapped from the bottom, how is the water to be drawn without having the sediment and filth come through the pipes along with the water? That is a phase of the question that is being overlooked.

"In settling basins used in mechanical filtration the filth goes to the bottom. With sand filtration the scum remains on the top and can be taken away at least once every two weeks. The surface of fine sand forming the top layer of the sand and gravel composition through which the water drains can be removed easily and at a cost that will not exceed 50 cents per million gallons. Mechanical filters will entail an expense for cleansing that is incomparable with this.

"By the sand method the water can be run into reservoirs surrounding the plant and from there drained into the filter, from which it will run into the pipes to the pumping station. Mechanical filtation requires the pumping of water into the filter and later the pumping at the pumping stations into the service pipes. This additional pumping alone will cost the city at least $500,000 annually—an item that is of considerable import when considering an estimate of the cost of a plant.

"Returning to settling basins—how large would they have to be to have always a day's supply of water remaining stagnant for five days? They would cover acres of ground and would be very expensive. The sand filter will cost more at first—the construction will demand a larger outlay of money—but after the first year the sand filters would be 40 per cent cheaper than mechanical filters. And the water from sand filters will be purer and cooler, because with sand the settling for days at a time is not required. Altogether, the sand scheme is certain to be cheaper and to give the best results."

WOULD CHANGE DATE OF MEMORIAL DAY

SALEM, O., July 14.—Dr. A. C. Yengling, Grand Army department commander, and his staff of this city, have inaugurated a movement in this county to change the date of Memorial day from May 30 to a later date. Posts of this section are asked to take action along these lines. The reason for desiring a change in the date is due to the manner in which the day is desecrated, in the eyes of the old soldier, by the holding of sports and other events. Sunday is favored by the state commander.

FLOOD SUFFERERS GET ASSISTANCE

Congressman Huff Taking Active Interest in Alleviating Distress.

NEEDS ARE BEING SUPPLIED

Relief Committee Making a House-to-House Canvass to Ascertain Losses of Each Family in Jeannette, Penn and Vicinity.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

JEANNETTE, PA., July 14.—Congressman George F. Huff is taking an active interest in the flood sufferers at Penn Station and will visit the town in order to ascertain the best manner of doing the most good there. He and his friends have always acted generously in disasters of this kind, no matter what distance they may have happened from Greensburg, and they will do their best for their next door neighbors.

The difficulty has been in getting the public to realize the true condition at Penn. The flooding of the Penn Gas Coal company's mine at that place, throwing out of employment some 150 men, adds to the seriousness of the situation there. It is thought this mine may not be able to operate for two months.

County Commissioner Price, who has gone over the situation carefully, says that $75,000 would not put the flood sufferers at Penn where they were before the disaster. Eighty-six families were affected, some losing about everything they had.

The relief committee has made a house-to-house canvass and has ascertained the losses of each family, and thus is in a position to distribute the aid received in a systematic and equitable manner. Only a small amount of cash has been distributed. The committee give orders on the different merchants at Penn, Jeannette and elsewhere, for the provisions, household goods, etc., needed by the victims, and in this way the funds go a great deal further than if cash were given.

One of the most distressing features about the flood is that most of the families had pretty little gardens, just about ready for harvest and these have been devastated by the flood.

WELL-KNOWN MUSICIAN DROWNED IN THE SURF

Director Rene Street Goes Bathing at Atlantic City and Fails to Return.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ATLANTIC CITY, July 14.—Rene Street, the well-known composer and violin virtuoso, who has toured the country at the head of some of the biggest shows that have left New York, for several years was leader of Hammerstein's Victoria theater, was drowned in the surf here today.

Street had been in bad health for some time. He came to Atlantic City about a month ago for his health. He was offered and accepted a position as musical director at the Coleman house. He was in the habit of going into the surf at 11 o'clock every morning and was usually accompanied by one of his musicians because of being subject to fainting fits.

This morning he went alone and did not return to the hotel at noon. Little was thought of this until late in the afternoon when an effort was made to find him. Fearing that he had been taken ill his friends appealed to the police to find him and visited the hospital without results. At 5 o'clock as the life guards were coming off duty the proprietor of Richard's bath house reported to the police that a man had gone into the surf from his place in the morning and had not returned. His clothes were still there and the police knew from experience that the owner of the cloths had met death in the surf.

Street's friends identified them as belonging to him. It is supposed that he fainted in the surf and sank without being observed by the life guards. Street was a widower and had no relatives in this country. He leaves a daughter, who is married and lives in France.

W. C. LITTLE.

NO TROUBLE IN POTTERIES.

All Differences Are Expected to Be Adjusted and Plants Will Resume.

WHEELING, W. VA., July 14.—That there will not be trouble in pottery circles this year is a foregone conclusion. All the differences of the National Brotherhood of Operative potters and the manufacturers have been practically settled and all the men will go to work as soon as the summer is over.

The final conference of the two companies will be held tomorrow afternoon at East Liverpool and it is considered a certainty that an amicable agreement will be reached.

On Sunday last the clay workers at the Warwick and other potteries in the city, which had been shut down for a week or 10 days started mixing up the clay and this week a number of the other departments were started. It is expected that by Monday next all the departments in the different factories will be running full time.

LOUISVILLE MAN ARRESTED.

Denies Charge of Highway Robbery or Assaulting Hugh Riley.

John Maguire was last committed to jail in default of $500 bail for court bl Alderman J. R. Connor on a charge of highway robbery made by Hugh Riley.

Riley was assaulted on the night of June 18 in Decatur street and his nose broken besides losing a few dollars in change. The assault was committed by a man whom he was with during the evening.

The case was worked up by Detectives Kelly, Lally and McGoff, and the arrest of Maguire resulted. The latter is from Louisville and denies complicity in the holdup. Riley identified Maguire as the man who had robbed him.

FOUR VIOLENT DEATHS.

Victims of Various Accidents Meet Instant End at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 14.—In the space of seven hours this evening four men of this city met violent deaths, all being instantly killed.

The first victim was a Hungarian laborer, George Kanazovitz, aged 22 years, who was crushed to death by a heavily loaded truck in the Franklin car shops. Finlay McDonald, a Canadian, aged 28, a railroader, was ground under a freight car in the Conemaugh yards. Henry Bovye, aged 22, a colored night porter at the Merchants hotel, broke his neck by a fall down the elevator shaft. A man supposed to be Henry C. Rippen was struck by a passenger train at the Pennsylvania station. His body was horribly mangled and identification is uncertain.

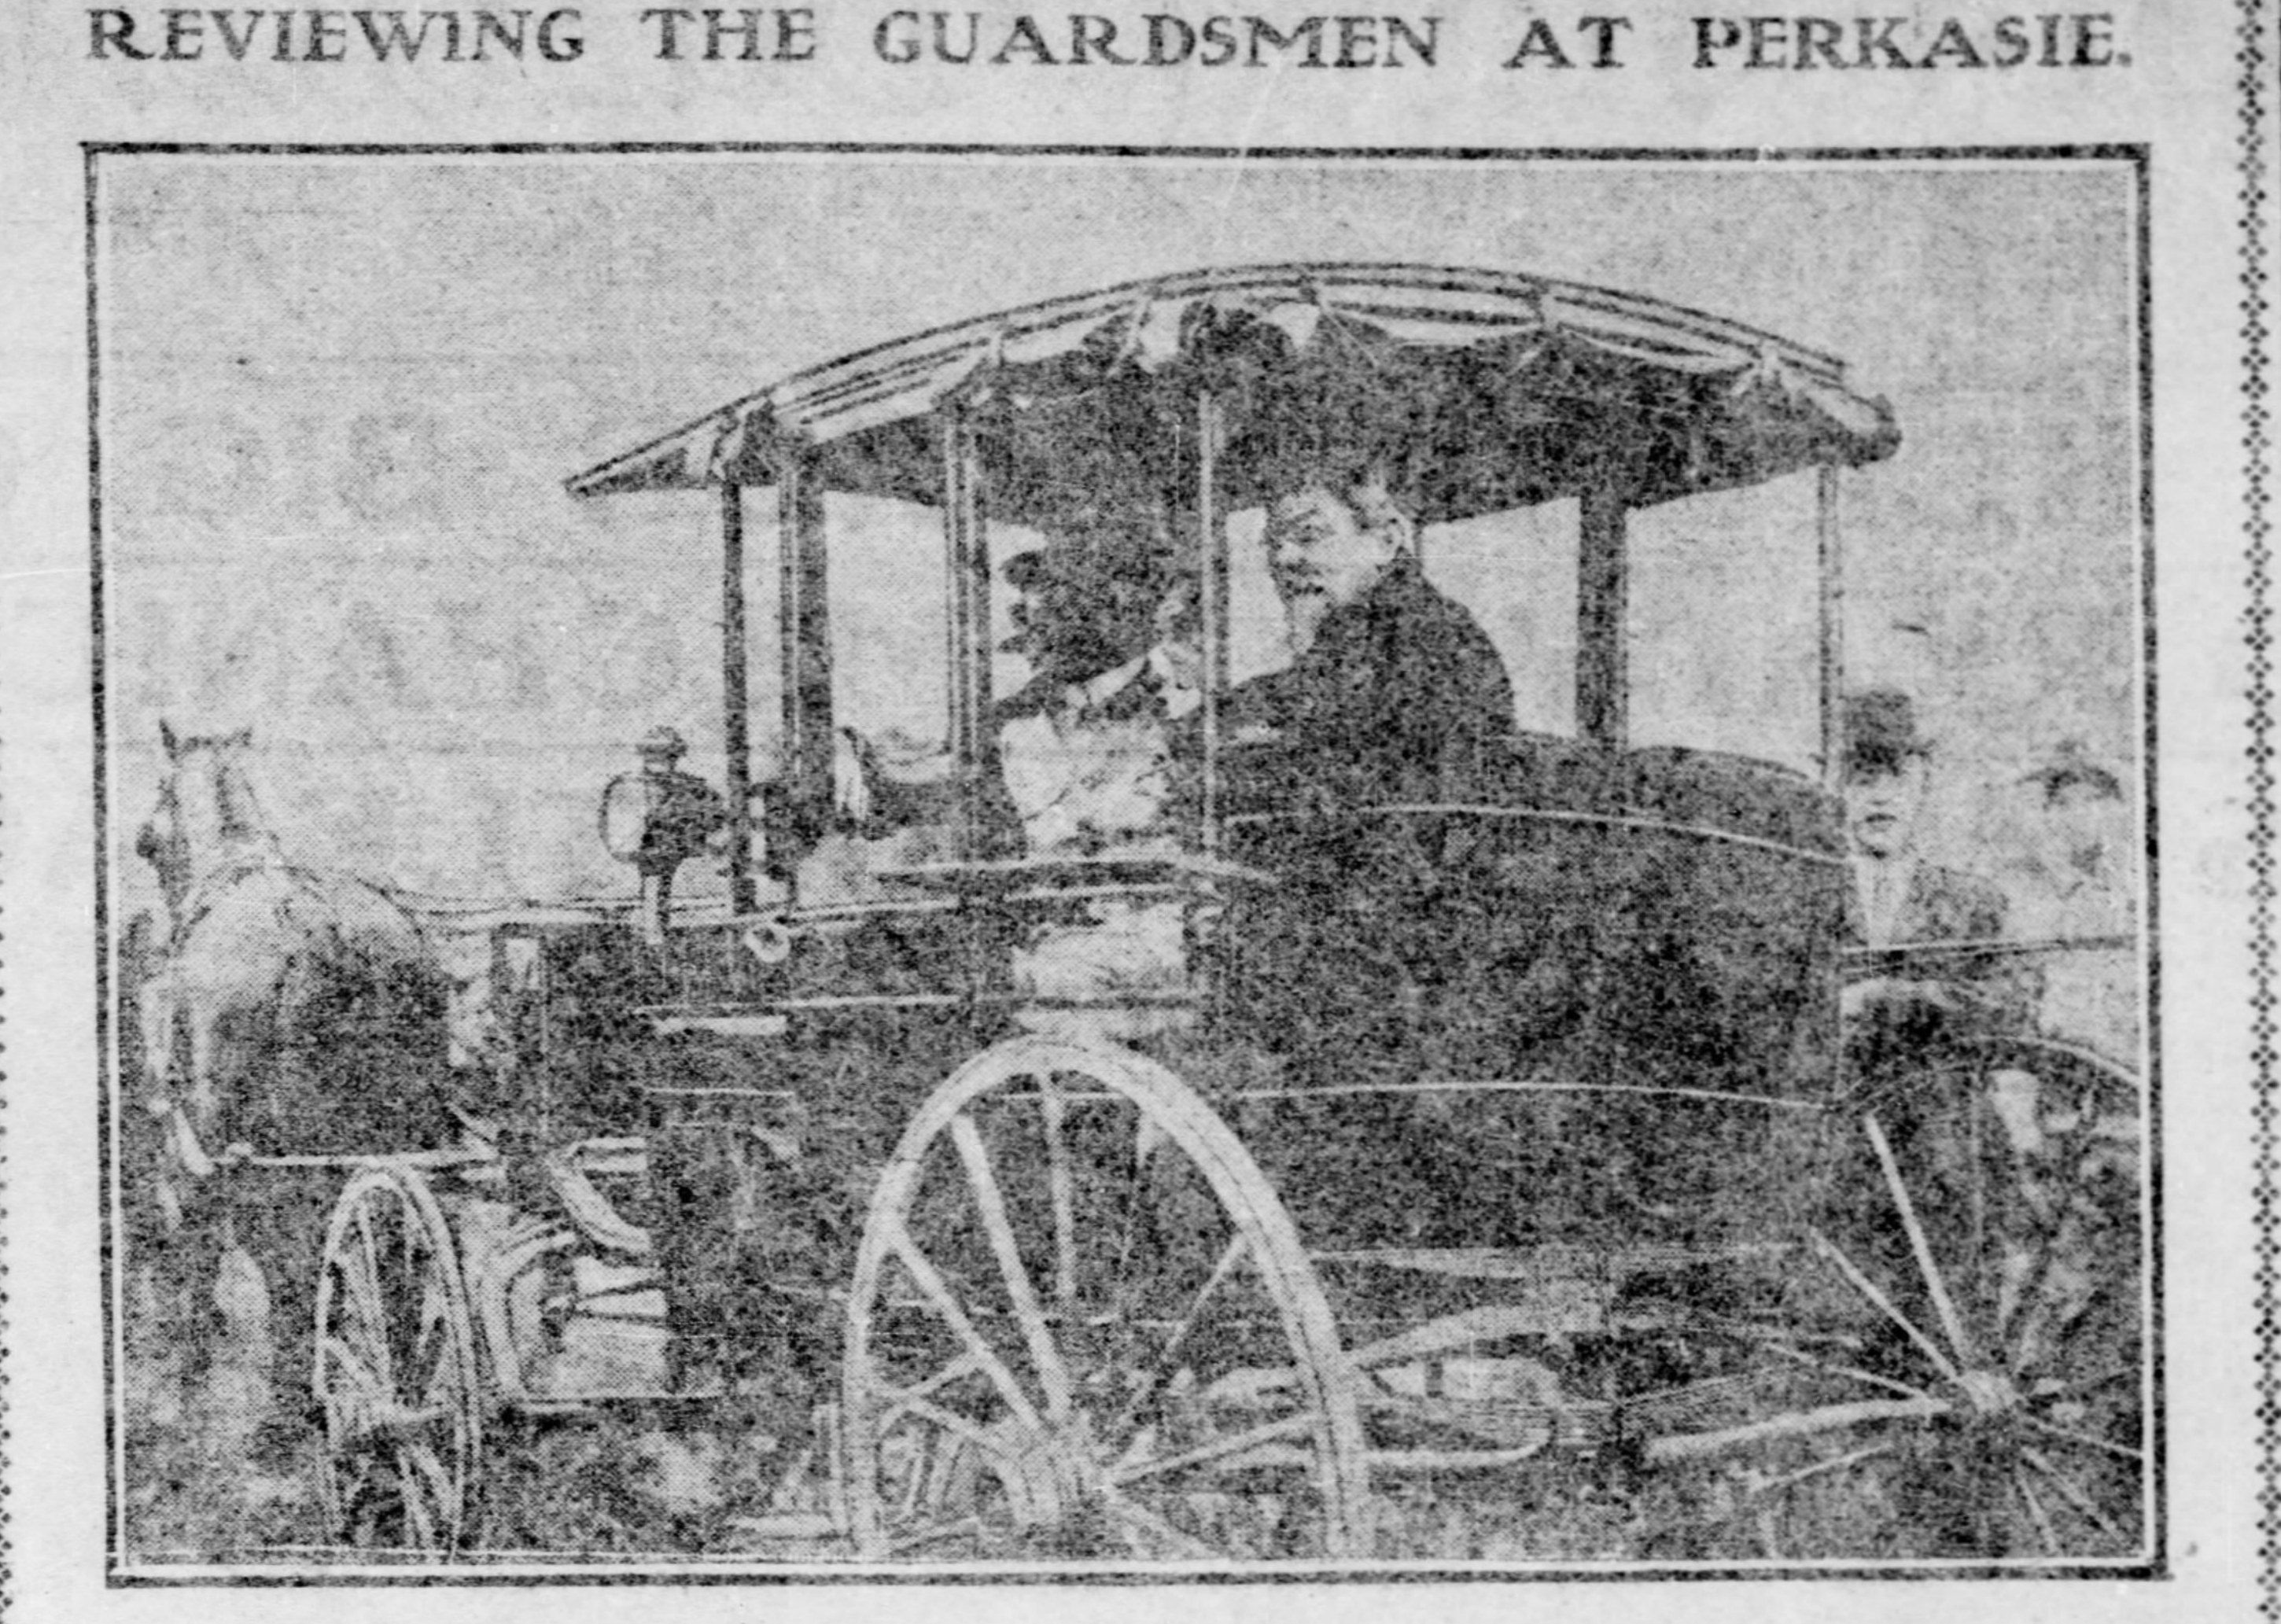
WHEELING, W. VA., July 14.—(Special.)—Three hundred stogie makers employed in the Pollock factories were today given notice of a voluntary increase in their wages of 25 cents per 1,000. The old rate was $3.75. Girls employed as packers and strippers in the Pollock factories also share in the increase.

REVIEWING THE GUARDSMEN AT PERKASIE.



Gov. Pennypacker again broke precedents in his review of the guardsmen of the First brigade at Perkasie. Instead of riding a horse he sat in a carriage with Adjt. Gen. Stewart and watched the men march by.

TERMINAL PROBLEM IS SOLVED AT CINCINNATI

Railroads Contract With Inter-Terminal Company to Handle Freight Cars.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, July 14.—The Cincinnati Interterminal Railway Company today entered into a contract with the Louisville & Nashville railroad to handle all of its freight cars within the city limits by means of elevated tracks which are to be built by the Interterminal company. The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton and the Chesapeake & Ohio are also, it is understood, bound by the agreement through arrangements with the Louisville & Nashville. All of the other roads, it is expected, will enter in the scheme finally.

The link which is to be built first by the Interterminal company will be 1,224 feet in length and will conect the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton tracks with the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad bridge.

The contract, which has been closed with President Smith of the Louisville & Nashville, provides a 4 per cent non-taxable stock, the interest being guaranteed perpetually by the Louisville & Nashville company.

OIL DEAL CLOSED.

Producing Properties in Four States to Be Taken Over by Syndicate.

LIMA, O., July 14.—W. L. Russell, promoter of the $6,000,000 oil transaction, after a meeting with the directors of the syndicate today gave assurance that the deal is practically closed and includes the best producing properties of Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, together with three refineries.

Russell says that European experts sent by the Belgian and French purchasing syndicate are on their way to this country. Options which have expired have been cared for by substituting others with equal production.

RATHER UNDERSIZED.

That Is the Western Opinion of Collegians in the Kansas Harvest Fields.

GREAT BEND, KAN., July 14.—(Special.)—A delegation of 33 volunteer harvesters arrived here this morning from New York for the purpose of taking a vacation in the harvest fields of Central Kansas. Among the number were one of the assistant professors in Columbia university and some of the athletic students of Columbia, Yale, Harvard and Lafayette, who came out with the expectation of developing enough muscle to make the teams at their respective colleges next year.

The crowd from the east are rather undersized and look as if they would last only a few days in the hay field.

WANT SHORTER HOURS.

Cleveland Waiters Will Strike Today if Demands Are Not Granted.

CLEVELAND, O., July 14.—Because their employers will not grant an increase in wages and a reduction in working time at least one-half of the members of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes' union will go on strike tomorrow.

The bartenders are also involved and will probably strike. An average increase in wages of $1 per week and a reduction of from two to ten hours per week is asked. Some of the employers have granted the advance and others will try to get non-union help.

Senator Platt is 70 Today.

NEW YORK, July 14.—(Special.)—Senator Platt will celebrate his 70th birthday at the Oriental hotel at Manhattan Beach tomorrow. "I shall remain at the hotel all day," he said tonight, "and enjoy myself by taking a holiday. It is rather hard to find new ways of celebrating a birthday when you have had 70 of them."

Charge d'Affaires Resigns.

MONTEVIDEO, URUGUAY, July 14.—(Special.)—Dr. Luis Alberto de Herves, charge d'affaires and secretary of the legation in Washington, has resigned to give the president a chance to appoint a secretary for Dr. Diaz, the newly appointed minister to the United States.

ONE CITY OFFICIAL WILL RETURN TODAY

Superintendent of Police McTighe comes back to Pittsburgh this morning. This should cause joy to the city employes as well as to those who have the city's interests at heart. It began to look dubious for this municipality when Mayor Hays took his trip to North Carolina. Things became worse when McTighe disappeared suddenly on Sunday. The climax was reached yesterday afternoon when it was noised about that Director Bigelow was about to sail for Europe. Excitement knew no bounds when, last night, it became known that the director had actually left the city. The city had been left without any of its important heads save Director Harry Moore and things looked for a time decidedly bad. But it is assured that McTighe gets back from Atlantic City this morning.

TORNADO DEVASTATED WIDE STRIP OF LAND

One Man Is Killed, Three People Hurt and Many Houses Destroyed.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

COZAD, NEB., July 14.—A tornado passed eight miles north of here this afternoon, killing Samuel Henry and seriously injuring two children of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith and Miss Anderson, a nurse. The dead and injured were in the Griffith residence, which was destroyed.

The storm devastated a strip of country three miles wide, destroying crops and almost every house and barn in its course. The property loss is estimated at $100,000. Reports from last night's storm in central Nebraska show it to have been one of the worst of the summer, the damage to growing crops and farm outbuildings being very heavy.

Frontier and Red Willow counties were visited by a genuine tornado. The territory covered by the wind is from four to seven miles wide, and so far as learned, 27 windmills were destroped, as well as one or two dwelling houses and several frame barns. The damage to crops it very heavy. At Arapahoe hail, wind and rain destroyed thousands of dollars' worth of property.

BIG CONSOLIDATION OF CINCINNATI INTERESTS

Banking, Traction and Lighting Companies Combine With Enormous Capital.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—The United Gas Improvement Company is about to take over a controlling interest in the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Company. This deal involves $29,000,000, and is the preliminary step to the consolidation of all the quasi-public concerns in and around Cincinnati.

The deal will be followed by the transfer of the Cincinnati Traction Company, the Citizens National Bank, and a newly organized trust company to the same interest, if not directly to the United Gas Improvement Company. Briggs S. Cunningham, president of the Citizens National bank, will be president of the reorganized Citizens National bank and a vice president of the new trust company.

The banking end of the deal includes B. S. Cunningham, William T. Irwin, a director in the Cincinnati Traction Company, and United States Senator J. B. Foraker, all of whom participated in a recent conference held in this city. The present capital of the Citizens National bank is $1,200,000. The new trust company will begin business with $5,000,000 capital.

SURVEY IS FINISHED.

Work on Philadelphia Subway to Be Commenced Immediately.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—(Special.)—The Pennsylvania Rapid Transit Company has received from the bureau of surveys the final grades and levels for the subway in Market street east of the Schuylkill river. The contractors have put a large force of men to work sinking the main sewer 15 feet below the level of Market street, and the excavation for the subway will follow within two weeks.

George D. Widener, vice president of the company, who visits the scene of operations several times a week, was out today looking over the work, and said the contractors will push the subway work rapidly.

FLED FROM NEGROES.

John McCaffrey Insisted They Were Trying to Cut Off His Legs.

John McCaffery, who claims Philadelphia as his home, rushed wildly into the house of Mrs. Caroline Elk at 142 Blackadore avenue, Brushton, yesterday afternoon, and tried to climb under a bed. "Seven niggers are trying to cut my legs off with razors. They have chased me all the way from Philadelphia," yelled McCaffery, as he vainly endeavored to work his way further under the bed.

Mrs. Elk called in Policeman John Corbett, who, after considerable trouble, got McCaffery from under the bed and quieted him sufficiently to send him to the East End police station. McCaffery is supposed to be suffering from delerium tremens.

GIRL RECOVERS VOICE THROUGH ANGER ON A CAR

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 14.—(Special.)—Miss Cecele Brunswick, the telephone operator, who lost her voice last week, regained it today when on a trolley car going to see a voice specialist. She became so angry at the conductor for refusing to let her off at the right street that she found she could speak. Then she thanked the conductor for carrying her past her destination, for now she does not want to see the specialist.

Both Sides Counsel Firmness.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—Both manufacturers and employes today emphasized their determination not to give way in the textile strike. Over 50 mill owners in the ingrain carpet grade voted not to grant concessions, while the executive committee of the Central Textile Workers' union adopted resolutions aimed against employes who have given up the fight for 55 hours and returned to work, and also voted to continue the strike all summer if necessary.

MOTHER JONES' ARMY IS NEARING NEW YORK

No Foe More Dangerous Than Mosquitoes Encountered on Their Weary Way.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 14.—Mother Jones and her army broke camp today at Rock Spring Grove and left for Metuchen, five miles away. The army refused to sleep out of doors last night because of the mosquitoes and a hall was secured. There have been more desertions from the army, which now numbers hardly two score. A number of them returned home to Philadelphia today.

Mother Jones praised Jacob Weldy, the proprietor of the City hotel, where the women stopped. She resented the criticism of her stopping at a hotel and not with the army and said it was nobody's business, as she settled for it. She said that Weldy permitted her to give the boys in camp a wash in his bath tubs, which was more than clergymen in the town had offered. She said that she approached a clergyman to aid children who are working in factories, and he referred her to the politicians.

"God help the children," she said, "when the church turns them over to politicians." While here the past two days the Federation of Labor became interested and assisted the army financially. The army will camp at Metuchen tonight and at Elizabeth tomorrow night, and will reach New York on Saturday.

MR. GOULD PLEASED.

Railroad Magnates Satisfied With Wabash Line in West Virginia.

CUMBERLAND, MD., July 14.—(Special.)—George J. Gould, President Joseph Ramsey and party arrived here this morning over the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh railway from Thomas, W. Va., where they stopped last night. While at Thomas Mr. Gould and party went down into the coal mines and also visited the coke ovens. Upon the arrival of their train the party walked from the West Virginia Central station to the Baltimore & Ohio railroad depot.

Mr. Gould, when asked how he liked the new portion of the Wabash system over which he had just traveled for the first time, said: "I am delighted with it. The road is in fine physical condition, and everything along the line is in good shape."

Mr. Ramsey said: "We have been inspecting the entire road. Yesterday we went through the shops at Elkins and last night we went down into the mines at Thomas."

Mr? Ramsey was questioned concerning the building of the Cherry Run-Cumberland connection, and he stated that the bids are all in, and the contract will likely be awarded in a few days. He said the grade would be an easy one, at no place averaging more than 16 feet to the mile. In regard to a question concerning the running of trains through Cumberland, Mr. Ramsey said that it was too far ahead to make any announcements.

The party left here shortly after 11 this morning, going over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to Cherry run, where the train was transferred to the Western Maryland railroad and taken on through to Baltimore.

PREACHER KELLER'S ASSAILANT PAROLED

NEW YORK, July 14.—(Special.)—Thomas G. Parker, paroled after serving two of the five years of imprisonment to which he was sentenced for attempting to take the life of the Rev. John Keller, returned today to the wife whose story caused him to commit the deed which sent him behind prison bars. Three hours after he left state prison at Trenton he was standing on the porch of his old home in Arlington, N. J., where Mrs. Barker clasped him about the neck and old friends bade him welcome.

EIGHT HORSES BURNED IN STALLS AT SHARON

SHARON, July 14.—(Special.)—A fire that threatened a business section of Sharon occured this morning and caused a property loss of about $10,000. The fire started in the large livery stable of W. L. Roberts & Son. Eight horses were burned in their stalls. The origin is not known. The barn was owned by George Burnett and will cost $4,000 to rebuild. Roberts' loss on the stock is $2,500; Sharon Supply Company, $1,000; other losses, $500.

Two Trainmen Killed.

ELYRIA, O., July 14.—In a head-on collision tonight between two heavy freight trains on the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railway at Sheffield, two men were killed outright and several badly injured. Impaired Digestion

May not be all that is meant by dyspepsia now, but it will be if neglected.

The uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, sourness of the stomach, and disagreeable belching may not be very bad now, but they will be if the stomach is suffered to grow weaker.

Dyspepsia is such a miserable disease that the tendency to it should be given early attention. This is completely overcome by

APPEAL TAKEN FROM THE AWARD

Daughters of the American Revolution Think That $1,000 Is Ridiculous.

MAKE DEMAND FOR $50,000

Closing of Fort Street and Point Alley Damages Property at Least Half, Says Miss McKnight—Director Bigelow's Promise.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, through their attorney, Samuel A. Ammon, yesterday took an appeal from the decision of the board of viewers, who awarded them $1,000 for the closing of Fort street and Point alley. The members of the organization regard the award as ridiculous and declare they will contest the finding of the board. They ask for $50,000.

This is probably the first case on record in this country of the closing of streets on which property of historic interest and value fronts. The block house, owned by the Daughters of the American Revolution, is maintained for educational and park purposes. It fronts 100 feet on Fort street and the same length on Point alley.

With these two frontages closed as proposed the block house has no entrance to it save a small footpath. The members of the organization desire that they have a substantial frontage, so that persons passing along the street to and from the exposition or other places may be able to see the historic building.

O'Hara avenue, to the rear of the block house and running parallel with Fort street, was at one time on the city plan, but was never opened. This was to be opened to alleviate the damage to the block house by the closing of the other thoroughfares. This was promised the Daughters by Director E. M. Bigelow, according to Miss Kate C. McKnight, a prominent member of the organization.

Yet O'Hara avenue, along with Fort street and Point alley, is to be wiped from the city plan, thus enclosing this spot of historic interest. The Daughters of the American Revolution are naturally much incensed that their property should be thus enclosed and shut off from public view.

The Daughters were not awarded anything by reason of the vacation of Point alley, and for this thoroughfare $10,000 was claimed. They secured the award of $1,000 for Fort street, when $40,000 was asked. Miss McKnight stated last night that this award is ridiculous. Miss McKnight said:

"The award given us by the board of viewers is merely a joke; it is so ridiculous. Our property is valued at $120,000, and if it should be shut off from view entirely we would be damaged to the extent of half our property at least.

"We are taking the appeal from the board of viewers' decision because it is unjust to us. Director Bigelow promised the Daughters that O'Hara avenue would be opened. The opening of this thoroughfare would be just as valuable to us as if Fort street were left unchanged. If O'Hara avenue were opened the organization's demand would be but the original $10,000 for Point alley."

MAY NOT REOPEN CASE.

Clarion Normal School Committee Opposes Revival of Bribery Charges.

CLARION, PA., July 14.—(Special.)—The revival here of the Normal school alleged bribery case has caused considerable comment. The finance committee of the school has not yet taken action on the letter of J. M. Shannon, treasurer of the school, but members of the committee have expressed themselves as opposed to having the case reopened.

It is claimed that Treasurer Shannon desires to reopen the case because the board refused to reinstate his nephew, who had been suspended from the school.

Tomorrow Greater Pittsburg's

GREAT REMNANT DAY

Store Open Quarter to Eight.

The gist of the news for tomorrow's sale of Remnants and Odds and Ends is given publication in "The Gazette" a day in advance so that residents of suburban towns can participate in the day of great bargains. And, indeed, they are great bargains in the very best sense, in the honest sense that those two words can be used. Heretofore the news has been given so that only city people had early notice of the day. It was hardly fair to our very large clientele in a radius of 50 miles of the city. We make amends. It can truthfully be said that the expenses of the entire trip to the city, even the distance of 100 miles, can be saved several times over by taking a train and spending the entire day with us. Throughout this page are splendid hints for the shopping memorandum.

Mill Ends Hosiery for Women.

Sold for Much Less Than Regular Prices.

Let us explain the meaning of mill ends—it is probably not what you imagine. A maker gets an order to make so many dozen of certain grades of stockings—at the end of the run he finds himself with several dozen over. In the many grades woven in the course of a short time there is necessarily quite an accumulation of these mill ends. The buyer who happens first along gets the plum—as the manufacturer is willing to sell for a great concession.

Our buyer, just back from Germany, found in Chemitz a manufacturer who had quite a lot of these mill ends, and the stockings in the collection are certainly commendable in every way. Here are the prices on a Remnant Day basis.

Lot No. 1—25c a pair, worth 50c, 65c and 75c—is composed of women's cotton and lisle thread Stockings. Possibly there are 100 qualities, gauges and weights. So you see what great choice there is for 25c. Black, black and white feet, black with split feet.

Lot No. 2—35c a pair, three pairs for $1—worth 75c, 85c, $1, $1.25 and $1.50—is composed of stockings of finest grade of cotton and lisle thread—such effects as open work, all-over lace, lace ankles, ribbed and plain. Both black and fancy colors.

There will also be on sale other lots of stockings for women, as well as stockings for children, for prices like these:

11c a pair instead of 20c and 25c—women's fast black and fancy colored Stockings, summer weights, double heels and toes.

25c a pair instead of 50c, 60c and 75c—odds and ends in children's fine French cotton Stockings, ribbed and plain, fancy and black.

Controller Larkin in one of his early talks bout the development of municipal revenues ointed to the offices of police magistrates s a revenue source not fully utilized. Now t is charged that remission of fines withut retrial is common. Recent raids suposed to have netted the city about $3,000 re now said to aggregate not more than alf that much. We believe this matter hould be investigated and we believe there hould be a fixed system and procedure in uch matters. If a fine once imposed is ound to be excessive, after mature deliberaion, it should be remitted in open court in he same manner as it was imposed and the easons fully stated. If a just fine is imosed it ought to stand, no matter who may ring pressure to have it remitted or reuced.

The coalition between the United States teel Corporation and the Crucible Steel ompany of America, which is involved in he purchase by the Steel Corporation of onealf of the capital of the Clairton Steel Comany, marks another and a very long step y the great corporation in its march toward bsolute supremacy in the manufacture of aw iron and steel. The Crucible company ad in it all the possibilities of a strong ompetitor. By this treaty it is turned for ll time into a powerful ally. Whatever may e the course of the securities of the teel Corporation in Wall street, this deal urnishes the strongest evidence that the en high in its management are neglecting o opportunity of strengthening its position n the industrial world.

Formal invitation has been extended by he government at Washington to the czar f Russia to appoint the arbitrators who are o decide the matter of preferential treatent for the allied powers in the collection f claims against Venezuela. The suggesion that the arbitrators should be appointed y Nicholas II. originated with United States inister Herbert W. Bowen, who acted as pecial representative of Venezuela in the ettlement. Despite the recent straining of elations between this country and Russia may be expected the czar will deem it an onor to name the arbitrators and that he ill show no more favor to Great Britain nd Germany than to Venezuela or the nited States. The Hague tribunal is the esult of the czar's suggestion and this is he first great case to be submitted to it.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's proposal o put a tariff upon cotton has aroused the ndignation of C. W. Macare, president of the ederation of Master Cotton Spinners. Mr. acare points to the depressed condition of e cotton industry and declares that any easure devised to increase the cost of raw aterial or production, even in the smallest egree, would injure England's export trade cotton stuffs. He says he has no statistics f the domestic consumption of cotton manuactures, but assumes that Great Britain exorts vastly more than it sells at home. He elieves new machinery and new sources of aw cotton supply will enable British manuacturers to maintain this export trade, but tariff would destroy it. Very good. That s a prime free trade view and American anufacturers who hope to break into the nglish market will be the last to suggest at a tariff on finished products with free aw material might help the British manuacturers.

If it be true the emperor of Germany has nspired Admiral von Koester's protest gainst the reduction of the sentence of Engn Huessener by the court of appeals, it is reatly to the emperor's credit. The crime f Ensign Huessener was the brutal murder f a former schoolmate because the latter id not give the salute due a superior offier when the two met in the street, both beng off duty for Easter furlough. The senence of the court-martial was four years' mprisonment. The court of appeals has reuced this to two years and seven months. anging would be none too severe a punishent, and the action of the court of appeals amazing. Punishments are provided in he army codes for failure to salute superiors n duty. If an American officer should take he matter of punishment in his own hands nd kill a subordinate for that trivial offense e would be tried for murder and would be ucky if he escaped the death penalty. A sentence of two years and seven months is an outrage against decent public sentiment.

Quarantine to be of any value must be impartial and it must be rigorously enforced. The charge of favoritism in the case of the family of a prominent official is met by the declaration that precisely the same measures were taken there that have been taken in other apartment houses, namely, the quarantine and disinfection of the floor on which the disease was found. On this statement it may be doubted whether the system is effective. The patient was removed from the top floor of the building. The tenants use a common hallway and staircases. The patient and his family, living on the top floor, would pass and repass through every part of the hallway and up and down all of the staircases. If they are likely to spread contagion it is just as probable they have already spread it among persons who use that hallway, and if the occupants of one floor are quarantined it seems the tenants of other floors ought also to be restrained of their liberty. Of course, not all persons who are exposed to contagion contract disease, but quarantine is based upon the assumption that any person exposed to contagion may disseminate it, whether or not he himself becomes infected by it. It ought, therefore, to include all inmates of a building where contagion is found.

The killing of a number of young men in the wreck of a freight train on the Pennsylvania road yesterday and one on a Missouri road calls attention to the extent of the trespass nuisance on railroads. Almost any train upon a main line of railroad will be found upon investigation to have a tramp or two aboard. The rules of the companies forbid and the roads employ officers to prevent this use of freight trains by the tramping fraternity, yet the nuisance is not abated. The punishment is insufficient when the tramps are arrested. The state should look to making the law more stringent and to having it better enforced. Nothing but evil comes from the habit of riding freight trains, and it serves as a cover for the peregrinations of desperate criminals. Burglars, highwaymen, murderers, all use the freight trains to get them away from the scenes of their crimes before they are discovered. Because so many merely idle fellows use the same means of transportation it is almost impossible to trace the culprits. They are lost in the crowd of tramps. Incidentally, the tramp degenerates by association with worse people and the casual train-jumper deteriorates by association with tramps. Reform should begin at the source of the stream and train jumping should be punished severely. When "bumming on the freights" is stopped crime will diminish.

The Trouble With Filtration.

The Leader says that "the plans of the Pittsburgh plant were drawn so as to entail an expenditure of $5,000,000 and probably more." Not at all. The plans were based upon an estimate of $500,000 for the site, $1,700,000 for sand filtration plant and $600,000 for the meter system. The filtration commission recommended a bond issue of $3,000,000 as being ample for all contingencies. So it would have been had the work been taken in hand promptly as it should have been. But the city raised only $2,500,000 by bond issue and the work was held up and a constant effort has been made to magnify the cost of sand filtration so as to make out that it is too dear for Pittsburgh and that the people ought to be satisfied with alum water. An item of $800,000 has been put on the estimates for filter covers, although the commission reported that they were unnecessary and ought not to be adopted.

We agree with the Leader that exact estimates as to the cost of completing the work according to the plans ought to be had, and Director Bigelow says he will furnish them if asked, but councils won't ask him, but keeps the business in the hands of a committee which makes all sorts of imaginary estimates as to the expense, and suggests the adoption of the alum process. As regards the cost of sand filtration it should be remembered that the city is making a profit on the water supply sufficient to meet the interest charge on a loan of $5,000,000 if that should be really necessary, but it is all a mere pretense and part of the hold-up game.

So far as opportunities of jobbery are concerned there is the least possible chance in sand filtration. Any contractor who can make an excavation or build an embankment can bid on it. Mechanical filtration means the purchase of a factory plant which only the New York Filter Company can supply, and the operation of the plant will require the purchase of over 100 tons of alum a month, which only two companies can supply, and they will probably find it more profitable to share the business than to fight over it. There are no companies engaged in installing sand filtration plants. Their construction is ordinary contract work, calling for no patented apparatus nor special supplies of any kind, and that is the trouble with sand filtration. It provides the best and purest water supply; it is permanent and improves with age, but there is no commercial interest behind it to push it along and recommend it to councilmen.

Source of Russian Strength.

While Russia is busy with plans for the advancement of her frontiers and the consolidation of her power in Asia, past and present developments lead to the conclusion that it is the ability and willingness of France to finance the operation that makes it possible. The czar's government, when it reaches the limit of its resources, turns naturally to its ally for aid and has never turned in vain. The French alliance has in this way been made profitable to both France and Russia.

The attention of the ordinary reader would be hardly held long by the brief sentence in the New York stock exchange report in yesterday morning's papers stating that "Paris was reported an urgent bidder for gold in London, in preparation for a Russian loan." Yet brief as is the sentence it is illuminating in no small degree. The gold movement from New York is, of course, explainable in several ways, and one explanation is found in the circumstance that the United States is just now importing more than it exports and must pay the difference. But if there was not some special demand abroad the actual gold might not be taken away, but left here and our indebtedness discharged later when the export movement becomes heavier. But that there is this special demand appears in the statement that France is again financing Russian government operations. England also has needs in connection with the payment of an installment of the Transvaal loan, but doubtless this would have cut no great figure, except for Russian requirements. It would therefore appear that it is Russia's necessities which have been attracting gold from this country. The sum withdrawn is yet comparatively unimportant, and as the director of the United States mint pointed out the other day, we can easily spare it, for the United States is a gold producing country, and it is only natural that it should ship gold to countries which are not.

The real distribution of the gold shipped abroad for European account is often obscured by the circumstance that London is used as an international clearing house and shipments are primarily to that point for distribution. The present significance of the gold shipments is not so much that gold is being shipped as the purpose of the withdrawals, which again calls attention to the relation of banker, which France sustains toward Russia as a consequence of the alliance between the two nations. The "traditional friendship" of Russia for the United States has often been pointed to of late by Russian officials as a reason why the United States should refrain from any blockade of Russian plans for advancement and consolidation in Asia. Doubtless Russia would like to realize on these claims for the furtherance of her exclusive designs, just as she is making hay in the sunshine of her claims upon French gratitude for past favors. When the triple alliance was arranged by Bismarck the threat contained therein was taken so much to heart by France that the republic has never ceased to feel grateful for the shelter afforded by the Russian alliance, and Russia, unable to borrow freely elsewhere, has never ceased to make France pay for it, even if the French have received interest on their payments. On the whole the alliance has been a good investment for Russia, supplying the empire with credit at the bankers, which it needed badly and did not possess, and it appears to be working it to the limit. It would seem from the developments that Russian friendship requires for its continuance frequent advances of cash, or some other valuable consideration, and in the case of France the tribute exacted for friendship is freely rendered. In view of this it is clear that while it is Russia that figures as the active aggressor in the farther orient, it is France, the silent partner of the alliance in that region, which is the actual backbone of the operations. While Russia menaces China and intimidates Japan and threatens to nail up various open doors against the other powers of Europe, it is French money that enables her to do so.

Russian friendship for the United States has not closed American eyes to the situation, and the United States, while welcoming Russian enterprise financed by France, has carefully held aloof from the promotion of or silent acquiescence in Russian political designs, similarly financed, to which appeals to gratitude for Russia's traditional friendship have invited our government. Nevertheless, it is a curious fact that the ability of France to draw gold from this country via London, and to draw also on the English store of gold, hostile as England is to Russian designs, is the real power of Russia in its campaign in Manchuria.

Beclouding the Issue.

Many devices have been invented by the opponents of the Duquesne way franchise to bolster their losing cause. All along they have made the misrepresentation that no compensation is offered for this franchise, choosing deliberately to shut their eyes to the value of an unencumbered Liberty avenue to the city, or pretending that regulation of the running of trains on that thoroughfare might render the presence of the tracks innocuous. From that false attitude they shifted to an equally untenable pretense that the elevated road in Duquesne way is designed to obstruct access to the Allegheny river wharf, and to injure the river interests. Finally there is a hysterical outcry that the surface tracks are to be taken off Liberty avenue and supplanted by an elevated passenger road, leading to Grant boulevard and affording excuse for occupying that driveway with a double track trolley road.

Fortunately, the public and a majority of members of common council have not been misled by all this hubbub. The compensation offered in the form of the surrender of the Liberty avenue franchise is generally accepted as of immense value to the city. No one has been really apprehensive that the public use of the wharf will be interfered with, though one property owner in that section who was unable to unload on the railroad at a fancy valuation has a genuine grievance. The cry about shutting out competing railroads has never had any credence given it. And finally no person unblinded by prejudice believes the removal of railroad tracks will make it any easier to invade Liberty avenue with an elevated railway. An elevated structure bestriding the surface tracks would add little to the present injury, but an elevated system to occupy the street after the surface tracks are removed will naturally be expected to pay for the privilege at a prohibitive rate.

It is not necessary, however, to further discuss these side issues in this connection. They have been trumped up by the opposition to confuse the real question which is whether it is best for the city to retain the Pennsylvania railroad tracks on Liberty avenue as at present, or to have them removed to Duquesne way. We are sure the majority of common council has decided right in the matter, and we cannot see how the chamber of commerce is to avoid taking the same ground. If any citizen has a sincere doubt in his mind he may resolve it by a walk down Liberty avenue from Eleventh street to the Point and up Duquesne way from the Point to Eleventh street, any day. He is a dull observer who, on such a walk, cannot see that both Liberty avenue and Duquesne way will be vastly improved by the change.

As for the legality of the transactions of council on Monday evening we believe the courts, if called upon, will sustain the action of the majority. It is the ordinary custom at City Hall to have meetings convened an hour or more after the time for which they have been called, so the action of President Pro Tem. Sahner is quite as irregular as the election of a temporary chairman without the formality of ascertaining whether there was a quorum present at the time. But while we believe this we see no reason why the filibusters, whose whole game is delay by fair means or foul, should not be met on their own ground next Monday evening, and forced to swallow their medicine with the squirming and grimaces becoming an obstreperous minority. After that is done there can be no question of legality or any excuse for shifting from dilatory motions to dilatory proceedings at law. The majority should rule and a majority of citizens approve the position of the majority in common council.

We think the Philadelphia Press is mistaken when it says that Pennsylvania would be glad to see Mr. Pattison nominated for president. The people of this state are not of a vengeful disposition and really did all they wanted to Mr. Pattison last year.

ONE YEAR IN CUBA.

The Latin toleration of action as an excuse for speech may have seemed a characteristic of the Cuban congress when the deliberations of that body were going on; but now that they are concluded, it appears that enough legislation has been enacted to meet all immediate requirements of the island.

Everything considered, the record made is admirable. Conservatism prevailed. In general, the wise recommendations of President Palma were acceded to. The president exercised the right of veto but once, and put his signature to but a single bill which did not meet his entire approval. Appropriations were modest, the justice of all those made being universally conceded. The payment of the revolutionary army was provided for, and much needed loans in aid of agriculture were authorized. The rural guard was reorganized and strengthened; the diplomatic and consular service was organized; the tariff was reformed; treaties with the United States were made; education and sanitary service were taken care of. Some 3,400 teachers are now employed in teaching 150,000 pupils. There has not been a case of yellow fever in Havana for two years. The finances are in good condition; the expenditures have been kept below receipts, and a balance of over $2,500,000 is in the treasury. There are no debts and the government is self-supporting. There has been no corruption, no jobbing, sandbagging or fraud, nor charges of any of them.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

+ + + +

The close of the Spanish war found our periodical publications teeming with articles on Cuba, written in perfect good faith, which represented the outlook for the island as dismal in the extreme. Brigandage, in particular, was dwelt upon as an evil well-nigh ineradicable; the habits nurtured in so many years of unrest and turmoil had become, we were told, too obstinately fixed to admit of the hope of extirpation. * * * The people elected the best possible man for their chief magistrate, and Estrada Palma has turned out a better president than the most sanguine friend of Cuba could have expected; and in short Cuba has given a remarkable exhibition of ability to manage her own affairs with efficiency and tranquility, and has shown, in the course of more than a year of self-government, qualities which many an "Anglo-Saxon" state government may look upon with envy.—Baltimore News.

+ + + +

There has been a good deal said about the surprising success of the Palma administration during the little more than a year which has elapsed since its institution, about the remarkable self-control of the Cuban people, about the ability which they have displayed in carrying on the work upon which this country started them, and a lot more of the same sort.

It may be admitted that the Cubans have done better than there was any reason in their character or their record to expect, but much of the felicitation which they are receiving is either insincere or inconsiderate. The fact is that their capacity for self-government has not yet been put to any crucial or convincing test.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Good name in man and woman, dear my lord,
Is the immediate jewel of their souls;
Who steals my purse steals trash; 'tis something, nothing;
'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands;
But he that filches from me my good name
Robs me of that which not enriches him
And makes me poor indeed.
—Shakespeare.

What is your name?

Where did you get it, and what does it mean?

Of what use is a name, anyway?

According to the books every name of a person signifies something.

Away back in what we now call historic times an individual had only one name, and was thought to be well off if it was a good one.

Christian names, however, have been more or less in use for a long time. They are given to distinguish one Smith or Brown or Jones from another. And, as a rule, Christian names were in a measure descriptive of the individual.

The study of names, their meanings and how they came to be applied to certain individuals is very interesting. There are several different books devoted to this, and some of the larger dictionaries give the more common names, together with their meaning.

The Germans appear to have the least variety of names, while our own country has the greatest, which is on account of our population being made up of people from every civilized nation under the sun. These bring their names with them, no matter how cumbersome or outlandish they may be.

Prof. Nathan Pulvermacher has taken the trouble of compiling the names of 41,000 school children in Berlin to see which were most in vogue. Among the boys there were 1,627 whose name was Wilhelm or Willi. Next in frequency was Paul, followed by Friedrich, Johannes, Karl, Max, Walter, Enrich, Otto, Franz, George, Ernst, Richard, Curt, Alfons, each of which was represented more than 500 times. Among the girls the 10 names most in vogue were Margaretha, Gertrude, Martha, Frieda, Anna, Else, Maria, Charlotte, Hedwig, Erma.

* * * * *

What did you say your name is?

How did you happen to get it?

Do you propose making it a name worth while, or will you allow it to become common and fade from the pages of history?

It doesn't make much difference how it is spelled if it only has weight in the social and financial world.

Hunt up the origin of your name and its meaning, for it was given to the head of your family to indicate his trade, the place where he lived, or to describe his appearance, or some peculiar habit.

If you can't find it yourself possibly some of our other readers can if asked to do so. If you will write and tell us what you know about it we will try to do the rest.

* * * * *

Do you talk well?

Of course, you talk well enough to be understood, and know enough about words to be able to understand what others say, and what you read.

How many different words do you use in talking or writing?

Maybe you haven't thought of this, but others have, and some have taken the trouble to find out how many different words are used in books, and about how many are used in ordinary conversation.

A prominent educator once said before an audience of teachers that the best educated person in the house would not use more than 600 or 700 words in all their conversation and writing, and that an ignorant man does not use more than 300.

American workmen who are, as a rule, readers of newspapers and periodicals, command from 700 to 1,000, but ordinarily use less than 600.

Prof. John Fisk, one of the clearest writers of good English, used comparatively few words, and mostly small ones, and the simpler the better.

While he was employed as an instructor in Harvard university it occurred to him that his classes would thrive better on simple words, and he made it a point to use the shortest and simplest ones by which he could convey his meaning. Having been used to these words from childhood they were able to grasp meaning more readily than when expressed in compound words. Although they understood these large words, yet it seemed to require an effort to apply them, while their own short, simple ones required no effort whatever. He also discovered that pupils could remember things expressed in familiar words much better than when the words used were compound or derivative. This led him to the conclusion that Anglo-Saxon words are the best for conversation and popular writing.

* * * * *

Shakespeare used about 15,000 words in his writings. This includes many unusual words now obsolete. Milton used 9,000, which includes a number of words used only in relation to mythology and in ancient classics.

A writer in the Indianapolis Journal made an estimate of the number of words whose meaning was plain to him in print or in speech, in this way using an abridged dictionary on account of all unusual words being left out.

Under each letter of the alphabet a page or more of words was selected at random and counted. A separate record was kept of primitive and derivative words. That is, among the former was put measure; among the latter measureable, measureableness, measurably, measurer, unmeasurable and unmeasured. Compound words, whose meanings were clearly indicated by their component, were omitted; as, clock-work, draught-horse, hard-earned. Counting this way, an average of 20 primitive and 35 derivative words was found on each page. This would make, there being 814 pages of vocabulary in the dictionary, a total of 16,240 of the former and 28,490 of the latter, or almost 45,000 in all.

Next was taken a page in each letter and on it were counted the words which it seemed any person of average intelligence would be able to use and understand. On 24 pages there were 268 primitive words and 221 derivative, or nearly 9,000 in all of the former and more than 7,000 of the latter. And lastly was made a count of very common words, such as even a poorly educated person could harly escape knowing, and they were found to number 5,700 primitive and 3,200 derivative. No proper names were included in any of the countings.

It would therefore seem to follow, if what we are told of the vocabularies of Shakespeare and Milton be correct, that a person of average education today knows at least as many words as did the former, and one whose school opportunities have been quite limited is capable of walking beside the latter in this respect. As regards ideas and ability to express them, however, the difference may be world wide.

The foregoing facts seem to warrant these general conclusions: Every well-read person of fair ability and education will be able to define or to understand as used nearly or quite perhaps more than 50,000 words. And the same person in conversation and writing will command not fewer than 15,000 to 20,000, and can add 5,000 to 10,000 to these numbers if he be literarily inclined. The plain people, as Lincoln liked to call them, use or read understandingly from 8,000 to 10,000 words, according to their general intelligence and conversational power, while a person who cannot read, but who has a good degree of native mental ability, will command about 5,000.

British and American Friendship.

If the speeches made in London at the entertainments given in honor of the visiting American naval officers contained no sentiments that were new, they contained only those certain of a cordial echo in this country, says the Washington Star. The note sounded was that of friendship between the two great English-speaking nations and the importance to the world's peace and progress of fostering its growth with care. Hosts and guests both spoke to the point, and spoke well. The topic appealed to all, and all who touched upon it said something of interest and worth remembering.

The improved relations between Englishmen and Americans are very marked. They are attributed by some to this thing, and by others to that. They have certainly been especially noteworthy since the conflict between Spain and the United States. But, in all probability, if that conflict had never taken place we should yet have witnessed constantly increasing pleasant exchanges between the peoples of the two countries. Why should they not be friends in this day of the world's development and tendencies? Why should differences which were vigorously fought out in the days which gave them rise hold the stage as against conditions so greatly changed, and obligations so apparent to all?

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 14.—Benjamin Steinhardt's attempts to get a decision on betting on horse races failed again today. Steinhardt has made a test complaint against a special policeman accused of neglect of duty in not arresting those who, it is asserted, made wagers in his presence. The court today adjourned the case to July 31, in spite of the almost frantic protests of Steinhardt. The latter says he will go to Albany to make a personal appeal to Gov. Odell to use his influence in favor of the Percy-Gray anti-betting law. There is little sympathy with Steinhardt. Horses, from the racing point of view, are so popular that no one is inclined to interfere with arrangements which permit a quiet wager to be laid on any particular animal which may win a contest. When people are away from the track there are not so disposed to bet as when they are actually on the scene of the race. This is the argument of Steinhardt's opponents, combatting his argument that if betting is allowed that the tracks are likely to lead to pool room betting. Steinhardt is very much in earnest in his crusade, and the more opposition he meets the more determined he is to see his fight to the end. Pittsburgh Phil was one of those present in court today and he smiled quietly as Steinhardt thus expressed himself. If the betting laws should be amended through the present fuss it may be that they will be improved. They are not perfect as they are. That is admitted by everyone who has given the matter anything more than the most casual attention.

Something of a Cobbler Himself.

In a shoe store window in upper Broadway is a pair of very old, much-worn shoes, above which is a placard reading: "This pair of shoes was sold in 1860 in Peekskill by Senator Chauncey M. Depew's uncle." It has been said that Chauncey himself could turn out a fairly good pair of shoes if he liked, although he never made his living in that way. The inference is that he learned the trick from the distinguished uncle referred to in the placard in this Broadway shoe store. The senator is a many-sided man and is not likely to be ashamed of any useful accomplishment he happens to possess.

Kitty Joyce Settles Down for Six Months.

Kitty Joyce is one of the picturesque young woman whose name is known to Pittsburghers as well as New Yorkers. For the next six months Kitty's address will be the Home of the Good Shepherd. She was noisily convivial in an uptown store in a swell neighborhood last evening and the judge settled her for half a year today.

Wouldn't Gamble and Was Razored.

The exclusiveness of the West Indian negro is well understood. A colored gentleman from Jamaica regards himself as pretty nearly "the cheese," and on this account he finds small favor with the people of his race who were born in the southern states of America. Many of the West Indian negroes talk with a broad English accent, too. One of them was asked to join a crap game in Seventh avenue this morning by half a dozen colored men who were shouting "seven-come-eleben" with the gusto that belongs to that particular adjuration. The West Indian told them that he was a gentleman from the West Indies and would not disgrace himself by gambling in the street. When a policeman arrived the West Indian had been so badly carved with razors that it did not seem likely that he would ever gamble again anywhere. The principal razor wielder has been held for trial for felonious assault and the West Indian is in a hospital.

Avoiding the Rag-Tag-and-Bobtail.

Automobiles are used a great deal by commuters who happen to possess one of the new devil wagons. They are more comfortable in many ways, one of them being that the passenger is not obliged to consort with the rag-tag-and-bobtail on local trains, and is also relieved of the intrusions of the railroad attaches, the blocks on the road and the smoke and dirt of the average railroad. Hundreds of well-to-do New Yorkers who live 12 or 15 miles from Manhattan come into town on their automobiles in the morning and go home in them in the afternoon. These men, of course, can afford to have duly licensed chauffeurs and never think of their automobiles when once out of them. The time may come when automobiles will be lined up along the sidewalks just as bicycles were a few years ago. But that state of affairs has not arrived yet.

Dill's Automobile Outing.

James B. Dill, the corporation lawyer who got such an enormous fee for arranging the legal affairs of the United States Steel Corporation when that great organization came into being, is about to take a long automobile ride, accompanied by his family. He will start tomorrow morning from his home in East Orange and will spin away to his summer home at Rangeley lakes, Maine. The distance to be covered is more than 500 miles. Mr. Dill has covered the distance on horseback and knows every foot of the road. It is altogether probable that he will ride to Pittsburgh in his automobile sometime when he has to make one of his frequent visits to that city. It should not be any harder to ride over the Alleghanies than the White mountains, and the distance is just about the same.

Sale of Decayed Fish.

How the poor people of Manhattan are imposed on is a matter of common knowledge. The latest example of it has been brought up by the retail fish dealers of Manhattan. It is declared that some of the hucksters are in the habit of buying barrels of decayed fish from Fulton market truckmen who are employed to convey the market refuse to the offal dump. It is not easy to believe that such an outrage could be perpetrated, but worse things than that turn up in big cities now and then.

Women Brokers Are Successful.

Manhattan has two feminine stock brokers. One of them was a school teacher, but she got tired of teaching the young idea how to shoot and when she saw an opening in the stock broking line she took it without hesitation. Many women would rather deal with a woman broker where possible, and this young school teacher is always in her office in lower Broadway ready to transact business and to give advice to her patrons as they may ask for it. She is respected by the men in the same line and her affairs are always carried on in such a serious, business-like way that the men cannot but admit her right to be in a calling of which men have long had the monopoly. The other woman broker, who has an uptown office, is just as discreet and systematic, and the only fear either of them have is that their success may eventually cause the field to be overcrowded.

American Marksmen.

Every patriotic American ought to feel gratified at the fine showing made by the rifle team representing the United States at the Bisley range in England. It is no small distinction to have beaten teams of crack marksmen from Great Britain, France, Canada, South Africa, Australia and Norway; and the victory is all the more pleasing from the fact that the Palma trophy which our sharpshooters have recaptured, was taken from us two years ago by the Canadians, who lost it in turn to the British last year.

It is reported that England intends to make an effort to retake the trophy in 1904; and it is not improbable that other competing teams from abroad will also be present. This will be a good thing on all accounts. Having won the prize back again, our riflemen should show their ability to keep it.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

+ + + +

The winning of the Palma trophy by the American team at Bisley, England, re-establishes the superiority of American marksmen. It was America against the world. The best shots in Europe, South Africa, Australia and Canada were among the contestants. None of them, except the team representing the United Kingdom, approached the excellence of the performance of the Americans, and in only one event, the shooting at the 800-yard range, were the Americans surpassed. The score of 1,570 points out of a possible 1,800 recaptured that which surely belongs in the land of Daniel Boone and Davy Crockett.

Skill with the rifle is a talent traditional to the American race. Our forefathers shot straight with their flintlock muskets at Lexington and Bunker Hill, and the pioneers who opened up the great west learned to waste none of the balls they rammed home with a greased patch and a hickory ramrod down the bore of their long rifles. The men who have followed these in the development of the country have the instinct that makes the good shot, and they have the good guns that serve truly the well-trained eye and hand. Now that the trophy comes back to America, it will be kept here where it belongs.—Boston Post.

+ + + +

The eight picked marksmen from the United States, under the command of Col. Bruce, that entered the international competition at Bisley, England, recaptured the famous Palma trophy in grand style on Saturday. The trophy was offered for world's competition in long-range rifle competition in 1875. It was won by an American team and kept in this country until 1901, when a Canadian team won it with a score of 1,522 out of a possible 1,800. In 1902 a British team captured the prize in Canada with a total of 1,459. This year the Americans recaptured the Palma with a score of 1,570 against teams from six different countries. Next year the contest will be held at Sea Girt, L. I. It is worthy of note that four of the victorious American team are from New York and three of these members of the Seventy-first regiment.—Buffalo Commercial.

+ + + +

While the recapture of the Palma trophy by the American rifle team is gratifying, the marksmanship of the British, Canadian and Australian teams indicated that there is no great likelihood of this emblem of the championship in long-range shooting tarrying with us for a quarter of a century, as it did from 1875 to 1901. The match was won only by the trifling margin of 15 points, and the scores made by either of the teams mentioned above would have won the trophy in most of the past contests. Indeed, the least of the three was 42 points better than that by which the British team carried off the emblem in last year's match in Canada. Our supremacy in rifle team shooting is being vigorously challenged.—Philadelphia Record.

+ + + +

The victory of the American rifle team in the contest for the Palma trophy for long-distance shooting at Bisley, is one of which American riflemen have good reason to be proud. The London Times, which probably echoes the sentiment of the defeated British riflemen, is disposed to give the credit for the American achievement rather to their mechanical aids than to the individual merit of the marksmen. It claims that the sliding wind gauge, which "substitutes mechanical exactitude for human fallibility" in the important matter of judging of the velocity of the wind and its effect upon the course of the bullet, was the determining factor in deciding the contest. Doubtless this had much to do with the result, but it is too late in the day for rifle experts to decry the use of mechanical devices as an aid to long-distance marksmanship.

There may be something in the claim that, thanks to the encouragement given to the practice of sharpshooting by the British rifle volunteer system, the British Isles possess a larger number of good marksmen in proportion to the population, than the United States. But it has been repeatedly shown, as Bisley has again shown, that our best marksmen are better than the best that Great Britain can produce, and that there are more Americans than there are British who have a right to rank in the highest class.—Brooklyn Times.

+ + + +

The fact that an American team has again won the Palma trophy for marksmanship ought not to seem important. It is only surprising that this reward of marksmanship ever left our territory, since here the rifle was first really developed and showed its power, only to be long ignored.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A National Menace.

Each lynching has made the next one easier; public sentiment, at first shocked, has grown more and more callous on the subject, and now the practice assumes the proportion of a national disgrace that has got to be stamped out if we are to retain the respect of the civilized world. If we clear our minds of cant, and look the statistics of American lynchings squarely in the face, we shall find that those who reproach this democracy with being the special seat of mob law have a formidable array of facts on their side.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

NIGHT.

When you have walked the weary way—
The weary way that leads by noon
And takes you to the end of day,
You know there waits for you a boon;
You know that on ahead is rest,
For roses drip with twilight dew
And all things seem but for the best
When Night holds out her arms to you.

When Night holds out her arms to you,
You know your cares have found release;
That what stern battling you must do
Is for the time bid pause by peace;
For down the slopes the shadows drift
And singing breezes falter through
The silence where the hills uplift—
And Night holds out her arms to you.

When Night holds out her arms, it seems
As though she brought each one a crown—
A crown of happiness and dreams
She comes to countryside and town
With poppies in her dusky hands
And poppies in her garments, too;
All gracefully she comes and stands
And holds her soothing arms to you.

Just so when you are through with strife,
And, all worldweary on your way,
You reach the ending of this life
For life is but a little day—
There will be naught to make you sad,
But all will be fair to your view;
You will be comforted and glad

BRICKLAYERS WIN THE FIGHT

Arbitration Board Decides Independent Stone Masons Must Join the B. M. I. U.

TERMINATION OF A DISPUTE

Charters of Both Locals to Be Revoked and a New Organization Affected. All the Workmen to Belong to the One Union.

The trouble between the local members of the Bricklayers and Masons International union and the Stone Masons' International union is now a matter of history only. The dispute was terminated last night when the arbitration board rendered its decision. Although both organizations have been dual since the inception of the independent stone masons 12 years ago, the local fight was not commenced until May 9, of this year, when the stone masons from each organization refused to work on the same job. The matter was placed in the hands of an arbitration board which took testimony Monday and yesterday. All the witnesses were heard by 5 o'clock in the afternoon and at 10 o'clock gave the following decision:

St. Charles Hotel,
Pittsburgh, Pa., July 14, 1903.

In the matter of the local controversy between the Stone Masons International union and the Bricklayers and Masons International union, we find that the dispute is primarily caused by over-zealousness on the part of the former and over-indulgence on the part of the latter, principally, during the last twelve years.

We congratulate the local unions on the trade conditions in the stone mason industry in Pittsburgh and vicinity and were their position not officially that of dual and seceding organization, a decision in the pending dispute would be less easy to render.

Under the circumstances, and having the unity of the masonry craft solely in mind, and so that dual organization and secession may neither be condoned nor encouraged, we hold that the Bricklayers and Masons International union is the bona fide organization, and its locals in the different cities and towns of North America are entitled to recognition by organized labor.

In accordance therewith, and having fully digested the voluminous evidence presented affecting Pittsburgh and vicinity, it is our decision that the Stone Masons local unions as such, become part of the Bricklayers and Masons International union, with local autonomy, as recognized and observed by other stone masons unions under the jurisdiction of the Brickleyers and Masons International union, and be accepted therein on members paid-up cards; said transfer to take place within two months of the above date, and in the interim, all hostility between bricklayers and the stone masons in question shall cease.

We further decide that such of the members of the stone masons local union recently formed in Pittsburgh by the Bricklayers and Masons International union, as are practical and qualified stone masons, shall become members of the old stone masons union on presentation of clear cards; and in accordance therewith, that inside of two months from above date, said charter shall be revoked by the officers of the Bricklayers and Masons International union.

In conclusion, we strongly recommend that in making further agreements, all local unions of the Bricklayers and Masons International union in this vicinity shall act in unison, to the end that joint settlements may be entered into, thereby removing as far as possible, all grounds of dissension or contention.

Voting in the affirmative: Collis Lovely, James Duncan, James P. Reynolds, Frank Buchanan.

Not voting: H. W. Steinbiss.

The decision will be used as a precedent in efforts to compel independent stone masons of other cities to affiliate with the B. M. I. U. The independent organization is 12 years old and the organizers were formerly members of the B. M. I. U. It is 3,000 strong.

The executive officers of the B. M. I. U., being in the city in the interest of the adjourned trouble, will hold a meeting today at the St. Charles hotel. The board generally meets in New York, but as they are all here a meeting will be held to facilitate matters.

POLITICIAN ROBBED IN POLICE HEADQUARTERS

City Detectives Trying to Find Person Who Stole Diamond, Money and Knife of Morris Fisher. Costly Turkish Bath.

The city detectives are now engaged in solving a "diamond robbery mystery" in the public safety building. While sleeping in the turkish bath room in that building Saturday Morris Fisher, a well-known shoe merchant and politician of No. 617 Wylie avenue, in the Fifth ward, was robbed of a $300 diamond pin, $22 05 in cash and a pocket knife. No trace of the thief can be found, although the detectives and police have been working night and day to apprehend him. Fisher is indignant, stating that he went to the safety building to try a Turkish bath on the solicitation of a friend, Select Councilman P. J. Barry. He says it was outrageous that he was accorded such treatment.

When Fisher reached the safety building at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon he was shown into the dressing room. Then he disrobed, hanging his clothes on a rack alongside of a cot. He left his diamond pin in his tie and his money and knife in his pockets. After the bath he was given a bathrobe, and he lay on the cot and went to sleep. Two hours afterward he awakened and started to dress. The first thing he missed was his diamond pin. Then he searched his pockets and found his money and pocket knife were gone. Dressing quickly he went upstairs to report the matter to the detectives.

The detectives were rather incredulous about his story, and Fisher went to his personal friend, Inspector Bernard McStay. The latter put his "sleuths" at work on the case, but they were unable to get any results. The city detectives were instructed to get to work in search of the missing jewel and find the thief. Up to yesterday no results had been obtained. Councilman Barry went to the police station and said he wanted the missing diamond found and returned. Still no results developed. Fisher was hurt when seen at his store yesterday afternoon.

"Think how hard I worked for the Citizens party and the money I spent for them," he said. "Then I was robbed in their own building. Why, even my last nickel was taken."

COUNTY COMMITTEEMEN TO STUDY NEW RULES

Several Changes Made in Regard to Voting at Republican Primaries.

All of the members of the Republican county committee will receive letters today from W. A. Magee, Jr., chairman of the committee on rules, containing the new rules which the committee will lay before the county committee on Saturday.

Rule No. 1 is modified so that the county primaries in Allegheny shall conform with the rules of the Allegheny city committee.

Section 5 and 6 of Rule 11 provides that any voter who cast his ballot for the last Republican state or national ticket and who will promise to support the Republican nominee of the primaries may vote. Section 6 of rule 44 allows vacancies on the ticket to be filled by a committee on vacancies to be appointed by the convention. Heretofore there was no rule for filling vacancies.

Section 6 and 7 of rule 7 are designed to prevent delegates elected at the primaries from selling out their candidates. These sections provide that 48 hours before the primaries each candidate shall file with the county chairman a complete list of the delegates who are to run in his interest; that at the convention each delegate shall vote for his candidate and in case he refuses to so do, or is absent, the chairman is empowered to cast his ballot for him; but that when three candidates are running for the same nomination the lowest shall drop out after the first ballot has been taken.

According to rule 7, the assessment of national delegates is increased from $25 to $250; state delegates are to pay $10 each; candidates for a county office of a salary of $4,000 or more shall pay $200 instead of the present $100 rate, and if the salary is less than $4,000 the present rate, $25, remains.

Rule 11 is an entirely new one to compel loyalty. It provides that if it is reported to the chairman of the county committee that any member or officer of the committee or member of the party is, or expects to be, opposed to the Republican party, the chairman shall notify him of the charge. He shall have a hearing and be removed if the charge be proved true. Rule 13 increases the number necessary for a qorum.

The rules requiring two days' notice of an amendment and a majority vote to pass it is changed so that 10 days' notice and a two-thirds vote are required. The new rule is the old one that was changed by Senator William Flinn, there being a good many men on the committee who were opposed to the senator.

ST. SWITHIN'S DAY.

Forty Days of Rain Threatened the Earth if Rain Falls Today.

Man's best friend for the next 40 days will be his umbrella, should rain fall today, St. Swithin's day. According to an old legend July 15 is set apart in honor of the old saint and should rain fall during any part of the day it will continue for the following 40 days. In olden times it was a common belief that when rain fell on St. Swithin's day the saint was christening the apples.

St. Swithin was bishop of Winchester in the ninth century. At his death his remains were buried outside the limits of the graveyard, on the north side of a sanctuary, so that the water dropping from the eaves might fall on his grave and his dust be trodden under foot by passersby.

Many years after his death the cathedral was rebuilt and the monks, believing that so pious a member of their order should occupy a more exalted resting place, prepared to exhume St. Swithin's remains. According to the legend on the arrival of the appointed day, the monks assembled to convey the saint's remains with much pomp to the cathedral. Just as they were about to start the ceremony, rain poured forth in torrents. The ceremony was delayed from day to day for 40 days, when the continuous and violent downpour led the monks to interpret this as a sign of heaven's displeasure at their action. The result was that St. Swithin's remains were never disturbed, but a chapel was erected over his grave.

THIRTY-FIFTH WARDERS DENOUNCE ORDINANCE

Will Attend Council Meeting to Express Disapproval of the Duquesne Way Franchise.

A mass meeting of citizens of the Thirty-fifth ward last night adopted resolutions disapproving the Duquesne way franchise as it passed second reading in common council. The resolutions declared that the railroad ought to pay for the franchise, commended Common Councilman William C. Reitz for his efforts against the ordinance in its present shape and requested Select Councilman John Costello to vote for an ordinance more in accordance with the sense of the meeting.

The meeting was held in Zimmerman's hall in Grandview avenue. William B. Lupton was elected chairman and Joseph W. Rapp, secretary. Councilman William H. Stevenson and Joseph C. Wasson were expected, but were not present. Councilman Reitz made a speech, saying that he would like to have the sentiments of the citizens of the ward on the franchise.

Peter S. O'Malley, Samuel F. O'Brien and William Schroeder, were appointed a committee to draft resolutions, and Charles T. W. Cooper, Chairman Lupton and other spoke briefly. Hugh H. Weedon moved that a committee of 150 be appointed by the chairman to attend the next meeting of common council and denounce the ordinance. Mr. Cooper suggested that the committee take ropes along, hang them over the banisters and thus give councils a hint of what might stand in store for them. On motion of Samuel B. Forse, it was agreed that any citizens intending to attend the council meeting should give in their names. Forty-two signified their willingness to go. Then the resolutions already stated were adopted and the meeting adjourned.

The citizens who will storm the council chamber will wear badges. They will be at the city hall on Monday night, for which time the small faction opposed to the ordinance claims to have called a meeting of common council.

The Hilltop board of trade also met last night and adopted a resolution opposing the passage of the Duquesne way ordinance.

BIGELOW DROPS OUT OF SIGHT

Public Works Director Last Night Departed for New York Unannounced.

MAY TAKE A TRIP TO EUROPE

Declared He Is Satisfied With the Condition of the Pennsylvania Railroad Ordinances—Some Think Passage by Common Council Was Illegal.

Director of Public Works E. M. Bigelow left Pittsburgh last night at 10:10 o'clock for New York, presumably to take his much-talked-of trip to Europe. His sudden departure was unannounced, and none of his friends saw him off. He refused positively to state where he is bound, but said that he is satisfied with the condition of the Pennsylvania railroad ordinances for which he had so strongly fought.

In company with the director was Mrs. Bigelow. They arrived at East Liberty station a few minutes before the train arrived and the only persons who saw the couple off were the newspaper men. Mr. Bigelow was very reticent as to his destination and refused to go into local matters.

A smile was the only reply Director Bigelow gave to the question as to where he is going.

"Was the meeting of common council last night legal?" was asked.

"It is not for me to say whether the meeting was legal," was Bigelow's smiling rejoinder.

Things Went to Suit Bigelow.

"I feel quite relieved over conditions in Pittsburgh," continued the director. "Everything is moving just the way I want. I am not sure when I'll be back. I'm in for a good rest, and I intend to get it."

When asked why he kept his destination a secret the director replied:

"I want to drop out of sight. I desire to go to a place where I am not known and where the newspaper men will not bother me."

The director when questioned refused to say that he was about to take his proposed trip to Europe. Then he laughed and said he could secure his much-needed rest on shipboard and that it was possible he was going abroad. He stated that he would be gone at least three weeks, but further than that he would not talk.

About 9 o'clock last night two large trunks were taken from Mr. Bigelow's residence, North Highland avenue and Jackson street. These trunks were taken to East Liberty station and went to New York on the same train that carried the director and Mrs. Bigelow. As there are White Star line boats that sail today from New York for Europe it is possible the director will sail today.

No Meeting of Select Council Called.

No meeting of select council has yet been called to consider the Pennsylvania railroad ordinances. It was openly stated on Monday night after the meeting of common council that a petition would be circulated and 13 members' names signed to it to have a meeting of the upper branch some time today. President John S. Lambie says he will not call a meeting.

This call would have to be issued under the signature of City Clerk E. W. Hassler, and no request came to him yesterday, and no call was made. It is generally understood that select council will meet some time this week, but when is not decided.

The burden of expression of the opposition to the passage of the railroad ordinances yesterday was that the passage in common council on Monday night is not legal. That the entire matter may finally get into court is the opinon of many members of common council. Experienced parliamentarians state that the selection of D. J. Bole as chairman when a quorum of common council was not present is decidedly illegal.

Common Councilman W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward, who is the leader of the opposition to the Pennsylvania in his branch, is also of the opinion the meeting was illegal, and he will stay in the fight to secure compensation for the city. The meeting of the chamber of commerce tomorrow is likely to be warm, as it is known that Pennsylvania railroad interests are strong in that body.

HAD TO SUE THE GIRL TO GET TO MARRY HER

Russian Sent Money to Bring Affianced Here, but She Wanted Another Man.

Paul Breza yesterday entered suit before Justice Jones of Homestead against a pretty peasant girl from his Russian home. Paul was acquainted with the girl from his boyhood. He went to Homestead four years ago under promise to bring his sweetheart to America to become his bride. In May he sent a sum of money to bring Annie Brecski here. She arrived last week and preparations were at once made for a wedding.

The girl was introduced Saturday evening to one of her affianced husband's friends and immediately fell in love with him. She forgot her early attachment. Paul brooded over his trouble and the money which he had used in vain, and finding that brooding was unavailing, he went before the justice and entered suit for obtaining money under false pretenses. The girl finally promised to become Breza's wife, and a wedding at an early date is assured.

MARCHED FROM WASHINGTON

Hospital Corps from Ft. Allen Arrives at Mt. Gretna.

MT. GRETNA, PA., July 14.—Today the troops of Camp Hoffman composing the Third brigade got down to hard work when several regiments were called out in regimental drill. The hospital corps under command of Capt. Fred Reynolds and Lieut. Fred Dale, marched here on foot from Ft. Allen, Washington, D. C., about 160 miles. The trip was made in stages of 15 to 18 miles a day, and the men arrived here footsore and weary.

PERKASIE, PA., July 14.—Gov. Pennypacker and his staff will leave Camp Hastings tomorrow for Mt. Gretna to review the Third brigade and participate in the inspection of Gen. Gobin's command.

Three Italian Laborers Injured.

Three Italian laborers were seriously if not fatally injured yesterday at noon on a Wabash work train at Bruce. They are Nick Caborall, 32 years old, Caimelo Campitello, 27 years old and Joe Berzach, 38 years old. A severe jolt followed the coupling of the train, throwing the three men between the cars and under the wheels. Caborall had his left thigh fractured and his right leg muscle so badly bruised that it was necessary to amputate the leg. Operations were not necessary for the others.

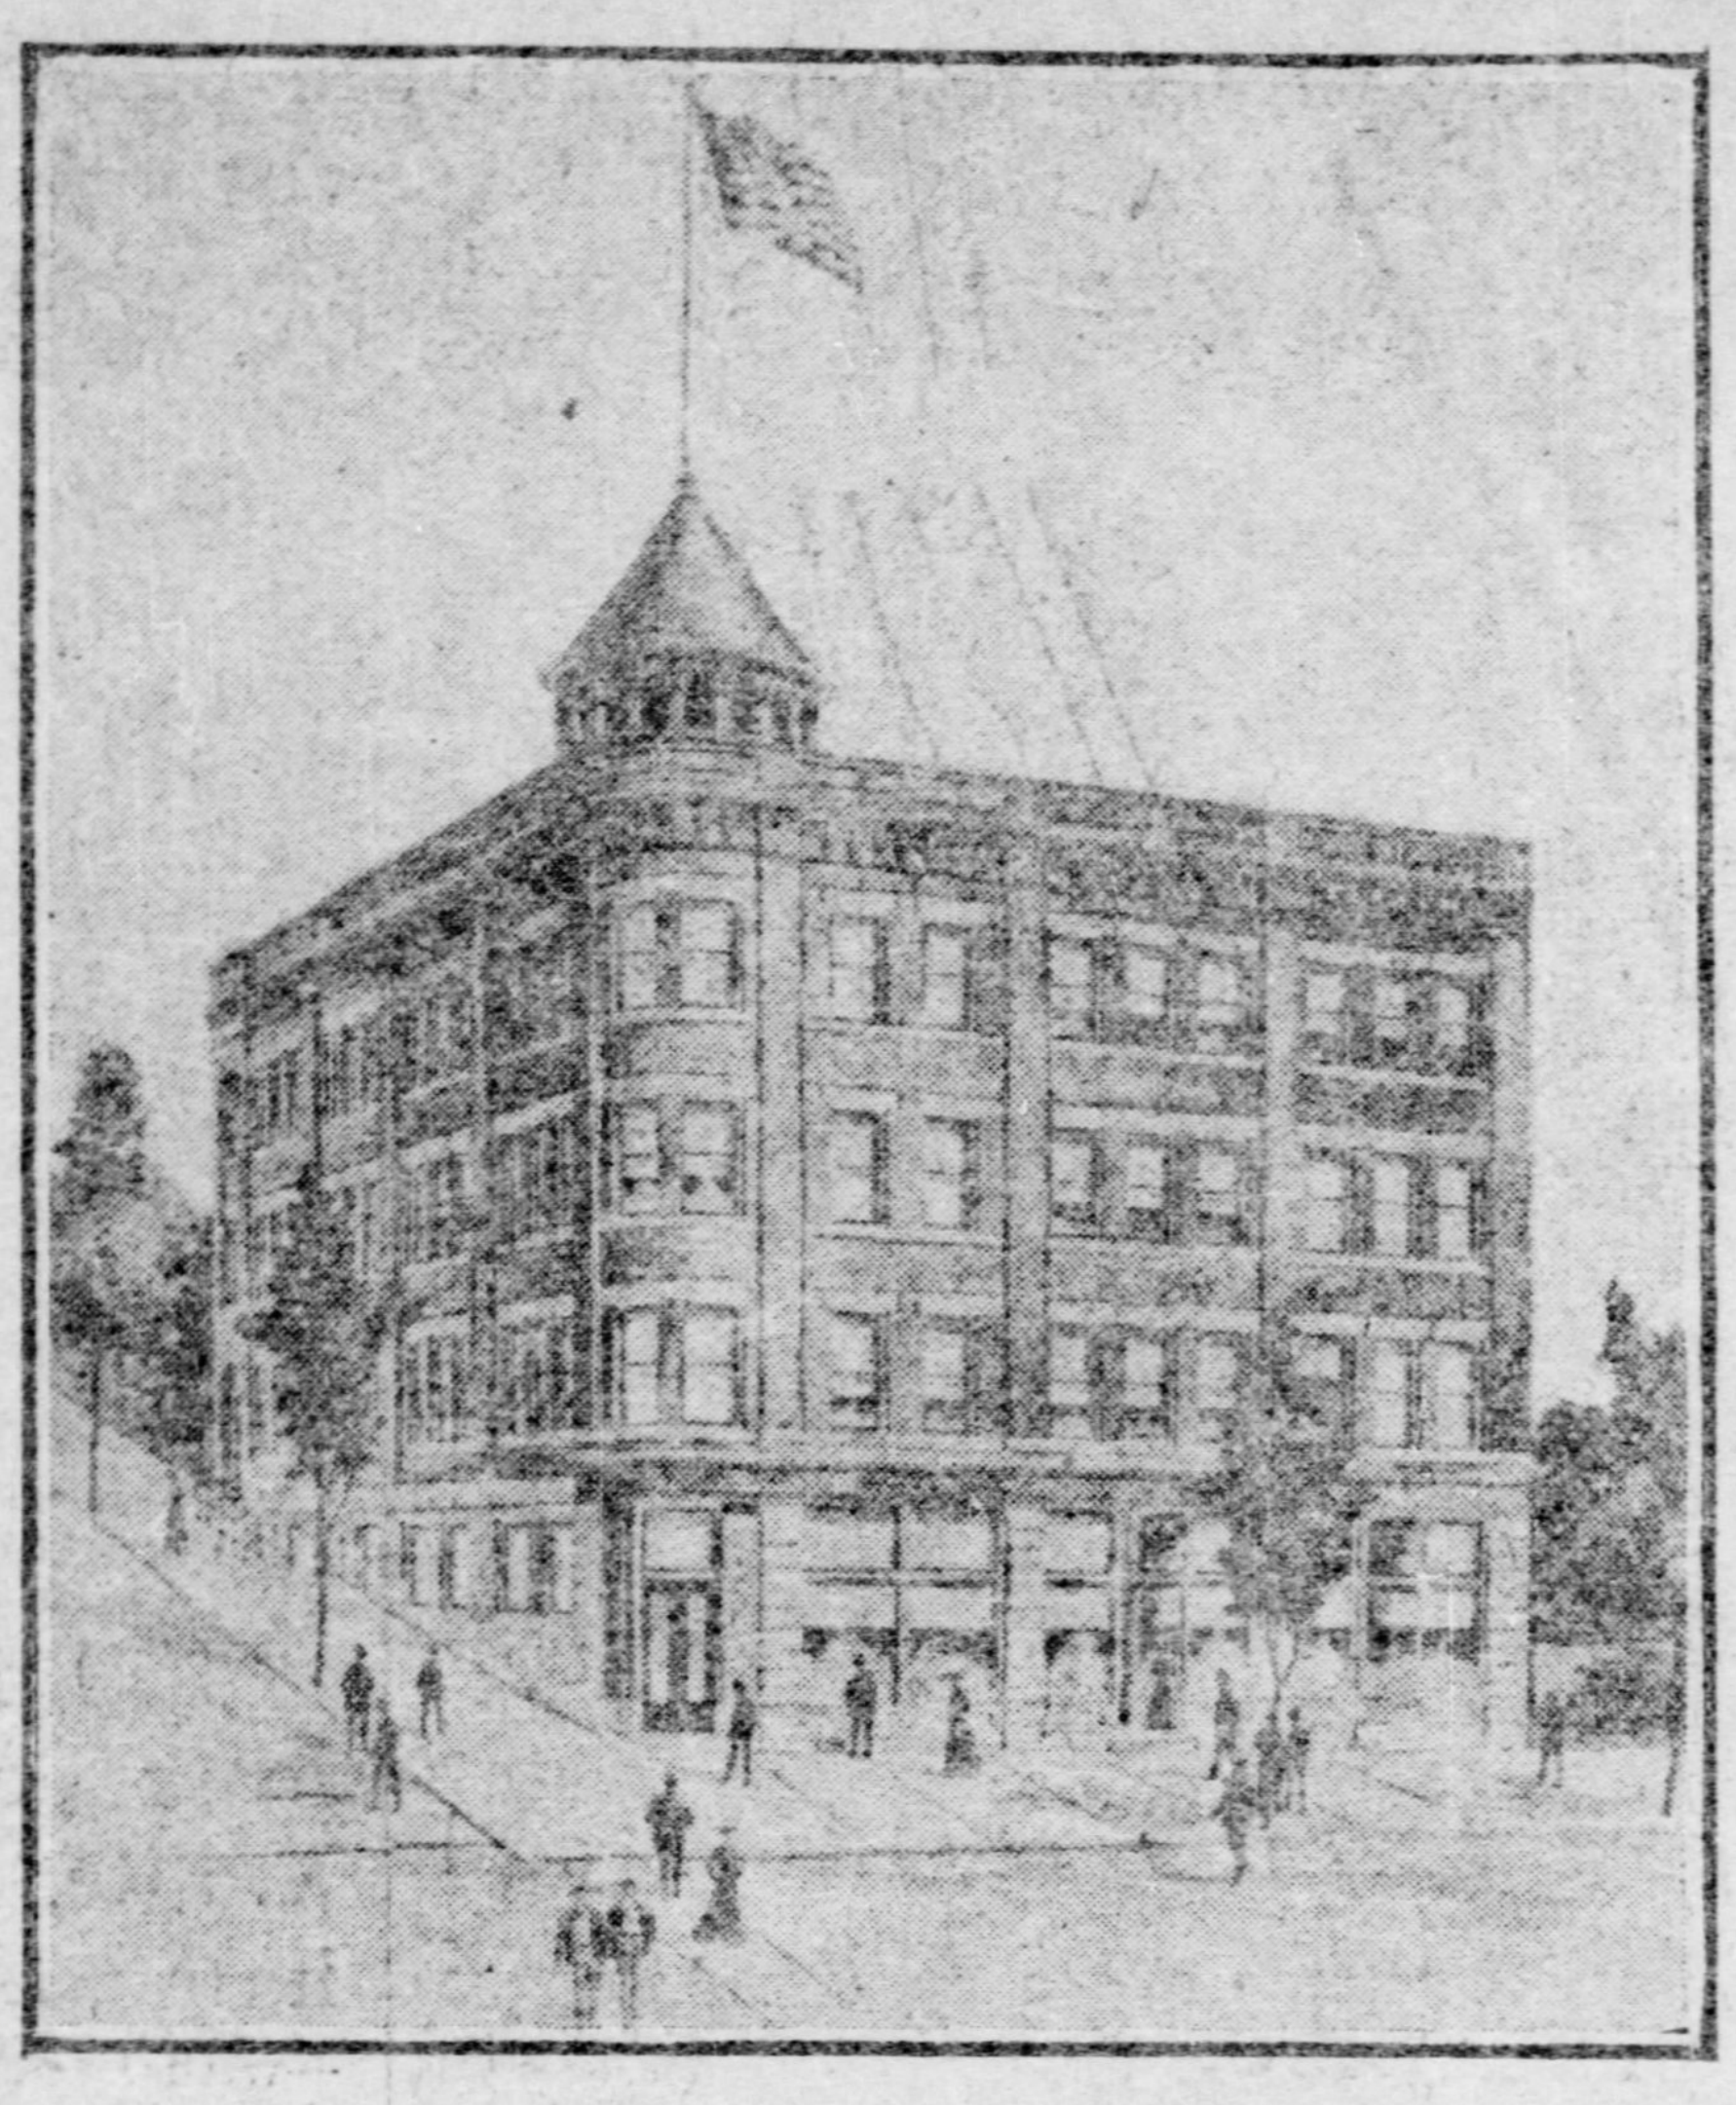
HANDSOME NEW BUILDING FOR FREEDOM NATIONAL BANK



Freedom is to have one of the neatest and most tasty bank buildings in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. The contract for its erection was recently awarded by the Freedom National bank to Anderson & Cook of Beaver for about $60,000. The accompanying cut from the architect, James T. Steen of this city, shows a four-story brick and terra cotta building 60x85 feet. It will be located at Third avenue and Sixth street. The banking quarters will take up the first floor and will be provided with modern safety vaults, marble floors and wainscoting and cozy offices. Above will be five suites of rooms on each floor. Mr. J. W. Craig is president of the bank, which is a very thrifty institution.

CLEVELAND TO MAKE BID FOR PRESIDENCY

Accepts Invitation to Speak at Political Club Banquet in Chicago Early in October in That Capacity.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 14.—Grver Cleveland will speak in Chicago at a Commercial club banquet early in the fall unless present plans miscarry. That he will appear here as a candidate for the presidency again is attested by circumstances in connection with the invitation to him and by private admissions of men who have conferred with him about it.

The exact date of Mr. Cleveland's coming has not been fixed. That has been left to him, with the understanding that he will name a day early in October.

The invitation to Mr. Cleveland was laid before him at Princeton, N. J., about two weeks ago. The ex-president is said to have inquired carefully into the status of the Commercial club, its personnel, its standing before the people and so on. He was especially gratified by the assurance that the club's membership represented what is largest and strongest in the commercial industrial life west of the Allegheny mountains.

Mr. Cleveland then inquired as to whether this, that and the other man (mentioning old political friends) were members of the Commercial Club. He especially requested that certain ones among the non-members thus inquired for be invited to the dinner.

WORKHOUSE AND JAIL BADLY OVERCROWDED

Magistrates Requested Not to Send up Prisoners for Trivial Offenses.

Owing to the fact that the Allegheny county jail and workhouse are overcrowded with prisoners, the officials of those institutions have asked the committing magistrates of both cities and the justices of the peace of the county to refrain as far as possible from sending prisoners there on petty charges. For that reason the magistrates of Pittsburgh and Allegheny have been compelled to reduce fines, take whatever money the defendant had and release him.

Magistrate T. D. Stewart has discharged some 50 prisoners during the last few days on charges of drunkenness and visiting disorderly houses. The fines were reduced to whatever money the men had. Some secured their release for 50 cents.

Inspector Bernard McStay was made a victim of this practice yesterday. A prisoner was charged with visiting a disorderly house. He was fined, but did not have the funds to make the payment. Knowing the officers were not anxious to send him to jail, he told Inspector McStay he lived in the Fifth ward and was a friend of Select Councilman P. J. Barry, when he was a resident of the Eighth ward.

Inspector McStay told him that Councilman Barry would probably pay his fine and said he would send for him. To give the prisoner the impression Councilman Barry had paid the fine, McStay told the man the councilman had inteceded for him and he was released. As the prisoner walked out of the station house he turned to Inspector McStay and said:

"Barney, I live in the Eighth ward, but you are all right."

BETTER POLICE PROTECTION.

Request of Residents of Belmar District Granted by Director Moore.

A meeting of the residents of the Belmar district in Homewood to hear the report of the committee appointed at last week's meeting to call on Director Harry Moore to see if better police protection could not be secured for that territory, was held last night in the Belmar school. D. D. Davis, chairman of the committee reported that the committee had received the promise from the director that two officers would be detailed to patrol the district.

Mr. Davis also stated that the officers were on duty the night following the conference with Director Moore, and have been on duty each night since. The meeting adjourned after a resolution of thanks to Director Moore had been passed.

ACADEMICAL TEACHERS ALLEGE DISCRIMINATION

Five High School Workers Think Commercial Department Was Favored.

Teachers of the academical department of the city high schools consider that they have been discriminated against in favor of the commercial department, and at the regular monthly meeting of the Central board of education last night a communication was received from five of themasking for promotion to masters. The communication said that at the June meeting of the board the academic teachers had been overlooked, while three commercial teachers had been made masters.

George W. Gosser moved that the request be granted, but Dr. W. H. McKelvey opposed this, as the title of master carried with it more salary. Those asking for promotion were: Jennie Gosser, Elizabeth C. Minor, Nannie Stienert, Minnie Fundenburg and Lida Gray. The matter was referred to the high school committee.

The high school committee reported the acceptance of the resignatoin of Miss Mary E. Patterson and recommended the election of Miss Lydia M. Thompson. It also recommended that Edward Sauvain be elected to fill the vacancy in the central building faculty.

The finance committee recommended that a warrant for $3,000 be drawn in favor of Mrs. S. A. Ammon for the support of the summer playgrounds. A bill for athletics aggregating $180 80 was recommended for payment. The committee on compulsory education reported that during the year 28,683 cases had been investigated; 3,321 notices to parents issued, 345 suits entered and 23 children sent to Morganza reform school.

THIS COSTS YOU NOTHING

Schilling Bros.' Co. Will Return Your Money If Mi-o-na Does Not Cure Dyspepsia and Increase Flesh.

There are hundreds of people in Pittsburgh who were not the least bit surprised when they read in The Gazette that Schilling Bros.' Co. were selling Mi-o-na under a guarantee to refund the money, in case it did not cure indigestion and increase weight.

This remarkable preparation is a true flesh-forming food, that builds up good, healthy, solid tissues, and makes thinness and scrawniness a thing of the past.

It tones up the digestive organs, and will cure the worst case of indigestion, headache, dizziness or the depressed, weak condition that afflicts nearly everyone who suffers with stomach trouble. Mi-o-na does not simply relieve; it does lasting good.

In 98 out of 100 cases where Mi-o-na is used, the result is a restoration of perfect harmony between height and weight and an absolute and permanent cure of all stomach troubles.

There are today hundreds in Pittsburgh who are recommending Mi-o-na because it cured them. A few months ago they were thin and dyspeptic, and could eat nothing without fear of stomach trouble. Since using Mi-o-na they have made noticeable gain in flesh, can eat what they want, and when they want, without fear of suffering.

Remember that you risk nothing in buying Mi-o-na. If it gives you the desired effect the cost is trifling, if it fails, Schilling Bros.' Co. will pay for the remedy themselves

LOCKJAW CASES MAY CAUSE SUITS

County Officials Want Evidence Against Dealers Who Sold Pistols to Small Boys.

ANOTHER VICTIM YESTERDAY

Twenty-One Persons Have Died of Tetanus Since First of Year—Law Prohibits Sale of Firearms to Those Under 16 Years of Age.

District Attorney Haymaker and Coroner McGeary had a conference yesterday in reference to taking measures to greatly reduce the number of deaths from lockjaw in Allegheny county. It is the intention of the county officials to learn the names of those who have been selling firearms to boys under 16 years of age and to make informations against them under the act of 1882. They are of the opinion this will do away with the chances of boys wounding themselves in such manner that lockjaw sets in and kills them.

Coroner McGeary, at an inquest this week, will ask a jury to recommend that the county detectives and deputy coroners de detailed to find out what dealers have been selling firearms to small boys and to have their cases presented to the grand jury. Of the 21 deaths due to lockjaw this year all have resulted from wounds inflicted by small pistols. During June there were 14 deaths caused by tetanus, and seven have died since July.

In Philadelphia, Coroner Dugan investigated the matter and five hardware dealers have been indicted for selling fire arms to boys. The inquests into the deaths of Mrs. Bickerstaff, John A. Miller, 13 years old, and Solomon Zeldner will be held by Coroner McGeary this week.

Mrs. Ida Bickerstaff, 26 years old, wife of W. T. Bickerstaff, a mail carrier of No. 1538 Monterey street, Allegheny, died of tetanus yesterday morning at her home. On the Fourth of July the Bickerstaff family had visitors, among them being a boy, who was celebrating the day by shooting a toy pistol. When a cartridge failed to explode, Mrs. Bickerstaff took the pistol from the boy and attempted to break it and it exploded, injuring the thumb of her right hand. On Monday she was seized with lockjaw.

Deputy Coroner Wes Church last night held an inquest into the death of Cherald White, aged 15, of Duquesne, who died Monday of lockjaw, occasioned by being shot in the index finger July 6th, by a toy pistol. The verdict was that the boy died of tetanus, caused by the wound.

Runaway Boys Captured.

Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide was notified last night by an officer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company that two 15-year-old boys of East Pittsburgh, John Doyle and Jay Jewell, were arrested in Niles, O., as runaways. Young Doyle's parents were notified and they said the boys had run away last Thursday. The authorities at Niles were notified to hold the boys until their parents could go there for them.

SWILL-COVERED THIEF SQUIRTED BY POLICE

The Homestead police yesterday took a hose and thoroughly squirted water over John Coslow, a Slav, before he was locked up, as the stench coming from the man was unendurable. Coslow will be given a hearing today before Justice J. B. Jones on a charge of entering a building with intent to commit a felony. Coslow got into the home of Michael Egert in Dixon street yesterday morning by means of a ladder which had been left standing near the building. When discovered by Egert he was on the second floor, and in attempting to escape down the ladder, he slipped and fell, landing in a barrel of swill in the yard. When pulled out he was covered with slime and dirt.

WOMAN TOURIST FELL THREE HUNDRED FEET

Wild Plunge of Mrs. A. E. Johns of New York Into a Crevasse in the Yosemite Valley—She Escaped Serious Injury.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

YOSEMITE, CAL., July 14.—Mrs. A. E. Johns, wife of a prominent New York city resident, started for a tour of the big Sentinel dome Monday. At nightfall she had not returned, and this morning a relief party was organized and headed by James Potter, a hotel proprietor, she was found in the Sentinel crevasse in a semi-unconscious condition.

Her escape from a frightful death is wonderful. She had fallen a distance of 300 feet from the crevasse walls and had partially broken her fall by catching at scrub trees as she plunged through their branches. When the rope had been lowered, Potter descended to examine the ground and determine the best way to get Mrs. Johns from her perilous position.

He found her lodged upon a two-foot ledge, with her clothing torn to fragments and her flesh scratched and bruised. She was weak from exhaustion and lack of food and benumbed by the frosty night. With difficulty the rope was securely tied around Mrs. Johns' waist and an effort made to help her to the rim above.

By leaning over the abrupt precipice Potter could discern another ledge 100 feet below, from which was a sheer drop of 100 feet. He determined to try this plan of rescue. Giving the order to those above to lower the rope, Potter swung the woman out from the small strip of rock upon which she had braced herself for 15 hours, and by swinging the rope to and fro he was able to lodge the body of Mrs. Johns on the larger ledge. He then descended himself. One of the mountain guides also descended and the two carried the woman around dangerous ledges and yawning precipices until they reached the rim above.

Mrs. Johns is suffering much from nervous shock, but as no bones were fractured she will recover. She expected to start soon for Japan. Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Quinte of Los Angeles, friends of Mrs. Johns, who accompanied her here, returned home a few days ago.

JUDGE IS DETERMINED TO SUPPRESS THE MAFIA

Frequent Stabbing and Shooting in New York Due to Its Machinations.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 14.—Publicly denouncing the Mafia secret society, Judge Aspinall in the Kings county court today emphatically declared his intention of suppressing the organization in Brooklyn if law and imprisonment could do so.

Brooklyn has many Mafia members. Shootings more or less serious among the Italian population are a matter of almost daily occurrence. Today Antonio Formica died in the Long Island college hospital from the effects of a bullet wound.

In court Delmonico Calabur was found guilty today by a jury of slashing with a razor Felice Amodie, until recently a member of the mounted police of Calabria, Italy. The prisoner said simply, "I was sent to do it."

Amodie arrived in this country on May 21. Four days later he was walking along the street when the prisoner, a stranger, walked up to him and, without speaking, drew a razor with which he attempted to cut Amodie's throat.

"Why did you do this?" Amodie gasped as he fell.

"I had to," he says his assailant replied.

Passengers on Steamer Near Judge Parke's Home Peppered With Birdshot.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 14.—(Special.)—Chief Justice Albion B. Parker, of the court of apeals has a small cannon at "Rosemont," his Esopus residence on the banks of the Hudson, that is sometimes used as a sunset gun and to salute passing steamers.

The gun is never supposed to be loaded with anything but powder. A few evenings since some miscreant put a charge of birdshot in the cannon and when it was fired just as the steamer Romer was in range, some of the passengers were peppered with shot. Nobody was seriously hurt.

WIFE RETURNED HOME WITHOUT THE BOARDER

Annie Wall was last night committed to jail in default of bail by Justice of the Peace G. W. Giles of Munhall, on a charge of desertion, made by her husband, Michael Wall. The couple kept a boarding house at Munhall and the woman is alleged to have departed with a boarder, leaving her five children and her husband. She returned after a five weeks' absence, but without the boarder, and the husband then made the information against her. She is held for court.

TIN PLATE MILLS ARE CROWDED WITH ORDERS

New Castle and Sharon Plants Will Have No Summer Vacation This Year.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 14.—Exports of wire and wire nails and pipe continue heavy and the month of July is expected to show not less than 12,000 tons of these finished products sent to foreign countries by the United States Steel Corporation in addition to the heavy home consumption. The rush of orders in the tin plate trade of the Steel Corporation insures its mills running practically all season, with an unusually brief summer shutdown.

Right now is the beginning of the dull season, but the American Tin Plate Company at New Castle, Pa., and the plants of the Steel Corporation at Sharon, Pa., the largest tin plate works in the world, will have to work steadily throughout the summer to keep up with orders. The production of tin plate for the calendar year will surpass all previous records. Premiums of from 20 to 35 cents a box are now being paid for plates for immediate delivery. The production of tin plates this year may reach 400,000 tons, as compared with 302,665 tons in 1900, 399,291 in 1901 and 366,000 in 1902.

EARLY CLOSING MOVEMENT FAILED IN WILKINSBURG

The early-closing movement is a failure in Wilkinsburg. The merchants tried closing on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 6 o'clock for one week. It was unsatisfactory to some. They broke away from the agreement, which resulted in all keeping open last night until customers failed to come. As this is the fourth time such a plan failed in Wilkinsburg, it is not believed that another attempt will be made for some time to come.

INJURED ENDEAVORERS WILL QUICKLY RECOVER

DENVER, COL., July 14.—Those injured by the collapsing of Tent Endeavor in a windstorm yesterday afternoon, are reported to be resting easily and all, it is believed, will quickly recover. The tent, which was 280 feet long by 180 wide, and 56 feet high in the center, was owned by the United Society of Christian Endeavors and was sent here from Boston. It is a complete wreck. An experienced circus canvasman says the construction of the tent was faulty.

Bridge Appropriation Defeated.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The board of aldermen today defeated the appropriation of $6,538,000 for the new Manhattan bridge by 41 noes to 23 ayes. It needed 40 negative votes to defeat the appropriation. The proposed bridge was to connect Manhattan and Brooklyn.

WOMEN WORKING TO UNSEAT SMOOT

Campaign Against the Mormon Senator Will Be Pushed With Vigor.

SENTIMENT TO BE AROUSED

Various Plans Are Under Consideration for Raising the Sinews of War—Appeal to Women's Clubs Is Probable—Miss Helen Gould Will Help.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.

The campaign which has for its object the unseating of Reed Smoot, the Mormon senator from Utah, is being carried forward with a vim. The movement is led by the National Women's Christian Temperance union. A committee has been appointed to look after this work especially, and that they are doing their work effectively is shown by the statement of Senator Burrows of Michigan, chairman of the senate committee on privileges and elections, who recently said that he was receiving daily letters from all parts of the country urging that means be taken to vacate the seat of Senator Smoot. From now on the mail of Senator Burrows will grow heavier every day and by the time congress assembles in November the movement will have reached its height.

The W. C. T. U. is being assisted in the fight by the Inter-Denominational Women's Council of New York, of which Mrs. Darwin R. James is president. This organization has already held several meeting to discuss the subject and to plan ways and means for effective work. The plan proposed and the one which will likely be adopted for raising the sinews of war will be to send out a general appeal asking every women's organization in the country to contribute one dollar to the cause. This is a small contribution to ask for but when the great number of women's clubs, missionary societies, sewing societies, etc., that exist in every part of the United States is taken into consideration, it will be seen that if the response is at all general, there will be no difficulty in securing a fund of $50,000. Besides this, Miss Helen Gould and other wealthy women are interested in the campaign and they will probably make generous donations for carrying on the work. The plan, in brief, is to arouse public sentiment to such a pitch that Christian people in every state will send letters and petitions to their senators urging them to vote to expel Smoot from the senate.

MAJORITY FOR THE ORDINANCE

Abolition of the Delinquent Tax Collector's Office in Allegheny Is Almost Assured.

MANY WIRES BEING PULLED

Wyman and Davidson Trying to Influence Councilman to Vote Against the Measure—Meeting With Little Success in Stemming Tide of Public Will.

The ordinance abolishing the delinquent tax office will be passed in Allegheny select council this afternoon under suspension of the rules. Of the 15 members of the branch, 11 are pledged to the measure. At least three Citizens members will not attend the meeting, and by remaining away will evade putting themselves on record. This, it is said, they are doing under the orders from Mayor Wyman.

Since last Saturday, when a caucus of the members of common branch was held, Wyman has had men canvassing for votes to defeat Councilman Beatty's ordinance. It is known to Wyman and Davidson that 27 of the 41 members of the common branch are pledged to vote for the ordinance, the majority of them having their names affixed to a pledge drawn up by those fathering the bill.

Realizing that with a legal majority at the meeting of common council tomorrow night the passage of the ordinance is assured, Wyman and Davidson have been using every expedient to persuade members to remain away from the meeting.

Several of them have been offered transportation to any point on the map if they will but leave the city before the meeting tomorrow night. Up until last night, so far as could be learned, not one of those pledged to support the ordinance had consented to take advantage of this free transportation.

Among those working for Davidson under Wyman orders are a number of city employes and councilmen, despite the section in the Citizens party contract used during the February campaign which reads:

"We pledge ourselves to support measures that will prevent and punish the levying and collecting of assessments for political purposes from public employes, and exacting from them political services."

Among others working in Davidson's interests is Superintendent of Police M. H. Campbell, who is using his influence on councilmen simply because of his friendship for the mayor. Councilman Charles J. Spicer of the Second ward was seen yesterday by Superintendent Campbell. Spicer is strongly in favor of abolishing the office, despite the fact that he is a neighbor of Davidson's and was elected on the ticket with Wyman last February. After his conversation with Superintendent Campbell yesterday Spicer said:

"I will not be influenced to oppose the ordinance, nor will I stay away from the meeting of the common branch on Thursday night. I am pledged with the others elected with me last February to abolish all unnecessary offices and to support all legislation that will inure to the best interests of the taxpayers, and I am not going to evade my duty. I shall be at the meeting and vote to pass the ordinance abolishing the delinquent tax office."

DAUGHTER FINDS MOTHER; WIDOW WANTS A FORTUNE

Two Romances in Real Life Embodied in Letters Sent to the Police.

Mrs. Bessie Nelson of Chicago, the national organizer of the Daughters of Columbia sent a letter of thanks to Superintendent of Police McTighe, which was received yesterday., for what he did towards finding the mother of an abandoned baby which was left on Mrs. Nelson's doorstep in Decatur, Ill., 19 years ago.

Mrs. Nelson wrote to Supt. McTighe three weeks ago asking him to make an effort to find the child's mother, whose name 19 years ago was Mrs. Charles Hoffman. She said that the latter's husband had been working in Decatur and Mrs. Hoffman had sent her children to him. One of them was only six weeks old and was left at Mrs. Nelson's door. The latter was then a Miss Phillips, and she prevailed on her parents to keep the baby. Her letter to the superintendent was published, and yesterday her letter said the mother had been found at Monaca through the publication. The abandoned baby is now a woman 19 years old who is overjoyed to learn that her mother is still alive.

Mrs. Mary J. Wilke of No. 1002 Ferry street Lafayette, Ind., wrote to the superintendent yesterday and asked him to make inquiry as to the truth of a story she saw in a newspaper of the sale of coal land for a fortune near Pittsburgh. The land, she says, was owned by the heirs of George Wilke,, who was the great grandfather of her husband, Martin Wilke. The latter has been dead seven years, and she says he left her penniless and that she had to sell her furniture to bury him. She says she is a lone widow in poor health and has a hard time to get along, and that if anybody needs a fortune it is she.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE OFF.

No Sale of the Howe-Brown Property to the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"The negotiations between the Crucible Steel Company of American and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company over the sale of the Howe-Brown property, are off," said President Frank B. Smith of the rCucible company last evening. "A satisfactory arrangement could not be made and I do not look for the sale to be accomplished."

It has been recommended to the executive committee of the Crucible that the Howe-Brown plant be modernized. The present closing down is entirely to take an inventory and make repairs Mr. Smith says.

Crafton to Issue $50,000 Bonds.

At a special election held yesterday the borough of Crafton, by a vote of 236 to 53, decided on a $50,000 bond issue. Of this amount $35,000 will be applied to paving and sewering and the remainder to paying floating debts. The total bond issue of the borough so far amounts to about 4.45 per cent of the total valuation, which is $2,734,000.

LEAVE YOUR FANS AND PARASOLS AT HOME---IT IS COOL AND SHADY AT

KEATING WEST-VIEW, PERRYSVILLE.

People from out-of-town are writing to us, saying: "Tell us all about the bonds you are giving free with Keating West-View Lots."

Some say that the offer seems too wonderful to be true. People do not understand how a corporation can give away bonds designed to earn 5 to 25 per cent premiums and in many cases as much as $100 within four short months. But, nevertheless, that is what these bonds will do when intelligently fostered.

The provisions embraced make it easy for you to earn $100 and often $250.

Another point about the bonds is that they won't run out for two years unless you draw your premiums earlier and thus terminate their existence.

But with all their attractiveness the bonds would not appeal as they do if the real estate with which they are given did not constitute the greatest value increasing city-improved land ever put on any market.

Provisional Premium Bond. hereby agrees to pay

Be one of the new 7,000 Bond holders-

At Perrysville

Why did the well-known millionaires who own the vast Perrysville district get up this bond enterprise? Not because they are anxious to hand out money promiscuously to whomever will hold out his or her hand, but with a view to building up this vast acreage rapidly, so that they will get back the million dollars they're spending for improvements and more money besides.

Stockholders in a giant undertaking like this are not saints any more than you are, but they know human nature and the age in which we live. They understand that you will move to and plant your savings in a place that is beautiful, convenient and profitable; and that when you do this you are helping them. In the end both are helped and Greater Pittsburgh will be greater still.

Pride goes with dollars in this case. The big men of the town are proud to keep their money at work here at home instead of sending it to other cities, and as a result the entire local public is benefited. Shrewd persons who know these gentlemen appreciate this fact. They see that the New Perrysville Short-line Traction Road has opened up a district which will be built up just as grandly and completely as Squirrel Hill and East Liberty.

For this reason the great sale of lots at Keating West-View now in progress, is a marvelous success.

The terms on lots are 5 per cent down; and 2½ per cent per month for balance.

If you pay cash any time within sixty days you get 10 per cent discount from purchase price. The prices on the lots range from $50 to $1,000. You get a premium-earning bond with a $50 lot same as you do on a $1,000 lot. But the $50, $75, $100, $150, $200, $250 and $300 lots will go like a flash. It is to your interest to get out and see where these sensationally-priced lots are situated.

Remember that the New Perrysville Short-Line Cars run directly through the center of the property.

By dodging curves and bends, instead of going out Perrysville Avenue and the plank road, they cut off three miles of distance and all the heavy grades. That's the reason they get to Keating West-View in 25 minutes instead of 45 minutes.

You get the cars which run on the New Perrysville Short-Line on Smithfield Street, at Fifth Avenue. That's where the line begins. Then runs east on Smithfield Street to Seventh Avenue, then to Liberty Avenue, then to Ninth Street, then to Anderson Street in Allegheny, then to Lacock Street, then to Sandusky Street, then to North Avenue, then to East Street, then to Perrysville Avenue and Jake Borne's, where they connect with Riverview Park cars, then across Perrysville Avenue on private rights-of-way to Keating Inn, across the plank road to Keating West-View, opposite the new Ben Avon or County Boulevard, which is macadamized and within 7 to 10 minutes' drive from Bellevue.

THE CARS THAT RUN TO KEATING WEST-VIEW ON THE NEW PERRYSVILLE SHORT-LINE TRACTION ROAD ARE MARKED MADISON AVENUE AND EAST STREET. SOME ARE MARKED PERRYSVILLE (Not Perrysville Avenue). MOST OF THE CARS HAVE STREAMERS ON THE FRONT. We repeat that these cars start on Smithfield Street, at Fifth Avenue.

REMNANT

THE semi-annual accounting of miscellaneous small lots of merchandise that have accumulated during the past season's campaign. Long lines of straggling quantities, brigades of left-over pieces, and the multiplicity of dozens, remnants, yards, pairs, etc., of mussed and soiled goods remaining after the heavy engagements of the many summer sales have met in a final encounter with the price-cutter. It is a policy heeded by this progressive store that we start each season with complete assortments; and the only way to keep stocks ship-shape, clean, fresh and new is not to carry any hold-over goods. Every department manager has received explicit instructions to go through stocks and reduce the present marked prices on all thinned-out, disordered lines without regard to original cost or present desirability of the merchandise. All goods detrimental to the proper reception and display of new incoming goods have been marked at prices that preclude all possibilities of their remaining in our possession.

We'll give you remnants—at remnants of former prices.

This sale will abound with money-saving inducements that'll truly prove a tonic for over-worked pocketbooks.

We caution you to come early.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

New York at Exposition Park.
Boston at Chicago.

The final game of the series between Pittsburgh and Boston was not played yesterday because of the rain.

Notwithstanding the fact that the rain was beating down, fully 200 people had assembled at the park and were hoping that the rain would cease, but they were disappointed and forced to return home without getting a peep at their favorite sport. Calling the game off was to the liking of Manager Al Buckenberger of the Boston team, who is shy on pitching talent just now and who had planned to work Malarkey again. That pitcher was quite willing and thought he had the Pirates' measure after having let them down with six hits on Monday.

Today the New York team will be here to open a series of four games with the champions, and there are a lot of people who are under the impression that there will be all sorts of trouble during the series. This is based on the Bowerman-Clarke incident in New York, but there will be no trouble if the officials of the Pittsburgh club can prevent it, and they are going to do all they can to check any outbreak either on the part of the spectators or the players.

Secretary Locke said yesterday: "I understand that threats have been made, but I think it's all idle talk and that the people who patronize baseball in this city have too much respect for President Pulliam and the game to attempt to create any disorder. So far as Manager Clarke is concerned that New York incident has been passed up and is now in Pulliam's hands. Manager Clarke is the leader of a champion baseball team and is not a rowdy, therefore he will do nothing that will injure the game.

"This idea which seems to prevail with some that something should be done to get even with the New York players is nonsense and would result in a sort of an endless chain of trouble, which would mean rowdyism each time the Giants appear here or the Pirates played in New York. The Pittsburgh club intends to enforce order on its playing field and any attempt at disorder will result in the arrest of the offender and the case will be pushed to the limit. The public of this city has shown that it likes clean baseball under the new conditions established by President Pulliam and that's just the kind of baseball we mean to have."

President Dreyfuss said yesterday that the story sent out from New York on Monday night of a secret meeting having been held by certain of the National league club owners and an agreement to renew the war against the American league, was without the least truth. Dreyfuss firmly believes the stories are being sent out by the American league people, who, he says, were never on the square and are not on the square now.

It leaked out yesterday that Clarke Griffith, manager of the New York American league team which now contains several ex-Pirates, had approached two of this season's team and tried to induce them to sign with his club. The players approached were substitutes and not regular, but the offer was turned down. It is also said these players were approached before any action was taken in the Davis case and it shows that the American league people did not intend living up to the Cincinnati peace agreement.

Manager Clarke said yesterday that his shoulder still bothers him some and it is hardly likely that he will be in today's game against the Giants. Eddie Doheny will be called on to make the first try against his old comrades, and Edward can be relied upon to strain every nerve for a victory.

The hit scored Harley, who had led off with a clean single and reached second on a neat sacrifice by Kling. A low throw to the plate by Chance gave the visitors their only run. Attendance, 1,600. TO SELL THE STARS.

Milwaukee Will Load Up With Cheap Players.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., July 14.—(Special.)—Because of lack of patronage the Milwaukee American association baseball team is to be sold off piecemeal to the highest bidder, and the team, which now leads the association, will be supplanted by an aggregation of much cheaper men. This decision has been reached by Owner Havenor.

Griffith of the New York American team wants Donohue and is willing to pay a good round sum for the Brewers' captain if he can get him now. McAleer of the St. Louis Browns will be only too glad to get hold of Elliott, and has asked that he be given first chance to bid for the Brewers' premier pitcher when the Milwaukee club is ready to let him go. Comiskey has been after Unglaub for some time, and is only waiting for the opportunity to get hold of the clever young third baseman. These are not the only men wanted by the big league.

TO SWIM THE RAPIDS.

New York Swimmer Will Try the Foolhardy Trick.

ITHACA, N. Y., July 14.—(Special.)—J. W. Glenister of New York city, who gained renown as a long-distance swimmer, announced here today that he has just completed arrangements to swim the whirlpool rapids at Niagara during the second week of August. He has chosen the course where Capt. Webb, the famous English swimmer, lost his life in 1885.

Unlike Webb, who depended upon his strength, Glenister says he puts his faith in his wind, and he defies the rapids to keep him under water longer than two minutes at a time. He says he will employ no artificial aid as a safeguard against death.

HEADQUARTERS WILL BE MOVED TO NEW YORK

American League Held Secret Meeting and Move Decided on—The Davis Case Again.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 14.—The leaders of the American league now in New York held a secret meeting tonight at Ban Johnson's apartments at the Criterion hotel, at which it was decided to move the league headquarters from Chicago to this city. There were present at the meeting Ban Johnson, J. Hector Clems of Washington, Charles Comiskey of Chicago and Frank Farrell, secretary-treasurer of the New York Americans.

The conference was devoted entirely to a discussion of a plan of campaign in view of the published statement of President Pulliam and Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh, which President Johnson says is almost a declaration of war. The decision to remove the headquarters was made, so Ban Johnson said, because there was too much misrepresentation from the National league headquarters here and it was thought advisable to have the head of the American league on the ground ready to combat the misleading and false statements, which might not alone injure the league, but also the game. Plans were made for a vigorous campaign against the National league. President Johnson said, "Of course we cannot make these plans public, but I can tell you that we are all together on the proposition to stand absolutely no more nonsense from the National."

There have been several conferences among baseball magnates of the National and American leagues now in this city. The rival magnates did not meet, but each faction knew the other was busy. It was expected that Charles Comiskey would apply for an injunction restraining George Davis from playing with the Giants, but no application was made. Ban Johnson, Harry Pulliam and Charles Comiskey were asked how matters stood, but refused to discuss the trouble. They all admit, however, that a baseball war would prove detrimental to the national game.

In some quarters it was rumored that Mr. Brush has no intention of playing George Davis until he can do so without being enjoined. It even is rumored that the Davis matter may be smoothed over by paying for Davis' release.

JOCKEY HICKS' CLEVER WORK

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 14.—Astarita, with Hicks up, won the Glencove handicap for 3-year-olds at Brighton Beach today. The Bathampton filly was at the good price of 5 to 1 and was well handled by the colored jockey, Hicks. Sir Voorhees was second and Gravina third. The favorite, Eugenia Burch, was off badly and was never dangerous. Minotaur and Astarita raced out in front for half a mile, where Hicks sent Astarita to the front and won easily by two lengths. The time, 1:13 3-5, was good, considering the condition of the track. Tommy Burns carried off the riding honors by piloting two winners. The weather was cool and the track slow. Summaries:

THE CHICAGO RACES.

Three Jockeys Were Set Down by the Judges.

CHICAGO, July 14.—The Edgewater stakes at Washington park today was won by Lonsdale, a 2-year-old colt owned by Clay Bros., of Kentucky. The result was a surprise, Lonsdale being 10 to 1 in the betting and not backed.

Treanor was punished for his work on Arfeo Monday; Henry was set down for cutting across with Batts at the start of the Edgewater stakes today, and Wonderly was set down for fouling Maj. Tenny with Bard of Avon in today's second race. Bard of Avon finished first, but was disqualified and the race given to Maj. Tenny. Summaries:

JOCKEY RYAN DYING.

Assaulted and Robbed of Money Given Him in Return for Race Tips.

CHICAGO, July 14.—(Special.)—Eight thousand dollars won by two prominent women since the beginning of the Washington park races on information given them by Willie Ryan, a former jockey, now employed by the stable of J. E. Cushing, is one of the features that are threaded through a strange case of assault that promises to become a murder. Ryan is now lying at the Englewood hospital with his back broken and doctors say he cannot recover. The names of the young women are known.

Ryan was indirectly led to his probable death by the money that these two women "plungers" gave him for his knowledge. It is believed that Ryan was attacked Sunday by companions, who threw him off the embankment of the Lake Shore tracks at Sixty-second street.

TO FOSTER SPORTS.

Business Men of East End Will Have Half Holiday and Organize Matinee Club.

The business men of East Liberty have recognized the worth of athletic sports. After a thorough canvass of all the business houses of that district it has been decided to close all stores every Wednesday afternoon, which will be a half holiday, and then go to Schenley park to spend the afternoon witnessing and engaging in games. The athletic games will be a permanent affair. It is proposed to organize a Matinee club, with the object of fostering athletic sports of all branches.

A meeting will be held Friday night in the Board of Trade building, Shady avenue, East End. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of William McFarland, W. H. Woods, L. P. Ross, D. Shanahan and John Venholm. The first meet at Schenley will probably be held Wednesday of next week.

Fairbanks Go to Niles.

The Fairbanks leave for Niles, O., this morning, where they meet the team of that town in two games today and Thursday. Diebold, who has been pitching superb ball for the Jamestown (N. Y.) team, will twirl one of the games for the Allegheny boys, while Claffe will officiate in the other. Draher will do the catching. Briney will take care of the position made vacant by Gitzen, who has signed with Greenville. Kommer and Ortlieb, formerly of the Fairbanks, but now with Niles, will probably compose the battery in one of the games against their old team-mates. The following players must report at the Fort Wayne station, Federal street, Allegheny, not later than 8:30 this morning, as the train leaves shortly thereafter: Draher, Claffe, Diebold, Yoedt, Peiffer, Mangold, Briney, Bardelang, Lippert, Hoellerman and Thompson.

BLEW HIS HEAD OFF SHOULDERS

Holm Adler Feared His Wife Was About to Have Him Again Arrested.

HE HAD BEATEN HIS BOY

McKeesport Suicide Fully Identified, but the Cause of His Act Is Still a Mystery—Married and Leaves a Wife and Baby.

Fearing that his wife going to have him arrested for beating his children, Holm M. Adler, 43 years old, of No. 1107 Caughey street, McKees Rocks, committed suicide at his home yesterday afternoon by placing a shotgun between his knees, the muzzle to his face and blowing his head from his shoulders. He died instantly. Adler was employed by the National Brewing Company of McKees Rocks and was intoxicated when he took his life.

Several months ago Adler's wife had him arrested for whipping his children. He was fined and repeated the offense again. Yesterday he returned home and started to whip his son Joseph. The boy's mother interceded and got the child from him. She started out of the house, warning her husband she was going to have him arrested.

"You will never have me arrested," were his last words to her.

Blew Off His Head.

Mrs. Adler started for an officer and Adler went into the kitchen and got the shotgun. He walked into the next room and, placing the muzzle to his face, snapped the trigger with his foot. The contents of the cartridge blew his head from his shoulders. His wife was standing in front of the house when the shot went off. Mrs. Miller, a neighbor, hurried into the house and saw Adler lying on the floor dead.

The dead man's wife refused to have anything to do with his body, and it was turned over to the coroner.

Deputy Coroner Church held an inquest at McKeesport yesterday afternoon into the suicide of Ernest A. Ross, who shot himself in the right temple at the Reidel hotel on Monday evening. He had registered as James Grant, but the name Ross on his shirt collar led to his identification by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Kate Wilson of No. 48 Hazelwood avenue.

Ross was a married man, 23 years old and a sales agent for a local music house. Mrs. Wilson said he and his wife took a trip together through Ohio a month ago, and last Sunday Mrs. Ross came home, leaving her husband at Steubenville, where he had some business to do.

Wanted His Wife Notified.

She could not give any reason for his act, but thought he contemplated it, as a friend of his wife received a note from him yesterday that he wrote on Monday asking her to tell his wife that he meant to kill himself. The friend showed the note to Mrs. Wilson, but because Mrs. Ross is sick she did not tell her, and Mrs. Wilson went to McKeesport to see if the James Grant mentioned was her brother-in-law, Ross.

The proprietor of the hotel said Ross was perfectly sober when he went to the hotel in the afternoon. He told the proprietor he was selling goods at the carnival now going on there. Two hours after he went to his room a shot was heard and Ross was found dead. The jury returned a verdict of suicide.

Ross lived at No. 48 Hazelwood avenue, where he has a wife and a child 6 months old.

W. G. Geering, 23 years old, of Elizabeth, was killed yesterday by falling between freight cars at the Clairton steel works at Clairton, where he was employed as a brakeman. His body was sent to Elizabeth.

The body of an unknown man was found in Brush creek near Perrysville, yesterday.

SISTER GOES TO JAIL; BROTHER GETS MARRIED

Allegheny Girl Steals That She May Give a Hadsome Wedding Present.

The desire of a sister to give a brother a wedding present, last night, resulted in her landing in jail on a charge of larceny, also the brother on a charge of interfering with an officer. Annie Bonn was taken to jail for stealing some silverware from her employer, S. L. Schwitzer of Preble avenue, who made information against her before Alderman David Thomas of Allegheny. Constable Harry Bizarth attempted to take the girl out of the house just as the wedding ceremonies were about to take place. Her brother, Yonenty Bonn interfered and struck the constable in the face. He was promptly arrested and taken to jail with his sister. Later he was released on bail and went to his home and was married. His sister was compelled to remain in jail during the night. Both will be arraigned for a hearing this morning.

Annie Bonn was employed as a servant in the Schwitzer house. She told her brother she intended to make him a present at his wedding. Monday night, it is alleged she went to her employer's home and took a quantity of silverware. Last night she was about to present it to her brother and his bride when the constable stepped in and arrested her. She pleaded with her brother that there was some mistake and he attempted to rescue her.

Yonenty struck Constable Bizarth in the face, knocking him down. The men clinched and rolled over the floor. The bridegroom was overpowered and taken to jail with his sister. When received at the jail he was attired in his wedding clothes, which were ruffled and covered with blood. Ball was immediately presented and he returned to his bride and was married, while his sister remained in jail.

QUICK CHANGE ON SOUTH SIDE

Superintendent of Hospital, Deposed Six Weeks Ago, Was Reelected by New Directorate.

DR. BARCHFELD IS PRESIDENT

Institution Experiences Radical Changes in Management as Well as Other Departments—Doctors Replace Others Retired from the Staffs.

Another change in the management of the South Side hospital was made last night. A. D. Lloyd, a former superintendent, was re-elected in place of W. B. Chambers, who has been serving as superintendent for some weeks. Dr. A. J. Barchfeld is the president of the new board of directors. Several members were of the surgical and medical staff, prominent among them being Dr. W. T. Burleigh and Dr. G. P. Rossman, who were not reappointed. These radical changes are the result of the contributors' election a week ago, when five new directors were chosen.

Fourteen members of the board of directors were there when the meeting was called to order last night, the fifteenth member, Daniel Beech, being in New York. The new members present were Dr. W. H. Weber, Dr. C. H. Hertzog, William A. Larimer, John J. McTiernan and Dr. J. P. Kerr. They took the places of John Gray, John H. Sorg, Edward Eller, W. E. Sankey and Dr. J. D. Criss.

The new board was organized by the election of Dr. A. J. Barchfeld as president, Dr. W. H. Kirk as vice president, Dr. Christopher C. Hersman as secretary and Dr. William H. Weber as treasurer.

Superintendent Chambers' term under the rules expired yesterday and there was no other candidate but A. D. Lloyd, who was deposed six weeks ago from the superintendency of the hospital. Only four members voted against him last night. Mr. Chambers is a man of means, so that his retirement will cause him no financial worry.

Dr. Barchfeld was elected to take the place of Dr. J. D. Criss on the medical staff. The others who remain on the staff are Dr. M. F. Creaven, Dr. R. H. Phillips and Dr. Hersman. Dr. G.P. Rossman and Dr. W. T. Burleigh were retired from the surgical staff and their places were taken by Dr. W. H. Weber and Dr. C. H. Hertzog. The other members of that staff are Dr. J. P. Kerr and Dr. J. Milton Duff. Dr. Duff was elected to act with Dr. Kerr on the gynecological staff.

MORE SMALLPOX CASES.

Investigating As to Spread of Disease to Commence Next Week.

Twelve new cases of smallpox were reported to the bureau of health in this city yesterday and two deaths from the disease are reported in the county. During the past three days, including vesteday, 37 cases have been reported to the bureau of health. The special councilmanic committee on the disease will meet some time next week, meanwhile conducting their investigations.

Controller Larkin stated yesterday that as soon as the Pennsylvania railroad ordinances were settled in councils an earnest effort will be made to investigate smallpox conditions in Pittsburgh. He said he wished to ascertain whether proper methods are being employed to prevent the spread of the disease. The matter will be sifted to the bottom, he said.

Richard Curran, 33 years old, of No. 1206 Braddock avenue, Braddock, died of smallpox in the borough pesthouse yesterday morning, after apparently being on the road to recovery. He had been in the pesthouse since July 5th. Yesterday morning he ate a large breakfast and talked cheerfully of the time when he should be free. As he rose from the table he had a fainting fit, lapsed into unconsciousness and died as the nurse laid him on the bed. He is survived by an aged mother and two little neices.

The death of Robert Bond, 3 years old, occurred yesterday from smallpox, after being three days in the municipal hospital.

IN HIDING SEVEN YEARS.

Vance Wilson, Tennessee Feudist, Concealed by Faithful Wife, Finally Caught.

NASHVILLE, TENN., July 14.—(Special.)—Vance Wilson, a fugitive from justice for killing his father-in-law, Franklin Odom, in Cannon county, is in jail here. His crime, a political tragedy, started a feud which cost seven lives. Though many of the parties to it are dead, Wilson's arrest has fanned the embers, making county jails unsafe places of confinement.

In 1881, Cannon county was in the throes of a hot political contest. Wilson and Odom were on opposing sides. An altercation ended in Odom's death and Wilson's arrest. Shortly afterward friends surrounded the jail and released him. The past seven years were spent, it develops, at home, his faithful wife effecting his concealment. Officers within the last few days obtained a clue and arrested him at night at his home.

GIBBONS HAS POWER TO CONTROL CONCLAVE

Although American Cardinal May Not Get a Vote for Himself He Can Dictate Election of Pontiff.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, July 14.—Cardinal Matthieu, in discussing with me today the question of an American pope, said:

"Cardinal Gibbons is being reproached with being too democratic. He drives in a common cab without the red umbrella in his hand. This is not like the cardinals of Rome, who drive in a carriage. The Roman curia is very formal and a great stickler for etiquette.

"Now Cardinal Gibbons may not draw a vote, but this will not prevent his exercising great influence in the election of a pontiff, because his colleagues recognize America as likely to lead the world in religious movement. They will shy at giving the vote for an American pope, but will yield to an impulse of an American in the selection of a new pope. It is a tradition in the sacred college never to break completely with the spirit of the age, but on the other hand, never to take the initiative, but accept the circumstances of a situation though created by others.

"Hence, though Cardinal Gibbons may not attain the tiara, his candidate will have an excellent chance of election because he will rally round him not only some Roman cardinals, but many of the foreign. If Cardinal Gibbons wishes he will be the great elector of the conclave.

"There will not be much difficulty about the inheritance of the pope's private estate, because contrary to the general belief, Leo leaves less money in the vatican treasury than he found there. Some bad speculations have been made and losses suffered. The Italian law does not recognize the power to inherit as in the pontifical court. However, the desire is to avoid all difficulties with the government.

"It is especially desired to avoid the scenes which characterized the funeral of Pius IX., when the excited rabble tried to throw his coffin into the Tiber.

The only question tonight is how many hours separate the pope from eternity. Obviously the begining of the end has come. The marvelous intellect which has been astonishing the world for half a century is shattered. The pontiff's brilliant eyes are dimmed and his words are incomprehensible, except during lucid intervals which are becoming rarer and rarer. Among foreigners the most assiduous inquirers for news of the pontiff are King Edward and Archbishop Farley. Archbishop Stonor calls twice a day in the name of King Edward and a daily telegram comes from Archbishop Farley.

Last night for the first time the word "peril" was used in the bulletins. Today for the first time the pope took nothing but a glas of tokay, the gift of the Austrian emperor.

The smallnes of the fortune to be left to the church under his will is accounted for by the pontiff having spent enormous sums on Leonine college and in multiplying colleges and seminaries for the propagation of the faith. Leo spent vast sums in an effort to bring Christian churches in the orient into communion.

Some prelates tonight are preparing to leave the vatican. Cardinal Rampolla, after 16 years in office, is preparing to quit the vatican the instant the pope dies. It appears most probable that Cardinal Gotti will be elected pope and Rampolla continued as secretary of state. Russia favors Rampolla for pope.

For the first time tonight in the halls of the vatican one hears whispered praises that the pope has reached his earthly end. He has commenced to lose his sight and his memory is waning. He scarcely recognizes anybody and the words he utters are unintelligible. Optimism has fled and we await the inevitable.

MARQUIS DE CASTELLANE.

SCRUPULOUS HONESTY REQUIRED OF OFFICERS

Lieut. McCarthy's Sentence of Dismissal Is Approved by the President.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The president has approved the action of the court-martial in the case of Second Lieutenant John F. McCarthy, Nineteenth infantry, convicted of duplicating pay accounts and sentenced to be dismissed from the army.

In announcing the president's action Secretary Root says: "Young officers are reminded that the avoidance of debt, a rigorous economy in expenditure and a scrupulous regard for pecuniary obligations are absolutely essential to good standing in the military service, and departures from the standard of probity in that regard will not be lightly regarded by the war department."

COURTSHIP BY MAIL ENDED IN MARRIAGE

Joseph E. Buchtel of Canton, O., Secures Wife Through an Advertisement.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 14.—Joseph E. Buchtel of Canton, O., and Miss Ella Purdue were married at Sweet Water on the arrival of the groom whom she had never before seen. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Grant Grubb at the residence of the bride's mother a prominent woman of Sweet Water, a thriving town 45 miles west of this city.

The groom is staid to be a man of some prominence in Canton. The marriage was the result of an advertisement in a newspaper some time since by Buchtel soliciting correspondence with some woman with a view to matrimony. Mr. and Mrs. Buchtel left today for Canton amid a shower of rice, good wishes and congratulations.

Italian Blown to Pieces.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Donati Vaneti, watchman for a Williams bridge contractor, was blown into fragments by an explosion of dynamite tonight. He was collecting tools and throwing them into a box. It is supposed there were dynamite sticks in the box and that the concussion caused them to explode. Vaneti's head and trunk were thrown 75 feet up the road and his limbs were found a hundred feet away in different directions.

STORM BREAKS UP CARNIVAL

Fierce Gale of Wind and Rain Almost Caused a Panic at McKeesport.

15,000 PEOPLE WERE PRESENT

While Big Canvas Tent Was Overflowing With Amusement Seekers It Was Suddenly Brought to the Ground—Loss Estimated at $300.

Wind and rain put a sudden end to McKeesport's carnival for the evening and caused about $300 damage to property connected with the big show last night. The attendance during the evening was the largest since the carnival opened and it was estimated that fully 15,000 people were on the ground. Shortly after 8 o'clock last night, when about 3,500 electric lights had been turned on, turning night into day for over a stretch of six blocks along the Youghiogheny river, a fierce wind and rain storm suddenly blew up and the great crowd of pleasure seekers made a rush for shelter, causing a stampede.

Although the largest tent on the ground under which the minstrel show was in progress was crowded to overflowing when the storm came up, no one was hurt in the race for shelter when the big canvas was suddenly lifted from the poles, and with ropes and lines came down with a terrible crash. Falling poles threatened the fleeing people, but after the storm died down it was ascertained that no one had been injured. Considerable excitement was caused by a rumor that a child had been struck by one of the falling poles and was still under the big canvas. This was found to be untrue when workmen raised the tent.

When the center pole fell no one was under the canvas and the manager last night stated that he would have the damage repaired in time to continue the show this evening. The carnival lost about $200 through the wrecking of the tent and stands.

The tent known as "Under the Red Dome" was also brought down by the wind and the loss on this feature was about $100. A number of the smaller tents were also damaged and several amusements were put out of business for the evening.

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST MASTEN

Official of Railway Mail Service Alleged to Have Solicited a Bribe.

ASKED PAY FOR PROMOTION

Government Employe Says Masten Offered to Reinstate Him for $50 Down and $8 or $10 a Month—More Developments Expected.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The postoffice inspectors are investigating charges made against John M. Masten, now assistant superintendent of the railway mail service and formerly chief clerk of the first assistant postmaster general's office. A man named Terry, now in the government service, has made an affidavit before the inspectors alleging that Masten, while chief clerk to the first assistant, proposed that Terry pay him $50 down and $8 or $10 a month to secure reinstatement in a former position in Masten's bureau.

Terry charges that he was originally a $600 employe in the dead letter office; that he was removed under an order of Masten and put into the city postoffice; that he protested, and finally that Masten suggested his getting an outside party, a close friend of Masten and a former employe of the postal service, to help him. The affidavit alleges that Masten gave Terry assurance that if he paid the amount mentioned he could get back; that he went to Masten's house about the matter, but did not pay the money. Terry charges that subsequently he made an affidavit making these charges and handed it to Masten to present to First Assistant Postmaster General Johnson, and that the affidavit did not reach Johnson. According to the charges, Masten subsequently was asked by Terry for the affidavit and refused to return it, and Terry thereupon placed the information before the civil service commission, who took up the matter with the president.

The federal grand jury is considering several important postoffice cases which are expected to prove of widespread interest. Postmaster General Payne said this afternoon that he expected there would be some important news during his absence on his trip along the coast, and that he expected the grand jury would furnish some interesting developments.

The resignation of George A. C. Christiancy, who was given a leave of absence as law clerk of the department, shortly after the sensational rifling of the assistant attorney general's safe by Mrs. Tyner, has been under discussion at the department, but there will be no final action before Postmaster General Payne's return. Mr. Payne will leave here tomorrow morning and will be aboard the revenue cutter while it makes its regular cruise, which will extend as far as Boston and possibly up to the Maine coast. He said tonight that he had not made his vacation plans yet, but that he would like to revisit Poland Springs, Me., if possible. He expects to be away most of August.

The report of the inspectors in the case of the General Manifolding Company of Franklin, Pa., has not yet been submitted to the postmaster general.

Paul Herman of Rutherford, N. J., who has been awarded the money order contract by the postoffice department, will be here tomorrow to sign the contract and make the final arrangements. The first delivery under the contract will be in September.

RESPECT AMERICAN FLAG.

Priest Raises Stars and Stripes to Afford Him Protection in South America.

SOLEDAD, VENEZUELA, July 14.—A boat bearing United States and parliamentary truce flags left Ciudad Bolivar and crossed the Orinocco to La Solina. President Castro's authorities received the emissary, a priest, who said he came in the name of foreign consuls, the bishops and leading trades to ask Gen. Gomez, the government commander, to receive him tomorrow, saying he had an important message for him.

Learning that Gen. Gomez was not at Soledad the priest departed, promising to return. The Associated Press correspondent questioned him concerning his reasons for hoisting the nited States flag, as he was not an American. The priest replied: "Because the flag of the United States is respected everywhere." The priest refused to reveal the object of his mission.

Last night the man-of-war Bolivar, with Gen. Gomez aboard, arrived here. As she passed before Ciudad Bolivar she was fired upon, but without effect. The Bolivar anchored two miles above the city and placed herself in contact with the besieging government troops.

TWO GIRLS CHASTISE OBSTINATE PREACHER

They Horsewhip Him Until He Consents That Their Brother Marry His Pretty Daughter.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

TOLEDO, July 14.—The Rev. Martin Harris, a Baptist preacher in the Matamoras district, has been the victim of some very strenuous experiences brought about by his own obstinacy. He has a very pretty daughter, Minnie, who, since the death of her mother some years ago, has looked after the household affairs of the little family. In time she plighted her troth, conditionally, to a very worthy young man named Harvey Carter, who, with his parents and two elder sisters, lived in the neighborhood. Minnie, however, told him that she would not marry him without her father's consent. Carter finally plucked up courage enough to make a formal request of the minister for his daughter's hand.

The Rev. Mr. Harris told the youth that his daughter's duty was to take care of her father during his declining years, and that while he was not an old man yet, he would be some day, and would need his daughter's care and attention.

The young man is the idol of his two elder sisters, who had been watching matters, and despite his protests, they determined to take a hand. Last evening, just about dusk, the two Carter girls intercepted Harris just as he was about entering his own yard. He refused to give them his consent to the match.

Drawing a long mulewhip from beneath the folds of her dress, the eldest Carter girl brought it with terrific force across the neck and shoulders of the divine. Before he could recover from his astonishment the other sister struck him about the legs with another whip, and for a moment the blows rained thick and fast upon the dominie until he fairly howled for mercy.

The sisters renewed their request for consent to his daughter's marriage to their brother and he attempted to argue the question. Swish went the whips again about the preacher's thinly clad nether extremities. Again and again the lash caught him, until finally he pleaded so hard that they desisted the punishment, but continued their demands until he promised everything they asked.

The wedding is to take place in August.

BATTLE ROYAL IS PROMISED

Kentucky Republican State Convention Which Meets Today Will Be Most Exciting.

DARK HORSE FOR GOVERNOR

Fierce Struggle Being Waged Between Three Candidates for Gubernatorial Honors—Belknap's Claim of Nomination Said to Be Doubtful.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LOUISVILLE, July 14.—Owing to the fierce struggle between two Louisville candidates for governor the Republican state convention, which will open in Louisville tomorrow afternoon, promises to be exciting. The situation has apparently reached a place where the nomination of a dark horse will follow the failure of the Belknap forces to win on the first two ballots.

There are three avowed candidates in the field—Col. Morris B. Belknap, a Louisville merchant; the Hon. E. Augustus Willson, a Louisville lawyer, and Judge Clifton J. Pratt, attorney general of Kentucky. The Belknap leaders claim the nomination of their candidate on the first ballot, his strength being estimated at from 900 to 1,200 of the 2,270 votes in the convention.

The state central committee met tonight and selected Maj. William C. Owens as temporary chairman. John W. Yerkes has been offered the permanent chairmanship, but it is understood that he desires to head the committee on resolutions, in order that Roosevelt's interests may be looked after.

There is a fairly sized element which opposes an indorsement of President Roosevelt's candidacy at this time; but as it is part of the Belknap strength it is not believed that the anti-administration men will jeopardize the chances of their candidate by opposing the Roosevelt resolutions. The resolutions, in-so-far as they concern the tariff and trust questions, will be of the "stand pat" flavor, the sentiment on this point being practically unanimous.

FIVE MEN ARE DEAD.

Railroad Wrecks in the West Killed Members of Train Crews and Live Stock.

DES MOINES, IOWA, July 14.—A head-on collision between a passenger and freight train on the Great Western railroad near Savannah, Mo., early today resulted in the death of Fireman Stewart and Engineer Brownfield of Des Moines, and seriously injured several others.

POPLAR BLUFF, MO., July 14.—A freight wreck occurred on the Iron Mountain railroad near here today and two brakeman, a negro tramp and 35 carloads of horses and mules were killed. A box car jumped the track, wrecked the Little Missouri river bridge, and the 35 cars of stock and the men fell 40 feet.

PERSONALS

H. W. Meadows of Liverpool, Eng., passed through the city last night on his way to Chicago. He is engaged in lace manufacturing. He said: "England at one time worked more cotton and silks into fabrics than any other country. Nottingham was recognized throughout the world as being the lace city. A number of years ago nearly all the lace machines were imported to New Jersey, and since that time that city has claimed the distinction that formerly belonged to Nottingham. The increased facilities for transporting the raw cotton to England and the numerous troubles with the workmen in New Jersey has resulted in England manufacturing a large amount of fabrics."

Henry G. Trimble of Cleveland spent yesterday in Pittsburgh, leaving last night for Greensburg. Before boarding the train at the Union station he said: "The cloth manufacturing mills in Cleveland are running to their full capacity. The fall styles of material will differ very little from those worn last year. Some of the patterns turned out last season will be made thicker and more durable. A new pattern is generally made thin until it is proved it gives satisfaction."

S. J. Merkel of St. Louis said last night that the fair grounds had suffered very little on account of the heavy rains. The disputes between the workmen and contractors retarded the construction work considerably, but since the differences have been adjusted much progress has been made.

Clarence E. Rowan, night clerk at the Anderson, left last night for a ten-days' trip to Cleveland and Detroit.

NAVY OFFICERS ROYALLY TREATED

Admiral Cotton Much Pleased With Cordial Reception in England.

VISIT COMES TO A CLOSE

American Squadron Will Steam Out of British Waters Today and Proceed to Lisbon—Friendly Relations Between Two Countries Are Strengthened.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PORTSMOUTH, ENGLAND, July 14.—With the reception given on board Rear Admiral Cotton's flagship Kearsarge, the official visit of the American squadron terminated. The royal yacht Victoria and Albert will leave Portsmouth harbor tomorrow and receive the salutes of the warships as they steam out. On Friday, when outside Spithead, Admiral Cotton will transfer his flag to the Chicago and proceed with the San Francisco and Machias to Lisbon, while the Kearsarge will begin her speed trial across the Atlantic.

"Our reception in England has been most cordial and enthusiastic," said Admiral Cotton. "Nothing could exceed the courtesy extended to us on all sides, from the king and prince of Wales, the officials of the government and the officers of the army and navy to the people of London and Portsmouth. I have no doubt that the result of the visit of the American squadron will prove beneficial in the extreme and that it will tend to strengthen the cordial relations which have long existed between the two countries."

Admiral Cotton is highly gratified at the receipt of a photograph from the prince of Wales bearing the inscription: "George, Portsmouth, July 14, 1903."

Admiral Cotton and the other officers give Capt. Hemphill all the honor for the part played by the Kearsarge, whose presence contributed in such a remarkable degree to the success of the visit.

"We have been killed with kindness," said Capt. Hemphill. "Our reception could not have been better in any shape or form. I had the pleasure of meeting people in the English service whom I have not seen for many years, among others that charming officer, Capt. Bayly, whom I met before when in England, through the order of the late Queen Victoria in doing honor to America by assigning one of her best ironclads to convey the remains of the philanthropist, George Peabody, to Portland.

"It is impossible to express our appreciation of the courtesies shown us and we are deeply indebted, especially to Admiral Sir Charles F. Hotham, commander-in-chief at Portsmouth, Capt. Arbuthnot and Capt. Sir Archibald Milne."

Another honor which was commented on by the English visitors was the action of Admiral Hotham in permitting the use of the royal gangway during the afternoon's reception, which was attended by 2,000 persons.

WILL TEST KEARSARGE.

Big Battleship's Speed Will Be Tried in Run Across the Ocean.

PORTSMOUTH, ENGLAND, July 14.—Captain Hemphill of the United States flagship Kearsarge, received instructions today to go at the highest speed with natural draught to Frenchman Bay, Me. This is the first occasion in time of peace that an American battleship has been subjected to such a severe test.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(Special.)—Information of the most important nature is to be obtained by the navy department in the speed test of the battleship Kearsarge from Porsmouth, England, to Frenchman Bay, on the coast of Maine. The action of her boilers and engines is to be particularly noted and reported upon for the information of the bureau of steam engineering. The trip will undoubtedly have some bearing upon the settlement of the boiler question now before the board of construction. It is expected that she will lower all records for ships of her class.

STORM DID MUCH DAMAGE IN WASHINGTON COUNTY

Large Amount of Farm Property Destroyed and One Woman Seriously Injured.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., July 14.—A destructive storm of a cyclonic nature swept over West Finley township late last night causing thousands of dollars' worth of damage to property of all kinds and resulting in the injury of one woman.

Shortly before dark a funnel-shaped cloud descended, advancing at a terrible rate of speed. The path of the storm was extremely narrow and heavy rain immediately followed it. Trees, grain, buildings and fences were lifted in the air by the awful storm and carried for long distances. Not a dwelling house was in the path of the storm although it narrowly missed several.

Mrs. W. H. Potter was caught in the edge of the storm as she was returning from the barn to her home, and was carried several hundred yards and dropped in a wheat field. She was terribly bruised, but will recover. The streams in the southwestern part of the county overflowed.

The chief amusement during the two days will be furnished by a string of racing goats. Handicaps have been arranged and a swift track is expected, but without betting.

"Tom" Kilkeary and "Ed" Friel will bring the goats to the park in a special car at 10 o'clock this morning. The animals will be tethered in a conspicuous place until the races in the afternoon. "Tim" Hurst of Irish "Ping-Pong" fame came up from Cincinnati yesterday prepared to expound a few of the latest ideas about this popular attraction. John J. Giltinan, chairman of sports and amusements, has in readiness numerous new features. Father Lynch and Chairman J. C. Reilly wish it understood that there is to be no soliciting for chances. Dinners will be served at all hours, but a special effort in the way of a menu will be made between 6 and 7:30 of each afternoon.

Those in charge of the affair hope to realize $20,000, and they have prepared accordingly.

TO PREACH IS NOT THE WAY TO TEACH

Jewish Chautauqua at Atlatic City Hears an Instructive Address on Deep Subject.

INSTRUCTION IN SCHOOLS

Rev. Dr. J. B. Grossman of Youngstown, O., Points Out Common Errors Made by Inexperienced Pedagogues—Peculiarities of a Child's Mind Described.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 14.

The Rev. Dr. J. B. Grossman of Youngstown, O., read a paper on "A Method of Differentiating Religious from Secular Instruction" at the Jewish Chautauqua assembly this morning. The paper is intended to show that the chief points whereby religious instruction is differentiated from secular consist in unlikeness of aim, of subject matter, and of method of teaching. After dwelling at length upon the former two points, the speaker continued in part as follows:

"It is not my purpose to engage in a criticism of secular instruction as generally in vogue in our country. I take the system at its best, assuming effective methods for imparting valuable knowledge and the necessary skill in the use of the knowledge acquired. The teacher who employs such a method for religious instruction has hardly begun to teach. There was, in deed, a time when people believed that a broad knowledge of religion was equivalent to piety. This belief, plausible enough in ages of faith, is now generally repudiated. From the modern point of view a man may have a very comprehensive knowledge of religion without that knowledge exercising much influence over his life. A more careful analysis of the phenomena of the mind has taught us that the state of the intellect is something quite different from the state of the inclinations and the will. Religious instruction involves more than a strengthening of the purely cognitive elements of the mind. Our aim is to reach ethical motives, to develop religious sympathies, to educate the will. We cannot be satisfied with a mere knowledge, as a child knows grammar or arithmetic. The knowledge we have to impart must be felt and realized in the affections; and not merely felt and realized in the affections, as a child may rejoice in a display of beautiful fireworks, but felt as a permanent motive power in conduct. To teach religion by purely secular methods, treating the pupils as 'little empty vessels,' waiting for the knowledge to be 'poured in,' is in the proper sense no religious instruction at all; its value, so far as ethical training is concerned, being significantly summed up by President Hadley of Yale university, who tells us: 'Any attempt to make information take the place of discipline is a menace to our national life for a generation to come.'

"Of course it would be idle to deny that the notoriously inefficient method of teaching prevailing in our religious schools has not escaped criticism or that attempts have not been made to improve it. But to improve on wrong lines, such as introducing more elaborate archaeological, literary and esthetic comment, does not mend matters; it only aggravates the evil. It multiplies knowledge and leaves the real aim and object of knowledge to take care of itself. Nor is the discipline favored by President Hadley to be supplied in our case by asking the lesson the text of hortatory address. Preaching is a good thing, but preaching and teaching are two distinct offices, which must be kept separate if for no other reason than that the impressions made at school are to last throughout life. To substitute preaching for teaching is an anomalous practice, which, by the judgment of the best observers, generally leads to a waste of the child's finer feelings, and not rarely results in permanent callousness to religious impressions."

"There is an utterly chaotic state of public opinion respecting religious didactics, notwithstanding the great advances in pedagogy which have reached the high water mark in the profound reformatory labors of Herbert and his school of scientific pedagogy. Nevertheless, a great step forward has been taken by the organization of this 'committee of 15.' This great change leads me to believe that our work of laying down guiding principles may prove a turning point in the religious education of American Israel. To be sure, much will depend on reducing those principles to practice; and I don't quite see how this is to be accomplished in the absence of a technical, and to some extent, authoritative literature on the subject. Nevertheless, the work of the committee is bound to react favorably on the religious education of our youth.

New Hotel Opened.

The formal opening of the Victoria hotel, South Carolina avenue, near the beach, under the management of J. L. Graham of Pittsburgh, occurred last evening and was attended by a large number of the friends and patrons of the well known house. The house has been painted inside and out and many alterations made which has tended to bring it up to the plane of a modern hotel. The fact that the clerk, having been connected with large hotels in this city, assure guests the best treatment, and as they know, the full value of having the best that the market produces for their table and the quality of the cuisine need not be questioned.

OLIVE BRANCH TO CZAR.

Government Asks Nicholas to Name Arbitrators in the Venezuelan Case.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(Special.)—On behalf of the powers signatory to The Hague protocol for the reference to that tribunal of the question of preferential treatment in the payment of the claims of the blockading powers against Venezeula, the Washington government has transmitted through the American embassy at St. Petersburg the formal invitation to the emperor of Russia to appoint the arbitrators.

Secretary Hay has not yet received an answer from St. Petersburg, but it was learned unofficially from Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, before his departure from Washington that the emperor would certainly accept, especially as his selection was made at the instance of the American minister at Caracas.

Article 3 of The Hague protocol provides that the emperor of Russia shall be invited to name three arbitrators from the tribunal who shall form the court, the same to be selected from countries other than those signatory to the agreement. The court is to meet September 1 at The Hague.

CAKEWALK WAS POPULAR.

Merry Throngs Danced in Paris Streets on Occasion of National Fete Day.

PARIS, July 14.—The French national holiday, the anniversary of the fall of the Bastile, was enthusiastically celebrated today in brilliant weather. The main feature was the review of the garrison of Paris. The troops assembled at Longchamps at an early hour, before the heat became oppressive. Many spectators witnessed the arrival of the soldiers, cheering the favorite corps as they reached the grounds.

Last evening the streets of Paris were thronged with merry crowds dancing to the music furnished by bands stationed at most of the crossways. A feature of these open air balls was the popularity of the cakewalk. The government, municipal and many private buildings were brilliantly illuminated and great displays of fireworks were given at prominent points in the city. It was unquestionably one of the gayest of the Fourteenths of July seen for years, British flags are exceptionally numerous in the decorations.

WOLF CAUSES LAWSUIT.

Colored Woman Asks Damages of Uncle Sam for Injuries.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(Special.)—The courts of the District of Columbia will be called upon to decide whether the government is liable for damages caused by animals in its zoological exhibit.

Last spring a wolf escaped from the national zoological park, near Washington, and after wandering about in the woods for two days, visited the home of Laura Jackson, a negress. The woman claims that the animal attacked her, knocking her down and bit and scratched her about the head.

She entered suit in a justice of the peace court to recover $300 damages from Dr. Frank Baker, superintendent of the park, and an official of the Smithsonian institute, who has supervision over the park. Today the case was taken on writ of certiorari to the supreme court of the District of Columbia. It will not be heard until the October term.

NEW YORKER'S DAUGHTER WEDS SERVIAN NOBLEMAN

NEW YORK, July 14.—(Special.)—In the gossip of some of the cosmopolitans who go over to the other side for clothes, kingly receptions, health and other things, it is rumored that Mrs. Heyward Cutting's daughter, who was the Baroness de Vriere, has been married to Prince Vladimir Constantinovitch, a Servian nobleman, one of the Obrenovitch family. It is said that the marriage took place on Saturday last.

EXPERTS WILL FIGHT FIRE IN ILL-FATED HANNA MINE

HANNA, WYO., July 14.—Fifty expert miners have arrived here from Rock Springs and others are en route from Diamondville, Cumberland and Spring Valley. These men have had years of experience in fighting mine fires and they will make a last effort to extinguish the flames and reach the bodies of the victims of the Union Pacific mine disaster of June 30.

PITTSBURGHERS ARE ENTERTAINED AT LENOX

CLEVELAND, O., July 14.—Mrs. Delight Prentiss, wife of F. F. Prentiss, a wealthy manufacturer of this city, committed suicide in their apartments at the New Amsterdam today by drinking carbolic acid. She had been in poor health for a long time. The deceased was an authoress of some note, being known to the literary world as "Delight Sweetser," her maiden name.

WOMEN A POWER WITHOUT VOTING

Are Using Their Opportunities for the Betterment of Society.

THEIR PLACE IN INDUSTRY

In Taking Men's Tasks They Do Not Always Fill the Bill and Lower Wages Is the Result—College Woman in Politics.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 14.—The American League of Civic Improvement held a most enthusiastic meeting today. Delegates were present from all over the country from Maine to Georgia.

The subject for general discussion was village improvement. After a few formal addresses, the session took on the form of an experience meeting and men and women prominent in the league told of the great good work that was being done in small towns and villages.

Dr. Charles Zueblin of the university of Chicago gave the second lecture in his course, the subject today being, "Man and Woman." After setting at rest the minds of the women present by declaring that men and women were equal intellectually, he proceeded to discuss their respective fitness for the various walks of life. Concerning the woman in the industrial field, he said:

"Women are leaving old habits and struggling for freedom. They are taking up men's work, but unfortunately they do not always do it well and by taking smaller wages, they degrade the work and deprive those who are fitted for it of just compensation for their labor."

Dr. Zueblin touched very lightly upon women in politics, but he says: "They have a political position. They are recognized by every state in the universe by paying taxes. They pay their taxes more liberally than men and do not try to dodge them. Because woman does not have the right to vote does not deprive her of political power. Many of our best and noblest men are disfranchised because they will not submit to the dictates of ignorant and unprincipled bosses. Nevertheless, they do much to mould public opinion and will in time bring the bosses to their knees. Woman have the same opportunity and they know well how to use it and are using it every day. The college-bred women are more useful in political matters than are college-bred men, but you must remember that as yet her numbers are few."

Dr. Zueblin gave an illustrated lecture last evening on the public schools, in which he discussed the newer education where text books are a secondary consideration and the children are taught to see and do things. The lecture was illustrated by views of various industrial and vacation schools.

SOCIETY

THE wedding last evening of Miss May Findley Lyons, daughter of Mrs. Katharine McCauley Lyons, and Harry Benham Ruch, was an exceedingly pretty mid-summer event. The Rev. Dr. Arthur Mink, pastor of the Emory Methodist Episcopal church, performed the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother in Hays street, East End. Owing to the condition of Mrs. Lyons' health, the wedding was very quiet, only the immediate friends and relatives of the two families being present. The bride had as her one attendant a sister, Mrs. William Eicher Kier of Aspinwall, matron of honor. The ushers were two brothers of the bride, Charles W. Lyons and Louis W. Lyons. Another brother, Joseph Lyons, gave her away. William J. Ruch, Jr., was best man.

The bride was gowned in white lace over taffeta with a tulle veil. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. Mrs. Kier carrying pink sweet peas, wore a silk mull gown of the same color. Throughout the rooms on the first floor of the house pink and white interspersed with green prevailed in the decorations. In the parlor the mantel was banked with pink begonias and ferns. Other dainty blossoms also appeared in this apartment. The centerpiece in the dining room was a combination of pink roses and lilies of the valley. Here the mantel was hidden with delicate maiden hair fern and white blooms. A stringed orchestra was in attendance during the evening. Mr. Ruch is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ruch of Craig street, and both he and his bride are well known. After a short wedding journey they will be at home in Mathilda street.

Double Marriage of Sisters.

An interesting double marriage was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the home of the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Sutton of Greenfield avenue. The brides were Miss Clara A. Sutton, who married S. E. Leopold of the East End, and Miss Sarah B. Sutton, who wedded Joseph F. Jelley, son of the late Thomas Jelley of Braddock. There were 150 guests at the service, which was followed by dinner for 40. The dinner was served on the wide porches surrounding the home. The decorations were pink and white. Both brides wore white mousseline de soie over satin. Mr. and Mrs. Leopold left last evening for a trip over the great lakes and to eastern cities. Mr. and Mrs. Jelley went last evening on the steamer Elizabeth to Point Marion and will go up the Cheat river.

A Home Wedding.

A very pretty home wedding took place last evening with Miss Maggie Eldora Huffmaster of Wilkinsburg and William McIlveen of Pittsburgh as principals. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's sister, Miss Maud Huffmaster, in Glenn avenue, the Rev. G. W. Sherrick officiating. The guests numbered about 25, including only the relatives of the bride and bridegroom. The bride was attended by a sister, Miss Bessie Huffmaster, as maid of honor. Hugh C. McIlveen of Norristown acted as best man. The wedding party was completed by Miss Hannah McIlveen and William Huffmaster. A gown of white silk mull was worn by the bride. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor also carried bride's roses and wore white crepe de chine. The house was prettily decorated in palms, potted plants and cut flowers.

Boyer-Fuller Nuptials.

A pretty home wedding last evening in Braddock was that of Miss Emma L. Boyer and William T. Fuller, both of Braddock, which took place at the home of the bride, No. 522 Talbot avenue. The officiating minister was the Rev. Dr. William Pitt Turner, pastor of the First Methodist church of Braddock. The bride's home was handsomely decorated with ferns and plants and cut flowers, white and red roses being used in the parlors, with pink carnations in the dining room. The bride wore white chiffon and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bride's sister, Miss Josephine Boyer, acting as her maid, wore white silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Thomas Webster was the best man. An orchestra from McKeesport furnished the music, the Elsa wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin," preceding the service. Supper was served after the ceremony to the 50 guests present, who were from Allegheny, Braddock, McKeesport and Wilkinsburg.

Vacation School News.

A quartet of boys from the Ascension church choir visited the Ralston vacation school yesterday at Fifteenth street and Penn avenue. During their visit they sang a number of sacred songs and ballads, greatly interesting the children at the school. The singers were Elwood Bates, Lee Gardner, Ralph Gardner and William Askin. This school is in charge of the Wimodausis club. It is reported as progressing rapidly.

The question of having two flower days in each week was discussed by the committee in charge of the summer playgrounds, but it has been found that all the children can be reached in the one day, Friday. Now that the Allegheny playgrounds have been opened, more flowers will be needed and the committees will be glad to hear of any new contributors.

Casey of Oakland terrance, Fifth avenue, is also among those who have entertained for the visitors. She gave a dinner last Thursday.

Pleasant Tally-Ho Party.

Miss Clara Koch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Koch of Sewickley, gave a pleasant tally-ho party for 30 friends last evening. The route of the coach was among the prettiest parts of the Sewickley valley. Arrangements had been made to stop at Turkey Foot for an open-air luncheon, but because of the dampness of the weather this was dispensed with.

HAY IS CORDIAL,

Assures M. Pulids That New Venezuelan Representative is Very Satisfactory.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Senor Don Augusto F. Pulido, Venezuelan charge d'affaires, called at the state department today formally to announce the appointment of Gen. Hernandez as Venezuelan minister at Washington and of himself as first secretary of legation. The Washington government had already advised President Castro that both selections were satisfactory, but Secretary Hay took occasion again today to express his personal gratification at the appointment of the distinguished veteran here and at Mr. Pulido's promotion from second secretary to the secretary of legation. Gen. Hernandez is expected to arrive here next week.

Venezuela has been without a minister at Washington since 1899, when Mr. Andrade was promoted from this post to London, where he died. Mr. Pulido, then second secretary, was left as charge d'affaires and since that time has represented his government here in that capacity.

ASKS HIM TO CHANGE NAME

D. J. Griffiths Takes a Novel Method to Perpetuate His Family Record.

WOMAN ASKS FOR NEW TRIAL

Clara Pitcairn Advances Several Unique Reasons Why She Should Not Be Retried on Serious Charge—Girl Promised to Be Good.

Provided that a McKeesport young man change his name he will receive one-half of the estate of D. J. Griffiths, late of McKeesport, to perpetuate the name of the decedent. The will was placed on record in the register's office yesterday.

The testator, after appointing a trust company trustee and administrator, wrote: "I earnestly request my wife to agree to requests contained in this, which, I assure, are made for her own protection from fraud and schemers, which I believe she, with her truthful nature, might fall into." The testator then directs that his estate be made into a trust fund, the interest of which is to go to the decedent's widow. At her death one-half of the estate goes to David John Griffiths Ringler on his attaining the age of 21 years; provided, that he has his name changed by dropping the Ringler. The other half of the estate goes to Rachel Griffiths Longenecker.

It is provided that if the widow does not consent to these terms she is to have what the law allows her. It is requested that she obtain a lot in the Versailles cemetery, and that she "allow no outsider to be buried there but ourselves or children and D. J. G. Ringler's family, provided he fulfills the requirements above."

Wrote Will on Time Book.

The will of John Hammil, Sr., late of Allegheny, was written on a time book. A $1,500 estate is left to the decedent's widow and children. The will begins with this sentence: "If anything should happen to me in the shape of a sudden death."

By the will of Elizabeth Kreiling, late of Allegheny, the decedent's four children and an adopted daughter are cut off with $1 each, and the residue of an estate, the value of which is not estimated, goes to the decedent's husband.

The will of Mrs. M. J. Weller, late of Pittsburgh, was filed. An estate worth $6,500 is disposed of. To the decedent's husband, D. L. Weller, is left "what the strict letter of the law requires him to have." The residue goes to the decedent's children.

In the court of quarter sessions, a motion for a new trial was made in the case of Clara Pitcairn, who was convicted last week of keeping a house for immoral practices. There are seven reasons given in support of the application, several of which are unique.

Points in the Motion.

After charging the verdict was against the weight of evidence, the motion alleges: "There are certain peculiar and inexplicable circumstances surrounding this case that for the purposes of justice it should be tried," and further, that witnesses for the commonwealth "were vindictive and testified out of revenge to satisfy a personal grudge." The seventh reason is: "Friday night, after the defendant had been convicted some of the witnesses for the commonwealth congregated at the houses of S. R. Toy and John Melville and played 'a Good Old Summer Time,' and made insulting remarks to the defendant and one of the witnesses, Mrs. McGaw, and struck the defendant in the face with a beer glass, making a bad and dangerous wound."

Juge Marshall Brown held a brief session of juvenile court and temporarily disposed of the case of Harriet Stuart, a 16-year-old girl of Homestead. She was charged with being incorrigible by her brother, Charles E. Stuart, who testified that the conduct of the girl was indiscreet and she was beyond the control of her parents. Drink, romance and the bad company she chose, he said, were leading her at a frightful pace.

Girl Promised to Be Good.

The girl, who is pretty and has the appearance of maturity, seemed penitent when arraigned, and was glad to promise to be better and lead a good life from now on, when permitted by the court to accompany her brother, W. E. Stuart, to his home in Sharon.

Before Judge James R. Macfarlane arguments were heard in the matter of the proposed incorporation of the town of Edgeworth. The new borough will include Edgeworth and Shields. The petition met with some opposition from persons who claim the boundary lines divide their property and they desire the latter to be included or excluded entirely.

TO CANCEL CONTRACT.

Commissioners Petition Court to Revoke Order for Improvement of Dravosburg Road.

A petition was filed in the court of quarter sessions yesterday in behalf of the county commissioners, in which they ask that an order for the improvement of the Dravosburg road be revoked and that the contract be cancelled.

The petition for the improvement was filed in February, 1902, and provided for improvements between the United Traction Company's crossing to a point at the West Elizabeth borough line. Booth & Flinn secured the contract for $105,000 and began work last November improving the portion between Camden and Dravosburg.

It is now stated it will be necessary to erect a retaining wall along the Monongahela river after passing Camden at a cost of $40,000 to $50,000 in excess of the original estimate. The commissioners say the travel along the road does not warrant this expenditure and that Booth & Flinn are willing to cancel the contract.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Charles J. Pollard took out letters of administration on the estate of John Pollard. Attorneys Stowe, Pearson & Stowe represent the estate.

Suit was entered in behalf of Athalia M. Fisher against Booth & Flinn for $10,000 damages. It is alleged the plaintiff, who is a child, was injured as the result of blasting at the Mt. Washington tunnel.

The borough of Turtle Creek filed a bill in equity against the Pennsylvania Water Company to restrain it from laying a main through the municipality to a reservoir. It is said council refused to grant the company permission to lay the main, but it has given notice that it intends to begin to tear up the streets.

John Sneed and his wife, Sarah Sneed, entered suit against the L. L. Paules Drug Company for $5,000 damages. It is alleged that Mrs. Sneed ordered a quantity of calamus at the store, but that the clerk negligently gave her calomel. It is stated Mrs. Sneed took the latter and became violently ill, that her face, hands and limbs became swollen and that her teeth became loose.

Frederick Schaefer wants $25,000 damages from the Allegheny County Light Company. It is declared that a wire of the defendant came in contact with a telegraph wire and thus electricity was communicated to a tin roof of a house on Lincoln avenue, where the plaintiff was working as a painter. When Schaefer came in contact with the roof the shock threw him to the ground and he sustained serious injuries.

Affidavits of defense were filed by the Union club of the suits of F. A. Weartz and Emile Jacque, assistant cooks, the former suing for $75 50 for services and the latter for $100 50. The answers deny that the employes were discharged without cause and that they performed their duties in a satisfactory manner, but on the contrary, allege they were guilty of insubordination and without cause threatened to cut the chef with a knife; also that their actions rendered it impossible to operate the kitchen.

MATTERS OF INTEREST IN THE CHURCH FIELDS

New Pastors Called and New Churches Started—Missionary Work Is Growing.

The congregation of the Riverdale Presbyterian church, at Shousetown, has extended a call to the Rev. Harry A. Bailey of Callensburg, Clarion county, and it is believed he will accept the same. The salary attached to this pastorate is $1,000. Mr. Bailey has been at Callensburg for the past year. He is a graduate of Grove City college and of the Western Theological seminary. During his last year at the seminary he preached at the Castle Shannon Presbyterian church. The Riverdale congregation is in a very prosperous condition, having only a few months ago dedicated a new $10,000 house of worship. The pastorate became vacant by the acceptance, by the Rev. George P. Atwell, of the call extended to him by the Hawthorne Avenue Presbyterian church of Crafton.

The Rev. W. J. Schoman, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, McClure avenue, Allegheny, has received a call from the missionary board of the joint Lutheran synod of Ohio, to become a city missionary. A meeting of his congregation will be held in a few days to take action in the matter.

The Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the Brighton Road Presbyterian church, Allegheny, has accepted the presidency of Point, Tenn., and will enter on the work September 1.

The Rev. J. F. Clokey, the new pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church of Braddock, who occupied his pulpit there for the first time last Sunday, will be formally installed this evening. There will be special music by a choir of 20 voices and soloists, aided by an orchestra, under the direction of Floyd J. St. Clair. The sermon will be by the Rev. Edwin S. Wallace, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Greensburg. The charge to the pastor will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. C. C. Hays of Johnstown, and the charge to the people by the Rev. William F. McKee of the First Presbyterian church of Turtle Creek. At the close of the services the women of the church will give a reception to the Rev. and Mrs. Clokey. The new pastor is about 35 years old and has been preaching for the past 12 years. He comes to Braddock from Massillon, O., taking the place of the Rev. Edwin M. Bowman, who left to take the charge at Hollidaysburg.

The Knoxville Christian church, organized 12 years ago, will next Sunday burn the mortgage that has been resting on the church all these years, leaving it free from all encumbrances. Three years ago, when the Rev. F. M. Gordon, the present pastor, took charge, there was a membership of 84. The church now has a membership of 260. A new building site was recently purchased at a cost of about $4,500 and upon this it is proposed to erect a new church building, costing about $15,000. Plans have already been submitted by a number of architects, and at a special meeting, to be held tomorrow evening, it is expected that additional plans will be considered. The annual outing of the Knoxville Christian congregation will take place today at the Castle Shannon grove.

The Rev. H. E. Whitmeyer was this week ordained as a minister of the United Presbyterian church, and also installed as pastor of the church of that denomination at Sheraden. He graduated from the Allegheny Theological seminary this year, and his call to this pastorate was unanimous.

Last Sunday was one of the most memorable days in the history of the Second Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city. Twenty-one new members were welcomed into the church and the largest communion service the congregation has ever known was celebrated. This church is rapidly growing under the popular administration of the Rev. W. F. Silveus, the faithful and efficient pastor.

The 53d session of the Tarentum Camp Meeting association will be held on the grounds at that place for two weeks, beginning July 30. An attractive program has been prepared.

A new church is to be organized on August 4, at Donora, under the care of the Lutherans of the Pittsburgh classis of the German synod. The Rev. H. E. Berkey, formerly of Sharpsburg, is to have charge of the new field. Thirty-five names have already been secured for the new organization, and as many more are expected by the time the church is instituted. Another mission will be instituted at East McKeesport in the near future, over 30 persons having already indicated a willingness to unite with this new organization. The church organized at East Pittsburgh during the past month is showing a most gratifying growth.

The Rev. Frank H. Farrington of Birmingham, Ala., who was considered an eligible candidate for the pulpit of the Union Baptist church, South Eighteenth street, made vacant by the removal from the city of the Rev. J. M. Thomas, will not be called, it having developed that the call would not be unanimous and he refusing to consider any call not unanimous. The Rev. Mr. Brown of New York state has now been recommended to the pulpit committee and has been invited to preach on July 26.

The Rev. V. Losa, the local missionary to the foreigners, who is working under the direction of a joint committee of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny presbyteries of the Presbyterian church, has been directed, in addition to his present duties, to begin work at Groveton, where a new settlement of Bohemians has sprung up. The mission work among the foreigners has increased to such an extent that the joint committee will probably be forced to provide an assistant for Mr. Losa.

LUTHER LEAGUE MEETS.

Officers Elected, Text Books Approved and Glowing Report Read Yesterday.

There were 40 delegates present at the beginning yesterday of the three days' session of the tenth annual convention of the Luther League of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, James and Second streets, Allegheny. The welcome address was made by the Rev. W. E. Schramm, pastor of the church, to which the Rev. G. W. Lose of Massilion, O., responded.

The following officers were elected: President, the Rev. Dr. Lose; eastern vice president, the Rev. George Tejan, Avalon; western vice president, the Rev. G. A. Harter, Youngstown, O.; secretary, Paul Demmler, Allegheny; treasurer, Miss Anna Margstein, Allegheny; literary secretary, C. F. Daume, Allegheny.

These textbooks for next year's reading course were adopted: "History of the Reformation," "Lutheran Manual" and "Concise History of Missions." Reports showed that the work by the synod last year was satisfactory.

Wedding Romance of a Fire-Fighter.

Robert Lyons, a member of engine company No. 4 in Neville street, surprised his fellow firefighters yesterday on returning from a one-day vacation by announcing that he had been married. It developed that he had secured a wife through a romantic meeting at a fire. While responding to an alarm for a blaze in Dinwiddie street Lyons became acquainted with Miss Annie Keller of that street. Their friendship ripened into love, with the result that they went to Steubenville and were wedded.

Fines of Raid Victims Reduced.

All female visitors captured in the disorderly houses raided Sunday have had their fines reduced from $25 to $5. A number of politicians called on Police Magistrate T. D. Stewart yesterday in behalf of the keepers of these disorderly houses and have their fines reduced. Magistrate Stewart refused the requests. These women were fined $100 and costs.

River Outing for Orphans Today.

The 20th annual excursion for inmates of orphan asylums in Pittsburgh and Allegheny will be given today on the steamer Mayflower of the John F. Klein line of pleasure boats, by the J. M. Gusky establishment. The boat will leave the wharf at the foot of Market street at 9 o'clock this morning, and the children will be given a trip up the Monongahela river.

Books for the Chamber of Commerce.

Congressman H. Kirke Porter has contributed to the library of the chamber of commerce a set of two hundred volumes of United States government works. They comprise all department and bureau reports and copies of the Congressional Record for the last ten years.

MISS BIGGAR IN MORE TROUBLE

Man Who Said He Married Her Will Now Testify for Mrs. Hendrick.

SOME INSIDE FACTS LEAK OUT

Miss Biggar's Associate Refused Funds to Stanton and He Will Retaliate by Aiding Mrs. Hendrick in Her Suit for One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 14.

Another interesting chapter will be added to the story of Laura Biggar, Samuel Stanton, the former justice of the peace, and Dr. Hendrick, who were tried on the charge of conspiring to get the estate of Henry M. Bennett. Stanton hasn't had a cent from the actress or her friend, the doctor, he says, and will now do what he can to assist Dr. Hendrick's wife in her suit for $100,000 against Laura Biggar for alienation of her husband's affections.

Mrs. Hendrick did not get any compensation for her daily show of affection before the jury during the conspiracy trial at Freehold, N. J. Besides, she has lost her husband. The suit came as a surprise to those who had watched the actress and Mrs. Hendrick at the trial.

Mr. Russell, counsel for Mrs. Hendrick, explained today why she had consented to sit with her arm around Laura Biggar and fan her whenever she seemed to faint in the court room. "That was all acting," he said. "It was for the moral effect that it might have on the jury. Mrs. Hendrick consented to appear to be fond of Miss Biggar merely to save her husband from jail. She still loved her husband. She was not promised a cent of compensation from the Bennett estate for appearing at court. She doesn't need money. Her suit for $100,000 is merely for vindication. She is a very sensitive and highly cultured woman."

The charges in Mrs. Hendrick's suit against Miss Biggar cover a period of two years. Both Hendrick and Stanton are out on bail. Hendrick has been travelling the country and appearing in vaudeville with Laura Biggar.

When Stanton was released on bail he went to Hendrick and asked for assistance. Hendrick told him he didn't have any money and turned away his former fellow prisoner who had got himself into jail by swearing that he had performed the alleged Bennett-Biggar marriage.

"That is the only time I have seen Dr. Hendrick since I got out of jail," said Stanton today. FRANK A PARKER.

ONE KILLED, SIX HURT.

Freight Collision at Bolivar Station Caused by a Blunder.

In a collision between two freight trains at Bolivar station, on the Pennsylvania railroad, early yesterday morning, one man was killed, six others were injured and an engine and seven freight cars were badly damaged. Three cars were thrown over an embankment and it is reported that six of the men were riding in one of these. The man killed was William Ross, colored, of Bedford avenue, Pittsburgh. The injured are: Charles Stewart, colored, badly bruised, and James Brennen, knee and forehead badly cut. The three men live in Philadelphia. V. Kempf, fireman on one of the engines, was also slightly hurt.

The cause of the accident is not known, but it is said that a mistake in signals probably caused it. Both freights were making for a siding and were running slow. Ross and his companions were beating their way to Philadelphia on the train going east. When the cars went over the embankment Ross fell out of the car and was crushed to death. Fireman Kempf was injured by jumping. He was able to go home. The injured men were all sent to the Greensburg hospital. Traffic on the main line was blocked for about an hour.

DRUGGISTS TO FACE BLUE LAW CHARGES

Five druggists will be arraigned in Wilkinsburg this evening on a charge of violating the blue laws last Sunday. The informations were made by W. A. Minteer of the committee of 12 of Wilkinsburg, whose members have taken on themselves the work of investigating Sunday selling and securing evidence. The detectives formerly employed have been discharged. The defendants are W. L. Smith, M. J. McCann, F. W. Covell, Berlin & Hall and Harry Smith. The first four named are charged with selling soda water and the last named is alleged to have sold tobacco. Several purchasers of soda water and tobacco have been subpoenaed as witnesses.

POSTMASTER REMOVED ON TECHNICAL CHARGE

ORANGE, N. J., July 14.—(Special.)—Louis D. Gallison was removed as postmaster of Orange today and Herman Walker was appointed to the position. Mr. Gallison has been postmaster for more than three years. Last August irregularities were discovered, although no dishonesty on the part of the postmaster was shown. It was said there was a technical shortage. It is said that later it was discovered that the postmaster had disposed of stamps to customers outside of Orange, which is a violation of the regulations.

Contracts for improvements to the water works in Duquesne and Etna have been awarded and work at the latter place was started yesterday. It is expected that work at Duquesne will be begun this week. ANOTHER LOW DAY IN EASTERN STOCKS

A Score of Issues, Including High Grade Railroad and Industrial Shares, Led the Decline—Local Market Dull and Lower.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The following railway and industrial stocks, which are among the best of their respective classes, sold at the lowest prices of the year yesterday:

Atchison	65½	Am. Loco. pfd.	88
Brooklyn R. T.	52¼	Am. Sugar	114
St. Paul	140½	Con. Gas	182½
Northwest	162⅝	Pullman	198
D., L. & W.	240	P. S. Car	50
Illinois Cen.	126	N. American	81½
M. K. & T. pref.	41	Rep. I. & S. pfd.	72
Manhattan	132	U. S. Steel	27⅝
Pennsylvania	119⅝	do. pref	78
Rock Island	30	U. S. Leather pfd.	81

In the case of Pennsylvania the low price was the same as the day before, and in several instances the price given in the foregoing was established on June 10, which was the "low day" previous to the present movement. There were a number of instances in which prices got down to within a fraction of the lowest of the year, and in addition to the above list quite a number of minor shares established new records. Taking the average of the entire list, yesterday's prices were the lowest of the year.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The market was a surprise and a disappointment. There was a general expectation that the rally in progress at the close on Monday evening would be continued yesterday, and this expectation was justified by the generally higher quotations received from London, which was a purchaser on balance of about 25,000 shares. The opening prices, however, were as a rule the highest of the day, and there was an entire absence of support. The market being left to itself gradually became less active. The sales for the first two hours were only slightly in excess of 290,000 shares, or about half the total for the corresponding period on Monday, and the total for the entire session was only 703,000 shares. There was a resumption of liquidation, which gradually increased in volume, and was apparently aggravated by the efforts of the bear party. The drive made against Consolidated Gas, which broke to 182½, the lowest for three years, was without any news to encourage it, and was ascribed to Standard Oil tactics, this interest being generally credited with bearish sentiments on the market as a whole. This break, together with that in several other prime investment stocks, conveyed the impression that some interests were again forced to make unwilling sacrifice of securities which are seldom out of strong boxes. New York Central held up better than the others of its class, but Pennsylvania after selling at 11⅝, declined under steady pressure to 119¾ at the close. The weakest feature of the entire market in the late dealings was St. Paul, which opened at 144¾, and after declining to 142⅞ steadily resisted attack until the offerings finally overwhelmed buyers and the price broke to 140½, closing at the bottom. Missouri Pacific, which had opened at 101¼, declined to 98¾, Wabash preferred declined to 39⅛, and Missouri, Kansas & Texas preferred broke to 44. Rock Island sold down to 30, Illinois Central to 126, and on the curb Northern Securities declined below 88. The anthracite coal stocks held better than any of the railroads, but in the final dealings Reading broke to 48⅛.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

In the industrial department the weakest stock in the early dealings was Peoples Gas, which was pressed for sale and declined from 97 to 94¼. In the late dealings Sugar was the weakest, selling down to 115½. United States Steel stocks had opened firm, the common at 29 and the preferred at 79⅝@79½, and they were well held until late in the day, when they sold off with the remainder of the list, the common to 27⅝ and the preferred to 78, the lowest price of the year. The transactions in this department of the market, however, were not large, the heaviest liquidation being confined mainly to high-grade railway and industrial stocks. As a rule closing prices were the lowest of the day, and sentiment in the street was gloomy. In some quarters the impression prevailed that the short interest has had little difficulty in covering, and the situation does not appear to be yet favorable to a "squeeze."

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

There was very little actual news during the day, but the rumor mill was worked double turn. Perhaps the most important item was the publication of a statement by one of the news agencies to the effect that the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Company had sold $8,000,000 of its notes, due next March, at 5½ per cent interest, plus ½ per cent commission. It was stated that the company needed the money and borrowed it on the best terms possible, in preference to attempting to sell bonds in an unwilling market. This was accepted as another evidence that the money market was likely to rule firmer, with the large corporations absorbing funds at comparatively high rates. Call loans ruled fairly easy at 3@3¾ per cent, closing at 2½ per cent, but time money was firmer, six months loans quoting at 5½ per cent and four months at 5 per cent. Among the rumors of the day was one that the "junior partner" in an international house had got wrong on the market and that liquidation was partially for his account. Naturally the financial directory was resorted to and the "junior partner" of every prominent house in the street was discussed. So far as known, there was no foundation for the rumor, but its circulation indicates the diligence of the street in its efforts to discover what is hanging over the market. There are a few persons who entertain the idea that this prolonged downward movement in the market is part of a well-planned campaign of the Standard Oil itnerest, the object of which is the acquisition of control of properties which may be useful in the formation of a gigantic railway system from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Experienced bankers, on the other hand, maintain that history is merely repeating itself in the market; that the buying power is temporarily exhausted, and stocks are not now selling for what they are worth, intrinsically, but for what they will bring at forced sale.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The local stock market shows a list of unbroken net losses for everything that was dealt in except Brewing common, 15 shares of which changed hands at 32⅜, an advance of ⅛ over the last previous sale. The most important decline was in Westinghouse Electric, which sold off to 89⅜ and closed at 89⅛ bid, a loss of 1⅝ for the day. The principal activity was in the steel stocks and natural gas shares. Crucible Steel common declined to 13½ and the preferred to 78¼ and both closed at the lowest. United States Steel common declined to 28⅛ and the preferred to 79. Manufacturers Light & Heat declined to 37⅝ and Philadelphia Company to 40⅜, and both closed at the decline. Pittsburgh Coal common declined to 26⅝. With the exception of Bank of Pittsburgh, which sold at 130, a decline of 9 points from the last previous sale, the stocks in this department closed unchanged. Pittsburgh Brewing 6s were a fraction higher at 111½.

Money Conditions Check Buying.

The head of one of the largest brokerage houses said yesterday: "I could today buy 10,000 shares local stocks on orders if I would accept them; but it is not worth while for the mere commission of an eighth to take the risk and worry of the money market. I tell our customers very frankly that I think there are a number of stocks quoted on a low basis that are reasonably safe, and that if they can afford to buy outright, or are willing to make their own loans, I believe they will ultimately make money on an advance, and in the meantime they will be receiving a good return on the investment. But I do not see any indications of money becoming easy, and I don't care to assume the burden of shifting loans in a tight market, which is possible later in the year."

Not a "Clique" Market.

Despite the fact that there are a few wiseacres who know "that this market will not turn until 'them fellers' in Wall street are ready to let it go up," there are few persons who really believe that this is a "one-man market," or a market dominated by any particular clique. A score of times within the past two or three months various cliques have attempted to turn the market in an upward direction, and quite frequently some of the most prominent commission houses have felt safe in advising purchases for investment or for a speculative turn. But all effort to stem the tide of liquidation has failed, and yesterday the averages of prices touched the lowest level of the year. People who have the courage to deny the omniscience and power of the "Standard Oil crowd" do not hesitate to say that while the latter may be taking advantage of present conditions to execute some far-reaching schemes in the railroad and industrial world, a greater than the Standard Oil influence is at work in the stock market. There may be some specific underlying cause or causes which started and maintains the liquidation and shrinkage in values, but it is reasonably certain that these causes were not intentionally set in motion. The losses are falling upon the biggest men in the country, who have time and again tried to check the movement, and who apparently are forced to let it take its course.

Crucible Steel.

A correspondent writes this department as follows:

"It looks rather strange to see Crucible Steel common selling below the actual net earnings of the company, as the value of all common stocks is based upon the earning powers after fixed charges are deducted. This company has earned in the past two years $3,500,000 net, or $16 a share on the common, and estimated earnings this year are stated to be as large as last, so $7 more can be added, making $23 per share earned in three years on this stock, yet it is selling at $13¾, or $10 a share below its surplus or book value. Other common stocks, not earning so much, are selling much higher. As this company has no bonded indebtedness the common stock assumes a better position than most of them. Yet the peculiar position in regard to its present market value has not been properly explained. Most any deal for the Clairton plants should be good for the common stock as the old plants show good earning power, and would give the company a large cash surplus."

There are two possible explanations for the decline in the stock. One is the condition of the money market, which has curtailed the buying power, and the other is the absence of speculators among the directors of Crucible who are interested in supporting the market. The reason why some non-dividend paying common stocks which are not earning any more or as much as Crucible sell higher than the latter is that insiders are interested in supporting the market. If the Crucible management gives more attention to making steel than to making prices for the stock in the market stockholders can have no grounds for complaint.

The Mystery of the Selling.

Who is it that is selling such enormous amounts of stock and at such tremendous sacrifices based on any possible purchase price for two years past, is a subject of most earnest surmise. The interest attaching to this subject causes it to be surrounded with a vast deal of gossip and rumor, which flies back and forth not only within the Wall street circle, but over the cables from continent to continent. Authoritative and reliable information on the subject is not to be had. But the volume and the method of the liquidation put it beyond question that it is urgent and that it is for account of powerful financial interests. A great impression was made upon sentiment by the large liquidation in Consolidated Gas, which carried it down 5⅜ points. St. Paul's 4-point break in the late dealings to a new level at 140½ supplemented the influence of the break in Consolidated Gas.

Bankers Now Dictate Terms.

The condition of the money market was the only development of the day to account for the acute weakness of eastern stocks. It was generally accepted that the great railroad companies are active bidders for money for fixed periods at 6 per cent, rather than attempt any issues of new capital at this time. Bankers and money lenders are in consequence extremely loath to consider any request for loans but those of the highest grade. It is current report that not only the grade of collateral but the intended use of the money is closely scrutinized by the leaders. There was a story current in Wall street yesterday of a refusal by one of the great Wall street banks to lend something over $1,000,000 on the highest grade of collateral because the industrial purposes for which the loan was designed did not meet the approval of the bank officials.

The advance in the money rate had the effect of weakening sterling exchange and inducing the selling of loan bills by bankers, and the sharp rise in the premium on eastern exchange at Chicago, indicated the pressure to remit to New York.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

It is the general expectation that some official announcement will be made today in connection with the Colonial Trust Company deal. There were no transactions yesterday in the stocks embraced in this deal. Colonial was quoted at 550 bid, 590 asked, and American Trust at 480 bid, 495 asked. There were no quotations on Farmers Deposit National Bank stock.

The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh has declared an annual dividend of 3 per cent on the common stock.

The United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1-5 on the preferred stock, payable September 1.

It is understood that application will soon be made to the Pittsburgh stock exchange for the listing of Pittsburgh Oil & Gas stock. It is said that the earnings for the current fiscal year will approximate $800,000.

The members of the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday voted to continue the operation of the clearing house.

The incident was related yesterday of a customer at a bank seeking advice concerning the investment of a sum of money in a prominent railroad stock. The banker advised against the purchase at this time, remarking: "I believe the stock is worth its present market price, but I also believe that it will sell lower, and you might as well wait for a further decline. Stocks are not now quoted for what they are worth, but at what they will bring."

The weather bureau's weekly crop report had an unfavorable effect as it concerned wheat, but the good promise of corn and cotton would have been sufficient to offset this influence in the stock market.

The Toledo, St. Louis & Western stocks were marked up on rumors of a traffic agreement with the St. Louis & San Francisco, and Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago, & St. Louis made a 5-point recovery from its recent break.

The drop in the United States Steel stocks late in the day to new low records was coupled with reports that the cuts made in prices of iron had not resulted in bringing in buying orders.

A New York house wired after the close of the market: "The short interest was immensely increased today and the borrowing demand for stocks in the loan crowd was on a scale which we have not seen for a month past. This alone should turn the market if nothing else will sooner or later."

Norfolk & Western directors have declared the regular semi-annual dividend of $2 on the adjustments preferred stock, payable August 21 to stockholders of record August 7.

On the local exchange 105 was bid for Wilkinsburg Real Estate Savings & Trust. Central Savings & Trust was offered at 66, and Iron City Trust at 151.

Union Natural Gas Corporation was quoted at 104 bid.

HEAVIER IMPORTS OF RAW MATERIAL

Pittsburgh Mills Buy Scrap and Pig Iron in Foreign Markets.

INCREASE OVER 40 PER CENT

Finished Products, Especially for Structural Purposes, and Steel Billets Form Portion of the 217,000 Tons Brought in During Month of June.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
NEW YORK, July 14.

More than 217,000 tons of foreign iron and steel material, pig iron, scrap iron, old iron rails, crop ends, bar iron, structural iron, steel billets, steel beams, steel wire rods, scrap steel, old steel rails, railroad material; also iron ore, iron pyrites, chrome and manganese ores, were imported through New York and other eastern seaboard ports last month. Various plants in Pittsburgh and vicinity were large purchasers. The imports in May amounted to but 152,000 tons, so that last month showed an increase of over 40 per cent.

The June imports of pig iron were 70,250 tons, as compared with 44,228 tons for the previous month. Forty-eight thousand one hundred and sixty-one tons came from Great Britain and 22,000 tons came from continental Europe.

No less than 127,843 tons of iron ore, chrome ore and manganese ore were imported last month. The iron ore shipments represented a total of 95,417 tons, as against 79,998 tons for May. This material came mostly from Cuba and Spain. Fifty-one thousand two hundred and fifty tons came from Cuba.

The manganese ore imports in June amounted to 29,250 tons. Seven thousand eight hundred and twenty-two tons was the total in May. Last month's came chiefly from Bombay, 20,350 tons having been shipped from that British Indian port.

Dispatches from St. Petersburg say that the American representatives, including Robert J. Gross, vice president of the American Locomotive Company, are now in Russia making a study of the Russian market, and say it is a fact that many of the Russian ores are superior in grade to the American ores, and that they can be mined and handled much cheaper, but they scout the idea that the foreign ores can be brought here in competition with our own mineral products. Transportation and duties would amount to a practical embargo upon the same.

Movements in Trade.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on its preferred stock, payable September 1.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The directors of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad met here today and declared a 3 per cent annual dividend on the common stock. This is an increase of ¼ of 1 per cent.

NEW YORK, July 14.—It was semi-officially announced today that the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad had secured a temporary loan of $5,000,000 on notes due next March at 5½ per cent interest plus ½ per cent commission, making a total rate of 6 per cent. The Burlington company will use most of the money for pending improvements.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 14.—The Lehigh Valley Railway Company has been authorized by the state railroad commission to increase its capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. The increased capital is to be used entire to take up capital stock of the leased line's company in exchange for Lehigh Valley railway stock.

SPECULATIVE MARKET SEEMS DISHEARTENED

Declines Continue Despite Favorable Developments and Increased Earnings.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
NEW YORK, July 15.

The Herald this (Wednesday) morning says: Liquidation of an urgent nature was resumed in the stock market yesterday to the great disquietude of speculative Wall street. The bear party assumed an aggressive attitude at the same time and in consequence of the reduction of the short interest on Monday the general list yielded easily. Although some buying of excellent character was reported, it was not of sufficient volume to withstand the force of the selling movement. Prices closed at practically the lowest figures, establishing numerous low records for the day. Speculative sentiment was much depressed in consequence.

The stock market appears to be hastening toward its readjustment, seeking to establish itself, not only upon the 5 per cent basis of valuation, which conservative interests in the street have thought likely, but upon the 6 per cent basis, at which such roads as the Burlington and other great corporations which shared in the Hocking Valley purchase have borrowed their money. In its seeking after intrinsic worth the street apparently reached the conclusion that of great corporations, all upon a 6 per cent borrowed basis, all stocks will adjust themselves to that level. At the same time there is little incentive for capitalists to buy on a 4 or 4½ per cent basis if they can lend to good corporations at 6 per cent.

The news of the day continued mixed, with the good features utterly ignored, as has been the case for some time. Railroad traffic returns were excellent, and in one case, that of the Baltimore & Ohio, the annual statement was brilliant. That news plays no part in the present movement is evidenced that on this excellent showing Baltimore & Ohio declined in excess of one point.

MORE KENNYWOOD SUITS.

Church People Will Go Into Court for Injunction if Verdicts Are Favorable.

Seven suits were entered before Justice George W. Giles of Homestead yesterday by the Rev. A. B. Wilson and the Rev. W. F. Slade, both of Braddock, against Manager G. A. Dodge and six employes of Kennywood Park. This is the third series of suits entered against the park management and employes and in each of the previous cases they were fined $25 and costs.

The hearings will be held this afternoon, and if the verdict is favorable to the church people they will go into court and ask that Kennywood Park be declared a nuisance and that an injunction be granted restraining the management from operating the amusements on Sunday.

JOBBER BRINGS SUIT.

Ruined Candy Dealer Charges Confectionery Association With Conspiracy.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Eleven members of the executive board of the New York Confectionery Jobbers' Protective association, have been summoned to appear before Justice Wyatt in the court of special sessions tomorrow to answer to a charge of criminal conspiracy.

The complainant is Morris Goldenberg, a jobber, who says he was driven out of business by the company and financially ruined. As one of the results of its alleged persecution he says he was compelled to send his wife to an insane asylum, where she died.

VIRGIN ALLEY WIDENING.

Short Session of the Board of Viewers Was Held Yesterday.

The board of viewers on the Virgin alley widening held a short session yesterday afternoon at which several tenants submitted leases which were permitted to be put on record. No claims for damages were made in the cases, as it was agreed that they would be given the same consideration as other lease holders who have already testified.

This afternoon the property owners on the south side of the street will be heard. None of the property there will be taken, but it is desired to get at the estimate of benefits accruing from the added width to the thoroughfare.

An affidavit of Charles W. Clark, son of United States Senator Clark, was read at the trial today, admitting that he offered Judge Harney the money, with the approval of Mr. Shores and other Amalgamated attorneys. The trial will probably last two weeks.

EXPECT GOOD CROWD.

Leaders of the Reform Party of Political Offsprings Prepare for Big Convention.

DENVER, July 14.—Leaders of the Reform party movement, the object of which is to combine the populists, bimetallists, modern socialists and others into a national organization, say there will be a large attendance of notables at the Denver conference July 27.

George Fred Williams of Massachusetts is in entire sympathy with the movement. Attorney C. S. Darrow of Chicago, the miners representative before the Pennsylvania coal strike commission, promises to send a written address to be read at the convention. Edward Atkinson, anti-imperialist leader, and former Gov. Poynter of Nebraska, and E. Benjamin Andrews, president of Nebraska university, will be present. William J. Bryan also has been invited to attend, but has not yet accepted the invitation.

PREVENTED A LYNCHING.

Deputy Sheriff Smuggled Wanted Negro to Another Town and Escaped Mob.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 14.—The quick wit of a deputy sheriff at Coxsackie this afternoon prevented the lynching of James Little, a 19-year-old negro of Summerhurst, N. J., who early this morning assaulted Emma Cole, aged 11, daughter of Joseph Cole. The negro escaped after threatening the child with death. Two other children had given the alram and Cole and his neighbors met the child coming home and at once organized a party to scour the woods. He was captured on the railroad track near Coxsackie by Roy Cutler and was placed in jail.

The news of the capture reached New Baltimore and a mob of 1,500 enraged farmers started for Coxsackie, augmented by a large number of striking Coxsackie molders and rivermen, all vowing to lynch the negro.

Deputy Sheriff Sumner Van Loon, realizing that the coming of darkness would mean the violent death of his prisoner, smuggled the negro out and took him down the river on the boat to Catskill.

MISSED THE APPOINTMENT.

Thomas S. Bigelow and James A. Clark Were to Talk Fusion.

Thomas S. Bigelow and County Commissioner James A. Clark were to have met yesterday to discuss fusion between the Democratic and the Citizens parties. They missed each other by about three minutes. Mr. Clarke went to the office of James W. Clark, the director of the department of public charities, but Mr. Bigelow, detained by the rain, did not arrive until three minutes after Mr. Clark had left to catch a train. Mr. Clark will return to Pittsburgh today and may meet Mr. Bigelow.

Some Democrats and Citizens begin to think that there will be no fusion between the two parties, on account of the delay in preparing a program.

ARE ALMOST READY.

Preparations Almost Completed for Epworth League Convention in Detroit.

DETROIT, July 14.—Preparations for the sixth international convention of the Epworth league, which begins here on Thursday, are nearing completion. Members of the reception committee left on night trains for Toledo and Buffalo, to meet incoming delegations.

As a result of the failure of the finance committee to raise the desired amount of funds, it has been decided to charge 24 cents admission to the general meetings Saturday night. Word was received today from Bishop J. M. Thoburn, who was expected to talk on missions, that he will be unable to attend the convention.

Tourist Fell Into Crevasse.

YOSEMITE VALLEY, CAL., July 14.—A Mrs. Johns of New York fell into the Sentinel fissure last night and had a narrow escape from death. She was rescued by a party from Sentinel Dome and is in a precarious condition.

In the Oil Fields

Reports from the lower southwest oil fields were light again yesterday. In the Big Injun sand development near Mannington, Marion county, W. Va., the Burt Oil Company has completed a test on the Nancy Erwin farm and has a show for a 50-barrel producer.

In the Ritchie Mines district in Ritchie county the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 7 on the A. O. Wilson farm through the salt sand and developed a small showing of oil. It will be drilled to the Big Injun, and unless it makes a better showing in the lower formation will be shot and tested in the salt sand.

Northeast of the Pine Grove extension the South Penn Oil Company's gusher on the Showalter farm has increased its production and placed 415 barrels to its credit during the 24 hours ending at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

On the east side of the Folsom district the Delmar Oil Company's No. 1 on the M. E. Bennett farm, the farthest in advance of the development, is holding up at 125 barrels a day.

In the Rinards Mills district in Munroe county, Ohio, the Harman Oil Company has completed its test on the Mrs. E. B. Cline farm and has a show for a 12 or 15-barrel pumper in the Berea grit. In the same district, across the line in Washington county, the Flat Rock Oil Company has drilled its No. 3 on the Eliza Dimberling farm through the Big Injun and will have an 8 or 10-barrel pumper.

Near New Matamoras in the same county the Berea Oil Company has completed its second test on the James Amos farm and has a 30-barrel producer.

In the Corning district the Phoenix Oil Company has completed a test on the Samuel Cagg farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper.

In the Brush Creek field in Allegheny county the Southern Oil Company has completed its test on the Robinson heirs' farm and has an 18 or 20-barrel producer in the 100-foot.

MUCH ACTIVITY IN EAST LIBERTY

Three Sales Near the East End Station Amount to $85,000 in Value.

SEWICKLEY ACREAGE BOUGHT

Offer of $6,300 a Foot for No. 533 Liberty Avenue—Maloney Office Building Going Ahead—Novel Job of House Moving—Many Suburban Sales.

Three sales announced yesterday by the Kelly-Wood Real Estate Company, are substantial assurance that the project to build a new Pennsylvania station in East Liberty on the present site, is bearing fruit by starting a movement in property in that neighborhood. Reed B. Coyle was the buyer of the largest property, at No. 6229 Penn avenue. It is situated on the north side of the avenue, near Shady avenue, measures 17.5x84 feet and is improved with a three-story brick building. It is generally known as the Flath property, and was purchased from Dr. Alfred Hopkins. The sale was made at the rate og $2,743 a front foot.

Still closer to the station is the A. Niedhammer property, a lot 80x200 feet, which was sold to J. M. Brody for $25,000. It faces on the north side of Penn avenue, near Station street, and has erected on it several old houses. The buyer contemplates erecting a business block to cost $20,000. Mr. Brody also bought from John Sawer a two-story brick building on lot 30x200 feet, on the south side of Penn avenue, near Station street, for $12,000. The property rents for $65 a month. It adjoins 60 feet lately bought by Hugh Murphy for $22,000 and for which $30,000 was refused a few days ago, showing that values are going up steadily.

Added 24 Acres to His Holdings.

Through the agency of Henry I. Adair another fine plot of Sewickley acreage has been sold to James B. Oliver, president of the Oliver Iron and Steel Company, for $20,000. It belonged to Mrs. Mary Woods and is situated in Leet township, lying on both sides of the Beaver road. Nearby are the plants of the Riter-Conley Manufacturing Company and the American Bridge Company at Ambridge. The farm of 24 acres is improved with a large frame house and is opposite the 70 acres which M. Oliver bought through the same broker last year.

James Cohen has bought from the Alfred McCandless estate an improved property, 32x135 feet, on the east side of Washington street, Seventh ward, for $14,225. The property has been held in the family since 1834.

John P. Sanders sold to John L. Russell an improved property, 42x100 feet, on the north side of Summerlea street, near Elmer street, and another lot, 44x100 feet, in Summerlea street, near Elwood street, for $10,223.

Rumors Badly Mixed.

A little flurry of interest in Liberty avenue property was caused yesterday afternoon by the statement that the C. L. Magee lot on the north side of the avenue near Cecil alley had been sold to an unknown buyer for $6,000 a front foot. W. H. Seif, one of the executors of the Magee estate, said last night that the Magee lot had not been sold nor is there any deal on for it at present. Regarding the other rumor concerning the Peter Gettman lot at No. 533 Liberty avenue, now occupied by Daub Bros., John Gettman said that no sale had been effected. On the contrary his father declined a bona fide offer of $133,000, or $6,300 a front foot yesterday morning. The practical assurance that the Pennsylvania railroad tracks will be removed from Liberty avenue has stimulated the demand for properties all along the street, and brokers are daily seeking options. Thus far, however, no sales have been reported, although it is known that several deals are pending.

Grant Street Skyscraper Going Ahead.

The M. F. Maloney office building at the corner of Grant and Diamond streets is likely to become a reality. Several months ago plans were made by Architect Charles Bickel, but the project was dropped on account of the deal then pending for the Fulton property adjoining. Now a second set of bids are being taken by the same architect. The proposed building will be 12 stories high, 70x70 feet, and will cost at least $260,000.

Architect James T. Steen has awarded the contract for the Bellefield club house to James Lyons of this city. The building will stand on the east side of Craig street, near Center avenue, and will cost when completed about $22,000.

Architect W. A. Thomas is taking bids on a colonial brick and stone residence to be built for J. C. Bibley in Center avenue at a cost of $20,000.

William F. Young, whose planing mill at Wilkinsburg was burned recently, has decided to rebuild the plant at a cost of $50,000.

Architect J. Edward Kiern has been commissioned to prepare plans for a Masonic block at the corner of Main street and Beechwood avenue, Carnegie, to cost $60,000.

House to Be Moved Skyward.

A job of house moving that will be the most novel and most expensive ever tried in this county is now being shaped up by Capt. Samuel H. Brown, who sold his farm at Brown station to the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad Company last week. The Brown residence stands close to the tracks at the foot of a steep bluff. It is a large brick mansion handsomely finished and would cost at least $25,000 to replace. Capt. Brown proposes to lift it to the top of the overhanging hill, where he is building 150 houses at an outlay of $350,000. A few days ago he asked bids on the job and one contractor submitted an estimate of $6,000, adding that it would take half the men in Allegheny county to do the work." This did not meet Capt. Brown's ideas and he will probably superintend the job himself. The house will be blocked up foot by foot, it is said, until the level of the hill is reached.

The Homestead Realty Company sold for J. Healy to A. Heaps a large frame tenement house on lot 40x100 feet, in Dixon street, near Sixth avenue, Homestead, for $12,000.

Good Sales in Suburbs.

Emsworth: Henry W. Armstrong sold for Dr. George Purucker to Mrs. Luella Moyer 1.5 acres improved with a two-story frame house in Beaver road, Emsworth, for $3,700. He also sold for Lilla Hilands to Nicholas Brandt a frame house with two acres of land in Perrysville road, Killbuck township, for $3,500.

Bellevue: Adam Hoffman sold to Charles H. Bowman a lot 50x150 feet, in Rodgers avenue, Bellevue, for $1,500.

Homestead: William Gray & Co. sold for Alexander Gordon to John Hickey a five-room frame house, lot 20x110 feet, in Fourth avenue, Homestead, for $3,000, and to J. M. Corl an improved lot, 30x110 feet, in Idlewild street, East End, for $9,000.

Lawrenceville: The Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company sold for David J. Goggins to Mrs. Mary Ball an improved lot, 20x90 feet, at the corner of Mulberry alley and Thirty-fifth street, for $3,000.

McKeesport: The Gordon Smith Company sold to Thomas L. Hamilton 28 lots, 30x120 feet, in the Driving park plan, McKeesport, for $8,250.

St. Clair street: Samuel M. Houston sold to Mary Anderson an improved lot, 31x117 feet, on the west side of St. Clair street, near Hampton avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $8,000.

Kentucky avenue: The Beechwood Improvement Company, limited, sold to Minnie Feldstein a three-story brick house, lot 24x100 feet, on the north side of Kentucky avenue, Twentieth ward, for $7,000.

New Buildings Projected.

Building permits were issued yesterday to P. J. Donahue for a two-story frame dwelling in Boggs avenue, Thirty-second ward, to cost $4,000; Charles J. Pedder, two two-story brick dwellings in Euclid avenue, Nineteenth ward, to cost $10,000; R. M. Taleg, two-story frame dwelling, near Hamlet street, Twenty-third ward, to cost $1,500; Michael Mulvehill, a two-story frame dwelling in Halcane street, Twenty-third ward, to cost $1,800; Robert Wilson, a two-story frame dwelling in Connor street, Twenty-third ward, to cost $1,200; W. F. Bingler, a two-story brick veneered dwelling in Traction street, Twenty-third ward, to cost $5,000, and William Appel, a two-story frame dwelling and warehouse in Second avenue, Twenty-third ward, to cost $2,500.

Building permits were issued yesterday in Allegheny as follows: To Charles D. Connor, for the erection of a three-story brick apartment house at 1310 Arch street, to cost $15,000, and for another of three stories in the rear, to cost $14,000; to George Rahn, for the erection of four two-story and attic frames in Homer street, Seventh ward, to cost $2,250 each; to John Jerosh, for the erection of a two-story frame at 45 Brabeck street, Thirteenth ward, to cost $2,000.

INCREASING ITS CAPITAL.

Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company's Paid in Surplus to Reach $1,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Life & Trust Company, one of the two new life insurance companies of this city, will have the largest paid-in capital and surplus of all life insurance companies when the additional stock authorized by the stockholders yesterday is all issued.

The vote was unanimous to increase the company's capital from $250,000 to $1,000,000. It was decided to issue 5,000 shares of this new stock at once. The price will be $130 per share, the par being $50. For each share $80 is to be placed in the surplus. The remaining 10,000 shares will be held in the treasury to be issued as the board may deem advisable.

When all is issued the capital will be $1,000,000 and the paid in surplus $1,000,000. This is the highest among life insurance companies.

The company is just completing its first half year. The record for the business done during the first five months is claimed to be the best ever made by any new company in its first whole year.

KEENE AT THE HELM.

Reported That Morgan Has Placed Steel Operations in His Hands.

BOSTON, July 14.—(Special.)—The Boston News Bureau says: "Whatever may be the causes contributing to the continued stock market depression, it can be stated that James R. Keene is again prominent in the market and is working in harmony with J. P. Morgan. Mr. Morgan has again placed the manipulation of United States Steel shares in Mr. Keene's hands and it is declared that steel shares may become the leaders in an upward movement later on.

"The recent delivery of United States Steel certificates in the street bearing the name of Bertram Cutler, a secretary to J. D. Rockefeller, led to the report that Mr. Rockefeller was disposing of his steel holdings. Such, however, is not the fact. Mr. Rockefeller loaned a large sum of money to a prominent holder of United States Steel stock, and when the loan came due July 1 the maker was unable to meet his obligations and as the collateral had been transferred into the name of Mr. Cutler the stock was sold."

HOME-GROWN PEAS QUOTED MUCH LOWER

Fresh Tomatoes Are Abundant. Oat Quotations Decline. Flour Market Easier.

The power of the buyer to take matters into his own hands and regulate prices when they get too high is shown this week in the decline in the figures asked for home-grown peas. They are much lower than they have been at any former time this season, and the reason is not found in larger supplies, for they are not plentiful, but have gone lower simply because consumers became tired of the high quotations and refused to buy. Growers then discovered that wisdom lay in the direction of reduced prices, and brought them down. String beans continue plentiful, and quotations remain as they have been all week. New potatoes are steady, but no higher. Home onions are now offering by the bushel at $2 00@2 50. North Carolina cucumbers are lower, while home stock has advanced by reason of reduced supplies. Beets and parsley have declined. Home-grown tomatoes are late arrivals in the market, where they command a price of $1 50 per chip basket, or $3 00 a bushel. An abundance of tomatoes continues to come from southern states, Tennessee shipping large quantities. Prices remain unchanged, figures of the early part of the week still prevailing.

Cantaloupes from Georgia and Texas are coming forward freely, and quotations are a little lower, while watermelons hold their own at the advance of Monday. Blackberries and huckleberries are not so plentiful as they were a few days ago, and prices are a trifle higher. California peaches and apricots have gone down to $1 25 per box, other tropical fruits remaining unchanged.

Quiet selling and plentiful receipts have brought oat quotations down another half cent, and the market is just about steady at the decline. Corn is unchanged, and hay remains at the same range of prices as last quoted. Demand for all descriptions of hay and grain is slow, as is usual in June and July, dealers looking for a more animated market toward the close of the month. Crop reports point toward abundance in all lines when harvesting is over, as the weather for some weeks has been favorable to growing crops.

Flour continues to be quoted at $4 75@4 80 for fancy spring patent, although for desirable orders there is an inclination to shade those figures 5c a barrel, dealers claiming that this concession is, however, allowed only in rare instances. In other lines grocery staples show no change from quotations of Monday. Business is active, all jobbing houses doing an excellent summer business.

There is no change in butter, eggs or cheese, the situation in all these lines remaining just about steady, with quotations easy.

HORSE MARKET.

Demand for horses is quiet and the market is without features of interest. Dealers are not expecting much trade between now and the 1st of September, when more activity will prevail for a few weeks.

The auction sale yesterday resulted in the selling of 100 head of horses of all grades, at prices which showed a decline of about $10 a head as compared with last Tuesday. It is not probable there will be any improvement in prices during the remainder of the summer.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT.

Weather Bureau Summarizes Conditions in All Sections.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions says: The temperature during the week ending July 13 was very favorable east of the Rockies and on the Pacific coast, but in the northern Rocky mountains and middle plateau regions it was too cool, with frosts in exposed places on the 7th and 8th. Portions of the lower Ohio and central Mississippi valleys, Southern Florida, Western Texas, Northern Minnesota and the southern Rocky mountain districts are in need of rain, but elsewhere there is ample moisture, Northern Iowa, Southern Minnesota and portions of the South Atlantic and East Gulf states having suffered from excessive rains.

Corn has everywhere made splendid growth and is much improved, though generally backward, and in portions of the upper Ohio valley and middle Atlantic states is weedy. The early planted is now in tassel in the more northerly districts, and a considerable part of the crop has received final cultivation.

The week has been very favorable for harvesting winter wheat, which work is largely completed, except in the more northerly sections. Threshing has made good progress, and the reports indicate light yields. A feature is the entire absence of injury to grain in stack and shock.

In Nrothern Minnesota and North Dakota spring wheat is thin and heading short, and lodging is reported from portions of Southern Minnesota and South Dakota, while rust is reported from the last-named state and Iowa. In Kansas, Wisconsin and the southern part of South Dakota, spring wheat is heading well and very favorable reports are received from Washington and Oregon.

Considerable rust in oats is reported from Iowa, Missouri and Illinois, and lodging from South Dakota and Southern Minnesota. In North Dakota and Northern Minnesota the crop is thin and heading short, but continues promising in Nebraska, Wisconsin, Michigan and Pennsylvania. Harvest is in general progress in the central valleys, good yields being reported from Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma, but light yields from the states of the Ohio valley.

Only a fair crop of apples is indicated in most of the principal apple states, the most favorable reports being received from Kansas and Iowa.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices and ruled quiet in keeping with featureless foreign news, but turned quiet later in the session under offerings by importers and closed dull, net unchanged to 10 points lower. Sales were 12,500 bags, including September at 3.85c; November, 4.00@4.05c; December, 4.30c; January, 4.35c; March, 4.50c; May, 4.60c; spot Rio quiet; No. 7 invoice, 5 3-16c; mild easy; Cordova, 7@11c. Sugar, raw firm; fair refining, 3¼c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3⅝c; molasses sugar, 2⅞c; refined firm.

WHEAT AND CORN HIGHER, BUT OATS CLOSED LOWER

Temporary Decline in Chicago Wheat Pit Supplanted by Increased Prices.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 14.—Good buying by a large commission house on the bear side caused the late strength in wheat. The buying was the result of a general impression that the decline of the past few days had about reached its limit and a free covering by short holders. There was a feeling of weakness soon after the opening. With the improved demand, however, and light offerings a better market resulted. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 182,877 bushels. Bradstreet's world's visible supply showed a decrease of 4,000,000 bushels. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 130 cars, which, with local receipts of 72 cars, 25 of contract grade, made a total for the three points of 202 cars, against 191 cars last week, and 712 cars a year ago.

There was influential selling of corn by commission houses early on bearish crop advices, favorable weather and cables, and the market declined from the opening. A sufficient demand developed later to bring about a reaction, country offerings being smaller and sentiment divided as to the future trend of the market. Local receipts were 300 cars, with 28 of contract grade.

There was a fair trade in oats and the market ruled steady with but little change in prices. Some of the big local traders are still bullish on the crop situation, but bought on the declines and saved any break in the market. Local receipts were 298 cars.

A good demand from commission houses and brokers and some indication of support from leading packers held provisions firm. Offerings were fairly liberal but not sufficient to more than supply the demand.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 55 cars; corn, 180 cars; oats, 140 cars; hogs, 25,000 head.

The leading futures reported by John D. Armstrong & Co. members of the Chicago board of trade, Farmers Bank building, are as follows:

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Pittsburgh-San Jose Reduction & Railroad Company, of which John D. Potter, Oil City, Pa., is president, is to build several hundred miles of road in Western Mexico. The plans call for an expenditure of nearly $15,000,000.

The Mexico Mine & Smelter Supply Company of Mexico City, has placed a fair sized order with a Pennsylvania firm for engines and boilers for shipment to the southern republic.

Extensive coal fields have been discovered in the vicinity of Monterey. A. Gutierrez Pena, of that Mexican city, who is primarily interested, is organizing a syndicate of Americans for the purpose of developing the property.

The Sumpter smelter, which ranks among the best small plants of its size in the northwest, is practically completed. Some copper ore is being received. The date of blowing it in is uncertain.

The Snowshoe mine, near Libby, Mont., owned by the Rustler Mining Company of Spokane, of which W. D. Wrighter is manager, is working 80 men, and is feeding about 220 tons of ore a day into its mill. Shipments are about 15 tons a day. Some of the mill feed is running as high as 9 per cent in lead, and the shipments are going $15 in gold.

The shareholders of the Tonopah and Salt Lake voted to increase the capital number of shares from 300,000 to 500,000, the increase to go into the treasury, the same to be sold—to the present shareholders, preferably—and the proceeds to be applied to the further development of the company's possessions in the great camp.

The management of the Tonopah-Gold Mountain Company has made a shipment of six tons of ore to the Kinkhead mill.

The Bisbee Miner says: "Calumet & Pittsburgh—It now transpires that not only has ore been encountered here in the southeast drift of the 900-foot level, but also in the north drift and at about the same distance from the shaft. The quality of ore is about 45 per cent copper and its appearance on the dump is a gratifying sign, showing up very dark against the almost pure white limestone. Water has come in quite strong and the 500-gallon capacity pumps are unable to handle it properly and will be supplemented in a few days by another pump, bringing up the total capacity to 1,000 gallons. At the Lake Superior shaft No. 2, sinking continues steadily and a few days will see the cutting of the 1,100 foot drift. Here, too, there is plenty of water, and ore stains on the pump are quite plentiful. An accident to the gallows frame this week delayed work. The timbers holding the sheave wheel in place gave way and the large wheel crashed through the front of the power house, but prompt repairs enabled the speedy resumption of work."

STEAMERS COMING IN.

Many Empties Here—Loaded Boats and Barges Ready for Rise.

The rise in the rivers reached seven feet at the Davis Island dam yesterday afternoon. This is nearly a barge stage, and coal will be shipped if the water reaches 8½ feet at the dam. No attempt will be made to ship coal on anything but a safe stage. There is plenty of coal south. Many tows of empties have been able to reach the harbor, and more are coming. The Cruiser, Ranger and Tom Dodsworth arrived last night with empties and the Crescent yesterday. The Boaz and Josh Cook will get in this morning.

The empties which were laid up at Louisville have been started north and most of them have nearly reached the local harbor. The G. W. Thomas left Louisville yesterday with empties after delivering her tow of coal boats. This rise will enable the steamers which are tied up along the rivers with tows to proceed south.

There are about 400 boats and barges loaded with coal in the harbor. No preparations have been made in anticipation of a coal stage for the sending of these pieces south. There are several steamers in port and more coming, so that a good share of these loaded boats will be sent down the river if the water should reach a comfortable boating stage.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 7.6 feet and the river was rising.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

The James Moren went to Ravenswood yesterday after a tow of empties.

Rush Burnsides succeeds Capt. J. W. McIntyre as pilot of the excursion steamer Mayflower.

Capt. J. Mack Gamble returned from Marietta last night. He has been negotiating the sale of his boat to parties at that place.

A coffer dam is being built on the Ohio side of Vienna island, about five miles above Parkersburg. A new dam is to be erected there.

The J. B. Finley passed Memphis yesterday going south with her tow. The other steamers were due to pass there yesterday also. They have 25 coal boats and 12 barges each.

The Marine Engineers' Benefit association will meet Saturday, July 25, and nominate officers for the ensuing year. The election will be held on the following Saturday, August 1.

The Stella Moren and Cadet arrived in the harbor yesterday after a few days' stay on the trap. They are not damaged, but their position was dangerous while the water was falling.

Capt. Harvey Robb and crew arrived home yesterday from Cincinnati. They left the Harvester with her tow tied up near Cincinnati. This rise will probably enable her to proceed south.

The members of Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, will meet in their rooms in the Iron Exchange building at 6 o'clock this evening and attend the funeral of Capt. J. W. McIntyre at Coraopolis.

The old steamer Adam Jacobs has been towed to Elizabeth, where she is being dismantled. It is the intentions of the Morgantown Packet Company to make a wharfboat of her and place her at Brownsville or Morgantown.

The Queen City arrived at the wharf last evening with a big trip. Many of her passengers were making round trips. The Kanawha left at 4 o'clock in the afternoon for Kanawha river points with a big trip. The regular trips were made yesterday by the Edgar Cherry to Brownsville and the Columbia to Morgantown.

Derricks are being erected on the West Virginia point at Big Hocking in preparation for building an ice harbor at that place. Rivermen are thankful for the harbor, but they are opposed to its location. It is at a bend in the river and, it is alleged, the abutments will take up room needed when big tows are turning the point at that place.

No Deal for American Can.

NEW YORK, July 14.—(Special.)—George W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Co., states that the United States Steel Corporation is not contemplating the acquisition of the American Can Company. The report that the steel corporation would take over the can company at a valuation of $50,000,000, he denies.

Pennsylvania Lines West Hampered by Per Diem Rule

Dissatisfaction is found by the Pennsylvania lines west with the per diem system of charging for the use of foreign cars. A comprehensive table, covering the operations for the past six months, has been prepared and shows that the lines west are the losers by the per diem system. At the instance of the highest officials instructions have been issued to all divisions between Pittsburgh and Chicago and St. Louis for the immediate calling of meetings of the yardmasters, station agents, etc., so that something may be done to check the expenditure. The first of these was held here yesterday and was attended by men who directly control the movement of cars.

The trouble seems to lie with the railroad and is not due to a flaw in the per diem system. The system was recommended by the American Railway association and generally speaking unanimously adopted. There were scattering lines in the New England territory that opposed it, but the large systems, such as the Pennsylvania, wanted a change. The plan was inaugurated a little over six months ago and will be "tried" for an additional six months, and perhaps after that it will be continued.

Officials of the Pennsylvania lines west say that the fault is not due to any specific practice, but almost entirely to the congestion of freight. It is said that no other road in the country has to contend with the same problems that the Pennsylvania lines do. During the winter the blockade was worse than ever, and try as they might it was impossible to keep foreign cars going in the right direction. Agents are instructed always to send foreign cars to the nearest connection with the foreign line or in the direction of that line. When empties are scarce and the accumulation of freight great, the agent is prevailed upon by the shipper to load the first empty that is handy. During congestion foreign cars are frequently placed on blind sidings and the string is moved regardless of the order in which placed. This results in foreign cars remaining in one place often over 30 days, after which period the charge of 20 cents per day is advanced to $1.

Inspecting Chartiers Road.

General Superintendent Ralph Peters of the Southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west and Superintendent R. E. McCarty of the Pittsburgh division of the Panhandle, yesterday inspected the new work on the Chartiers branch of the Panhandle. It is said that the completion of the improvements will be delayed several months on account of the inability of the bridge companies to deliver material.

Back to Old Home.

Ira A. McCormack, assistant manager of the Grand Central station and Harlem line, of the New York Central, quietly slipped into Pittsburgh yesterday on a visit to his home folks. He was formerly a trainmaster on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad at this point, and left here to go with the Lake Shore in the west. He shortly returned east and became general superintendent of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company and was later identified with the Moore-Everett syndicate in Cleveland. A year ago he was made assistant manager of the Harlem line. While he is not directly in charge of the work of converting the Park avenue tunnel from a steam to an electric road, he is constantly in touch with the engineer and offers valuable suggestions.

Railroad Notes.

C. L. Sprague, traveling passenger agent of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Company, was here yesterday.

General Superintendent W. C. Loree of the Baltimore & Ohio, accompanied by his chief clerk, W. T. Lechlider, went to Fairport yesterday.

Superintendent R. E. McCarty of the Pittsburgh division of the Panhandle, accompanied by his family, will leave here today for Cambridge Springs. He will be gone one week.

E. A. Hamilton has been appointed agent of the Baltimore & Ohio at Coulter, Pa., to succeed J. C. Consett, assigned to other duties. E. B. Edmunds has been made agent at Allison Park, vice E. G. Ellison.

Upon the invitation of President J. W. Patterson of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western, a number of contractors yesterday inspected the route of the Wabash from Pattersons Mills to Waynesburg in anticipation of submitting bids for the work.

Paul Gruber, commercial agent of the M. K. & T., has been advised that the Wybark extension of his line, now in course of construction from Wybark, I. T., to an intersection of the line building from Bartlesville, O. T., southwest to Oklahoma City, has been completed and is now in operation as far west as Tulsa, I. T.

MERCY SEASONS JUSTICE OVERMUCH

German Courts Too Lenient With Officer Who Murdered Chum.

KAISER PROMPTS A PROTEST

Admiral Von Koester Enters Formal Objection to Reduction of Ensign Huessener's Sentence from Four to Two and One-Half Years.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, July 13.—Admiral Von Koester, one of the most prominent admirals of the imperial navy and a close friend of the kaiser, has entered a very strong formal protest against reducing the sentence of Ensign Huessener. Huessener was, by a simple court-martial, sentenced to four years' imprisonment and degradation for having killed his friend, Private Hartmann, who did not salute him in the regular way when the two young men, who were chums at school, met during their Easter furloughs in the streets of Essen.

The murder, which was perpetrated in the most brutal way, caused great indignation all over Germany and the kaiser is known to have said that the punishment could not possibly be too hard for Huessener, who had dishonored the navy.

When the sentence of the court-martial was given out it was thought quite lenient, but it nevertheless appealed to the higher military court by the convicted ensign, though everybody, remembering the kaiser's outspoken opinion, felt sure that the sentence would be made severe. To the astonishment of the whole country, the court of appeals shortened the term of imprisonment to two years and seven months.

It is against this leniency that Admiral Von Koester, who is chief of the naval station of the Baltic, protests. It is generally thought that he acts upon instructions received direct from the kaiser, who is known to have been greatly surprised at the attitude of the court in a case which so evidently called for the greatest severity.

What speaks for the probability of the admiral's action being due to the kaiser is the fact that the protest was made after he had received an official dispatch from Norway, and on the very last day on which it could possibly be made, while it would certainly have been made earlier if the admiral had acted on his own impulse.

PRINCE A BANKRUPT.

Noble Supposed to Be Immensely Wealthy Unable to Pay His Debts.

BERLIN, July 14.—(Special Cable.)—There is considerable mystery connected with the surprising announcement of the failure of Friedrich, prince of the Kyrburg branch of the well-known princely family of Salm-Salm. It was universally thought that the prince was immensely wealthy, and the announcement by the royal court at Linz comes entirely unexpected and no one understands how the prince lost his fortune. He is not known to have gambled or dissipated in any way, but still it is now positively known here that he has debts amounting to considerably over 1,000,000 marks and that nothing will be left to him of his splendid estates.

Prince Friedrich is the last descendant of his branch, which will probably die out with him. He is a nephew of the famous Princess Salm-Salm, the heroine of many wars, and who was Miss Agnes Leclerc Joy of Vermont before her marriage at the age of 15 to Prince Felix Constantine Alexander John Nepomucene Salm Salm.

Prince Friedrich is a close friend of many of the royal houses of Germany and owns large estates in Rheinish Prussia. The family seat is the famous castle Renneberg, near Newwied, and is the only part of the estate which the prince will retain, as it cannot be seized for debt.

INDIGNANT DENIAL.

President of American Smelting Company Says No Duties Have Been Evaded.

NEW YORK, July 14.—(Special.)—President E. W. Nash of the American Smelting and Refining Company denounced the story that the company had been guilty of gross irregularities in the handling of Mexican ores, which has caused a heavy loss in duties to the government, as "too absurd to require a denial." He said:

"We owe the government nothing in the way of duties. Moreover, all the ores of dutiable nature that the company brings in from Mexico are silver-lead ore. There is no duty on silver contained in the ore, but there is a duty on lead. This ore is all brought into the United States under bond. It is smelted under bond. It is then sent to the refinery under bond. The non-dutiable silver is released and the bonded lead is all exported forthwith; so that there is no duty to be paid."

James Lewis & Son of Liverpool in their copper circular ascribe the weakness of the foreign copper market to the uneasy feeling with regard to the financial condition of the United States. They say, however, smelters, manufacturers and consumers hold very small stocks and a sustained advance in prices would doubtless induce an active demand for copper both in London and on the continent."

HUSBAND A THIEF.

Wife of an Expert Till-Tapper Learns of His Misdeeds After Four Happy Years.

NEW YORK, July 14.—(Special.)—Mrs. Charles Brown, a beautiful blonde, learned today that instead of being a successful merchant, as she had supposed, her husband was "the best till-tapper in the world," and has served, according to the police, a half-dozen terms in prison. She married Brown four years ago.

Brown was today sentenced to a year in the penitentiary for tapping a till in a Columbus avenue shop last week. Mrs. Brown appeared in the court weeping and told the justice that, so far as she knew, her husband was an honest man.

When Probation Officer Graveur showed Mrs. Brown her husband's photograph taken from the rogue's gallery and his prison record she swooned and did not revive until ministered to by a physician.

Mrs. Brown lives in handsome apartments and is surrounded by all the comforts a well-to-do merchant would give a beautiful wife whom he loved.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Odd Stories of Gotham

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 14.—The stork visited Mme. Murphy, the prepossessing and graceful hippopotamus in Central park today. Mother and child are doing well. Mme. Murphy is not inordinately proud, but her pensive smile is more reminiscent of the entrance to the Hoosac tunnel than ever. And well might she pat herself on the back if she could, for this is her eighth offspring in 15 years. The new hippo baby weighed 25 pounds at birth, which is not such great weight for a hippopotamus, but a hippo grows a lot. This one is able to locate the family restaurant with unfailing accuracy and when a few hours old skipped about unlike a gazelle. As soon as the baby begins to take notice it will be taken out of the winter quarters with its mother and placed in the open tank. Then will follow a pilgrimage of children in fact and children of an older growth to Central park, for in all truth the antics of a baby hippopotamus are of a nature to inspire mirth.

The Real Thing in Octopi.

There are 200 fresh fish in the Battery park aquarium—fresh from Bermuda. They arrived today on the steamship Trinidad. Among the fish are three octopi. The octopi are not handsome. They deserve all that William J. Bryan ever said about them. Other fish in the collection are surgeon majors, grunts and hinds. There are also trigger fish, but no revolver or gold fish. There are plenty of trunk fish that pack themselves, likewise angle fish. A four-foot green moray jumped out of its tank into the ocean just off Sandy Hook.

Little, But Work Is Effective.

Mont Clair, N. J., reports a new kind of mosquito. It is small and 10 times more vicious than the ordinary pest. Instead of a pair of wings this species of culex has three pairs of wings, or is triple-winged on each side. It does not sing at its work like its better-known relative, but it gets there just the same.

Dog Catcher in Trouble.

New Rochelle, in addition to its colony of the allied trades, consisting of artists, actors, humorists, millionaires, playwrights, yachtsmen and plain commuters, now boasts of a dog catcher. For indulging in his favorite pastime today he was fined $3 for discharging a shotgun and held to await trial on a charge of cruelty to animals.

Mr. Peel is the pound keeper, marshal and general head of the dog catching industry of the city. For an assistant he has James Taylor, a negro. Taylor is the man behind the gun and may possibly become the man behind the bars. Today the negro was caught redhanded taking a pot-shot at a fox terrier. The shot carried away a leg of the dog and in a few minutes the negro was surrounded by a crowd who shouted "Lynch him." A policeman arrested Taylor.

Famous Midget Is No More.

Queen May Bell, who was said to be the smallest woman in the world, is dead at No. 95 West Eleventh street, Bayonne, N. J. On June 27 last she fell ill and then predicted that she would die. Her proper name was Mary J. Piercey. She was 40 years old, having been born May 24, 1863, in Canada, and as that was Queen Victoria's birthday she assumed the name "Queen May" and the "Bell" was later attached by the managers exhibiting her. She was exhibited all over the world, earning large sums of money and only recently retired. She was 31 inches in height and weighed 50 pounds. When exhibited with Chang, the Chinese giant, he would hold her in his palm. She received proposals of marriage from many midgets, but declined all of them.

Gay Lothario of 67.

A gay Lothario of 67 was in the Harlem police court today. Samuel Adams was picked up in Central park accused of flirting. He admitted that he had amused himself by toying with the affections of Miss Anna Stein, who pleads guilty to 42 summers. "He promised to take me to a brownstone house when we were married, and said he had $25,000 in bank," said Miss Stein.

"I only did it for fun," explained Adams. "My wife is ill and I while away my time with these foolish women. It is very diverting."

The detectives say his wife's illness must be chronic as they have had their eyes on him for four years. Adams was released on his promise to be good.

New York Board of Education Declines to Accept Lincoln-Garfield-McKinley Tablet.

NEW YORK, July 14.—(Special.)—The bronze bas-relief tablet representing Presidents Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, presented to the board of education by E. S. John Matthews and his associates, has been refused on the grounds that it is a memorial of assassinations. Jocab W. May of the board said today:

"It is monster apotheosis of assassination, and it is a tablet that accentuates the violent deaths these three presidents met. There is no reason whatever for grouping these three presidents together. The idea of presenting Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley together is in disregard of all educational principles, as there is no bond whatever which connects these three men from any historical standpoint. The sole bond which has inspired the representation of these three together is that of assassination, and it brings up before the student's mind not the great lives of these men but the violent manner of their death."

STRIKERS CAUSE TROUBLE.

Police Arrested Nine of the Chicago Freight Handlers—The Court Asked to Aid.

CHICAGO, July 14.—(Special.)—Nine arrests were made today in connection with the freight handlers' strike and the troubles growing out of the strike at the Keliog Switchboard and Supply Company. The arrests were made by the police who were sent to guard the wagons sent to the depot of the Panhandle railroad.

The Chicago Terminal Company today asked for federal court intervention, a bill of complaint being filed naming as defendants Lawrence J. Curran, Hugh McGee and Albert Young, presidents respectively of the Freight Handlers, Truck Drivers and the National Teamsters' unions. The defendants are charged with having conspired to obstruct the complainant's business by interfering with the delivery of goods to its depot.

COMPANY MUST SUSPEND.

Application for Increased Capital May Result in Receiver for Banking Concern.

TRENTON, N. J., July 14.—Chancellor Magie today, on application of Attorney General McCarter, made an order for the Interstate Trust Company of Jersey City to show cause two weeks hence why a receiver should not be appointed. The company is restrained from doing business. The assets are $150,000 and liabilities, including the capital stock, $100,000. The company's operations have been largely in New York.

Today's order restrains a proposed capitalization at $5,000,000 and the issuing of $20,000,000 collateral bonds. The company is interested in the Fidelity Title and Trust Company of Stamford, Conn., the Central Trust Company of South McAllister, Indian Territory, and the Cherokee National bank.

WARNING TO DEALERS.

Tobacco in All Forms Must Not Be Separated from Package Bearing the Stamp.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—A circular of instructions has been issued by the commisioner of internal revenue calling attention to the violations of law in the handling and sale of manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes. A practice prevails of exposing these taxable articles for sale separated from the packages bearing the stamps denoting the payment of the internal revnue tax. This, it is said, is a serious violation of the law, which it is the purpose of the commissioner to remedy.

Jobbers and dealers are given until November 1, 1903, to get their stock on hand in order, after which date all manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes found on the market exposed for sale not protected by the tax-paid stamps will be seized the the holders proceeded against in accordance with law.

PROTEST AGAINST TARIFF CHANGE

English Cotton Mill Owners Cry Out in Opposition to Chamberlain's Proposal.

WOULD INJURE THE INDUSTRY

President of the Master Spinners Association Opposes Legislation Which Tends to Enhance the Cost of Production of the Products.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, July 14.—The cotton mill owners of England are raising a great cry over Secretary Chamberlain's proposed change in the tariff on cotton. C. W. Macare, president of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners' association, who employs thousands of spinners, is out with a statement today in which he says:

"During the past 10 years as the president of the Spinners' federation, I have had to give most careful consideration to all the problems in connection with the culture of the cotton industry throughout the world. There are no statistics available regarding our home consumption of cotton goods, but from careful investigation I am of the opinion that it does not reach 20 per cent of our total production. It is obvious, therefore, that we are largely dependent upon our foreign trade.

"Notwithstanding the great competition we have to face, I am still sanguine that the superior skill of our operatives, together with the various forward movements for cheapening the cost of production and increasing the supply of the raw material—movements in which the representatives of operatives have joined hands with employers—will enable us to continue to secure a fair share of the trade of the world. I have always, however, consistently opposed all legislation which has tended to enhance the cost of production. I am convinced that, speaking generally, the margin of profit in the British cotton industry cannot be reduced without discouraging further investment in it.

"In my opinion any legislation that would enhance the cost of production either by taxation of food or raw material, would lead to the speedy destruction of an industry which, if statistics were available, would, I believe, be found to have provided employment, directly and indirectly, for more people in the United Kingdom than any other, excepting agriculture."

M'CUE IS INSANE.

Army Officer Accused of Bigamy Adjudged to Be of Unsound Mind.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(Special.)—Lieut. William McCue, First infantry, who was recently arrested charged with having contracted a bigamous marriage in San Francisco upon his return from the Philippines, has been adjudged of unsound mind by a board of surgeons at Fort Sheridan, Chicago, and is to be sent to the government insane asylum in Washington.

The papers in the case reached Adjutant General Corbin today, and accompanying them is a letter from Algernon Sartoris, grandson of President Grant, who declares that he served with Lieut. McCue in the Philippines and that it is his belief that McCue is mentally deranged as a result of his service in the islands. The rambling letters written by McCue at the time of his arrival in San Francisco and since, show that his mind is unbalanced.

WANT PAYMENT ENFORCED.

Trouble Over Miami Canal Construction Is Taken Into Court.

CLEVELAND, O., July 14.—The Cleveland Construction Company has filed suit in the common pleas court against the Miami & Erie Canal Transportation Company to enforce payment of certain balances said to be due on construction account. To the suit is attached a petition urging that the court enforce the stockholders to double liability to insure the payment of the obligation.

The suit is regarded as the outcome of the Miami & Erie canal receivership and represents retaliation against the heavy Cincinnati stockholders who are alleged to have precipitated the receivership in order to force the reorganization of the company.

SUNSTROKE INSURANCE

When the summer's heat gets about 90 degrees, you are liable to be sunstruck any time you are out in the sun, unless you take the proper precautions. Several years ago, the writer of this, who has spent much of his life in the tropics, thought he was safe from sunstroke. One day he collapsed, remained unconscious for five hours, and at times his life was dispaired of. As a matter of fact, any person whose stomach and bowels are in bad shape in the summer time, is liable to be sunstruck in temperature that would be harmless under normal conditions. That's all there is to it. Stomach and bowels full of festering, fermenting refuse that forms acids and gases, raise the heat of the body and blood many degrees. Scientists have found that natives of the South Sea Islands, living on laxative fruit, bananas, cocoanuts, bread-fruit, have a temperature 20 degrees lower than that of white men who are careless about their food or their bowels. It has been found in years of experience, that a CASCARET Candy Cathartic taken at bed-time every night will keep the body clean and cool inside all day, and forms a safe and thoroughly reliable form of sunstroke insurance.

Cascarets Best for the Bowels. All druggists, 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C. C. C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. Sample and booklet free. Address Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York. 549
